EVANSTON BOMB KILLS 2 BOYS

ICE SLOWS SHIP; KING TO ARRIVE TWO DAYS LATE

Liner Finally Moves Out of Fog Zone.

ABOARD EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, May 14.—[Canadian Press]—Out of the North Atlantic's fog and ice zone at last, the liner Empress of Australia hurried the king and queen of England toward Quebec tonight, two days late for the start of their tour of North America.

Held up by fog for three and a half days, forcing rearrangement of their cross-country schedule in Canada, King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth were very sympathetic toward officials and citizens inconvenienced by the delay.

"The people I am sorry for are all those who have been making plans to see us in Canada and perhaps have traveled miles to do so," said Queen Elizabeth.

Fog Finally Lifts.

Originally scheduled to reach Quebec Monday morning, the Empress of Australia lost hour after hour in a "pea soup" fog 300 miles east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, and then had to contend with ice floes, about 200 miles east of Cape Race.

Finally, after the fog lifted and the liner had bucked her way through an ice field half a mile across and stretching north and south as far as the eye could see, she started full speed ahead in midafternoon. At 9:30 p. m. the liner was 915 miles from Quebec proceeding at full speed [18 knots] and was expected to arrive at Quebec Tuesday midnight. Welcoming ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday.

The liner, hardly moving as she approached the last expanse of ice at 2 p. m., steamed at two knots as she came to grips with the floes. Huge cakes of ice, some twenty yards square, were nosed out of the way easily. The cruisers, Southampton and Glasgow, accompanying the liner, found the going comfortable in the wake. Once the ice was astern, a fresh northwest breeze arose.

King Takes Movies.

The ice was so thick in stretches that those aboard could have got out and walked on it.

The queen went to the bridge and stood with Capt. A. R. Meikle while the liner operated as an icebreaker. The king went to the very bow, the forecastle head, and, standing beside a lookout man, took moving pictures of the ship's prow as it broke through the ice. Then he went to the stern and climbed the companionway to the top deckhouse where he took pictures of the cruisers following.

From daybreak Capt. Meikle shifted his course southward in an attempt to shake free of fog and ice. But when the water became free of ice, fog would settle down, and when the fog lifted more ice would be encountered. Up to noon the ship had run but 20 miles.

Work on Schedule Changes.

QUEBEC, May 14.—(AP)—The delayed arrival of King George and Queen Elizabeth due to cautious movement of the Empress of Australia through heavy fog and drifting ice will not upset the schedule of the royal visit to the United States, from June 8 to 11, it was learned tonight.

Changes will be especially necessary at the capital, Ottawa, but it was expected the western tour and the visit to Washington, D. C., and New York would be made according to the original schedule.

Later, the royal train may return to Canada for a more extended tour than was first planned, and the departure of the sovereigns for England from Halifax, N. S., on June 15, may be postponed a few days.

Quebec Program Is Same.

This revised program, it was explained, would carry out the spirit of the tour and not curtail the opportunity of king and queen of seeing as much of Canada and meeting as many Canadians as originally planned.

Quebec, for the second time, rearranged her program of ceremonial welcome which will be carried out on Wednesday. History, tradition, and politics prevented curtailing the royal visit at this ancient gate to Canada. French-Canadians, who constitute more than 90 per cent of the population of Quebec City, have worked for months on the elaborate public functions.

STATE DEPARTMENT RULES GOVERNING THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN INVITED TO MEET THE KING AND QUEEN.

Robert Taylor and Stanwyck of Films Elope

San Diego, Cal., May 14.—(AP)—Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor were married here shortly after midnight today at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whelan.

The noted film couple, who had been seen together often for months and even had been reported wed, left Hollywood late last night and drove here, waiting until after midnight for the ceremony, so they would not be married on the 13th.

Municipal Judge Phil Smith performed the ceremony, with Mrs. Zeppo Marx, matron of honor, and Buck Mack, actor and godfather of Miss Stanwyck, best man.

Actor's Former Wife.

The bride wore a blue silk dress and Taylor a brown business suit. The wedding ring was plain gold, inset with rubies. She was the former wife of Frank Fay, actor whom she divorced in 1935. Since that time her name has been linked with Taylor almost constantly. They had an adopted son, Dion Fay.

Robert and Barbara obtained the marriage license under their true names of Ruby Stephens Fay and Arlington Spangler Brugh, which perhaps explains why they were able to give the three days' notice required by California law without the fact becoming generally known.

The honeymoon must be delayed because Taylor is making a picture with Hedy Lamarr. The newlyweds returned to Hollywood late today.

Brush with Feminine Fans.

One of the most popular of present day screen actors, Taylor has had many embarrassing brushes with his feminine fans. Once three flappers concealed themselves in his stateroom just before he sailed for Europe. When he reached London his presence caused a stampede among British women who surrounded his hotel.

Taylor was born near Filley, Neb., on Aug. 5, 1911, and insists to friends that he some day will return to a farm. When a boy he planned to become a doctor, following in his father's footsteps. But while attending Pomona college, a short distance from Hollywood, he became interested in dramatics and appeared in most of the college plays. A talent scout saw him in a presentation of "Journey's End" and placed him under contract.

Miss Stanwyck has figured frequently in the news. In 1931 she lost a long legal skirmish over her contract, but won a suit brought by a portrait painter in 1933. The next year she figured in suits for $3,500 back pay allegedly due her housekeeper and another suit in which the government sought to collect $2,675 on her 1930 income.

Always known as a temperamental actress, Miss Stanwyck is four years older than her new husband. She was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on July 16, 1907. She first appeared in school theatricals, and yearned to be a dancer of the Isadora Duncan type. Her first stage appearances were in New York revues.

TIPS TO A WAITRESS ARE HER OWN AFFAIR, WAGE CZAR IS TOLD

Louisville, Ky., May 14.—(AP)—What a waitress gets in tips is her personal affair and when she has to report them it's the height of embarrassment, says Secretary Paul Kapfhammer of the Louisville Restaurant association.

So Kapfhammer has asked State Industrial Relations Commissioner W. C. Burrow to cancel clauses in Kentucky's minimum wage law requiring the report on tips.

ATHENIAN SLAYS SPARTAN IN ROW OVER HOMELAND

The ancient glories and rivalries of Greece led last night to a shooting in which one man was slain and another wounded. The man killed was Gust Marolis, 48 years old, 729 Blue Island avenue.

Police said Marolis, Mike Paulakis, 29, of 704 Miller street, and a third man known only as "Tom the Checker," were discussing ancient Greece in a tavern at 612 Blue Island avenue. Marolis, who was born near Sparta, boasted of the historic Spartans, and at the same time attempted to belittle the Athenians.

Tom, an Athenian, became infuriated, police said. He went home, returned with a gun, and fired at Marolis and Paulakis as they left the tavern. A bullet pierced Marolis' throat, killing him. Another clipped the left ear of Paulakis. The killer fled.

Food Shortage Grips Moscow; People Mutter

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, May 14.—Krasnaia Zvezda [The Red Star], official newspaper of the soviet war commissariat, today published an order to all commanders of the Red army to exercise rigid economy in the use of motor fuels for an indefinite period.

Commanders of the motorized sections, aviation, and other branches of the army with motor vehicles showing great fuel savings were promised large bonuses. Special payments were promised for each ton of gasoline, kerosene, and lubricating oils saved against consumption in the same period last year.

War Games Canceled.

Large scale maneuvers were canceled throughout Russia because of the urgent necessity of greatly enlarging the spring sowing campaign and the increased fuel requirements for Russia's mechanized agriculture.

The commissariat of agriculture for the first time admitted that damage was done to winter grains by the dry winter and unfavorable spring weather. It reported that 25 per cent of the crop was destroyed. Moscow observers believe this estimate can safely be doubled.

The population of Moscow is enduring another hungry spring. Milk, butter, eggs, and meat no longer are sold to ordinary citizens, and although bread is plentiful the price has increased, causing dissatisfaction.

Ration Sauerkraut.

During the past week Moscow food distributing organizations received large supplies of sauerkraut, which is being rationed. In many places in the city attention of foreigners was attracted to lines of persons waiting with dishes and pans for their portion of kraut.

Three members of the diplomatic corps were arrested while attempting to photograph the queues. They were released after the films were removed from their cameras.

The unusual weather conditions which have damaged the crops of Russia also have prevailed in the Baltic states. Many churches today offered prayers for rain, which has not fallen since the middle of April. Crops also were seriously damaged in these countries and the outlook for a normal harvest this year is poor.

MUSSOLINI TALK MODERATE, SAY ENVOYS IN ROME

Regard Situation in Europe Unaltered.

ROME, May 14.—(AP)—Diplomatic circles in Rome regarded Premier Mussolini's Turin address today, in which he declared war was not necessary to settle Europe's problems, as generally moderate. Those who had thought Il Duce might embody a virtual ultimatum to France on Italy's territorial demands were reassured by its tone. They were of the opinion Mussolini's speech had not altered the European situation materially since it mainly was a resassertion of Italy's stand.

[France regarded the speech as a warning to take the initiative in settling the French-Italian quarrel over Italian territorial demands. British officials believed Mussolini's declaration that an economic war was being waged against Germany and Italy referred to London's new trade agreement with Rumania. Germany was pleased by Mussolini's statement that the Rome-Berlin axis will become an indivisible communion of two states through the signing of the new military pact in Berlin this month.]

Sees No Need for War.

TURIN, Italy, May 14.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today declared that he and Reichsfuehrer Hitler believed Europe's problems could be solved without war, but accused the western powers of already having begun what he called a white war against Germany and Italy. Il Duce said it was a war on economic grounds.

Mussolini warned that the Rome-Berlin axis now was joined in a military alliance, that its partners would not allow themselves to be overpowered, and would repulse any attack made upon them.

He spoke to a cheering crowd of 50,000 in the big Piazza Vittorio Veneto in Turin as he opened a week's swing around the Piedmont region. The trip will take him close to the French frontier on an inspection tour of military establishments, troop concentrations, and public works.

Heaps Scorn on France.

There was no specific mention of Fascist demands on Paris in Il Duce's address, but it was full of scorn for France and of references to French-Italian strife in the past.

The crowd's applause for the premier was equaled by its boos and jeers for his references to "the democracies," especially for France.

Several times cries of "Tunisia!" and "Savoy!" arose. Both have been mentioned in Fascist clamor since last November for fulfilment of Italian colonial aspirations at France's expense. Tunisia is in French North Africa and Savoy, once Italian, is in France just over the frontier from Piedmont.

There were derisive cries of "Palestine" as the premier declared Italians were not fooled about the methods employed by "the great democracies" to build up empires and to maintain them.

TEXT OF SPEECH

"People of Savoyan and Fascist Turin, hardworking and faithful comrades," Mussolini declared in addressing the throng.

"Do you remember the final words of the speech I had the honor to make before you seven years ago—'advance and build and if necessary fight and conquer'?

"Looking backward over these last seven years I now again have the fortune to be among you. I ask you: Have the Italian people remained faithful to this task? [Shouts of "Yes!"] Will the Italian people remain faithful? The Italian people have indeed advanced and built, they have fought and conquered; fought and conquered in Africa against an enemy which European military experts guaranteed to be absolutely unbeatable.

"'Guaranteed,' you understand. O, the eternal success of certain guarantees!

3d Hurt; Tells How Pals Died in Experiment

Two high school boys were killed yesterday when a powerful bomb they were making exploded in the basement of an Evanston home. A third boy escaped with minor injuries by going to the farthest corner of the basement just before the blast.

He had warned the others that the speed with which they were ramming powder into a metal pipe would cause a spark from friction. But the others, one of them a brilliant chemistry pupil, did not heed him.

The explosion occurred in the home of Mrs. Albert R. Ellingwood, 2747 Garrison avenue. Her husband, who died in 1934, was professor of political science at Northwestern university and assistant dean of the college of liberal arts.

Junior in High School.

One of the boys killed was her son, Donald, 16 years old. He was a junior in the Evanston Township High school, where he excelled in chemistry. The other victim was Jack Person, 15, of 2773 Garrison avenue, a neighbor. He was a freshman in the same high school and the son of Ralph H. Person, an executive of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary company.

The boy who was saved is Hubert C. Heffner Jr., 14, of 2815 Harrison street, Evanston, a sophomore in the township high school. He is the son of a professor of dramatic literature at Northwestern.

The blast, which occurred late in the afternoon, was heard for blocks. It shattered windows in the home of Fred Bauer and Charles Parsons, on either side of the Ellingwood home. Dr. W. O. Brasmer, who lives across the street, was the first of the neighbors to arrive. Close behind him came the Person boy's father.

Three Taken to Hospital.

Smoke was pouring from the basement. Back windows were shattered, and the dining room floor had been raised three feet. The neighbors saw young Heffner struggle out of the basement with Ellingwood. Dr. Brasmer and his son, Timothy, 14, soaked towels and with the towels over their faces went down and brought Person up.

All three of the boys were taken to the Evanston hospital, half a block distant. Ellingwood, half his clothes torn off by the explosion, was dead when he was received at the hospital. Person died soon afterward. His jugular vein had been severed by a piece of the pipe of which the bomb was made. Heffner was treated for wounds caused by pieces of pipe that had struck him in the back and legs. He was then taken home.

Survivor Describes Bombs.

Sergt. Eugene Ruland of the Evanston police said Ellingwood might have used his knowledge of chemistry to make the gunpowder used in the bomb. Ruland said young Heffner told this story:

Last December the three boys found some six inch lengths of one inch pipe at Sheridan road and Milburn street, Evanston, where new houses are being built. They filled the pipes with powder and made bombs with which they broke ice on the lake. Yesterday they returned to the construction site and got more pipe.

The Brasmer boy said they telephoned to him several times yesterday and asked him to join them, but his parents refused him permission to go, as they had heard that the boys were making bombs in the basement.

The Heffner boy did not know whether young Ellingwood and young Person had made the powder used in the bomb, which they told him came from potassium chlorate. He said Ellingwood professed to have a supply of the powder cached in the back lot. Ruland searched for it in vain.

Two Foot Pipe Found.

The sergeant found, however, a two foot length of the pipe which he believes is filled with powder. If it is, he said, it constitutes a bomb that might have endangered the neighborhood. It will be examined by experts on explosives.

Ellingwood's mother had forbidden her son to experiment in the basement after neighbors had complained of small explosions and police once had ordered him to cease. She was out walking when the explosion occurred.

TWO SHOT; CALL MORE TROOPS IN CIO COAL CRISIS

Showdown Due in Kentucky Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harlan, Ky., May 14.—[Special.]—With 500 National Guardsmen already in Harlan to protect coal mines which plan to reopen tomorrow, two shootings tonight prompted Brig. Gen. Ellerbe Carter to order 200 reinforcements into this county immediately.

Gen. Ellerbe Carter. [A. P. Wire Photo.]

Although neither shooting, in which one man was killed and another wounded, had any apparent connection with the mine strike, tension is so great and tempers so short, the commander of the troops decided to call two more companies as a precautionary measure.

One Slain, One Wounded.

At Yancey, a nearby mining camp, Treed Bates, a nonunion miner, was shot to death in front of his brother-in-law's home. Walter Rowe, 25 years old, the brother-in-law, also a nonunion miner, was lodged in jail pending an investigation into the shooting. The other victim of gunplay is Elbert Clark, 28 years old, who was shot twice in the legs in front of a Harlan hotel by Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Howard, who said he fired after Clark had slashed him with a knife when he tried to arrest him for drunkenness.

As the situation lines up tonight a showdown appears likely tomorrow between the mine owners in this area and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and czar of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Backed by the weight of the New Deal administration in Washington, Lewis succeeded yesterday in getting sixteen of the nation's twenty-one bituminous mine operators' associations to sign a union shop agreement with his U. M. W. of A. But the other six associations—including the Harlan county and Hazard associations—refused to sign.

Order Defies Lewis Edict.

The operators were backed last night in their decision by Gov. A. B. Chandler, who ordered Adjt. Gen. Lee W. McClain to protect all miners who wish to return to their jobs in defiance of Lewis' edict that "these mines must remain closed."

Gen. Carter began placing his Kentucky guardsmen at mine pits and other strategic points this afternoon in the midst of speeches and rallies staged by union officials in an effort to organize a picket line of 8,000 union sympathizers to turn back workers at the pits tomorrow.

Upwards of 16,000 men and 42 mines have been idle here since the previous union contract expired April 1, precipitating the deadlocked conferences in New York which ended only after New Deal intervention to save Czar Lewis and his mine union which is the cornerstone of the C. I. O.

Thousands Hear Union Chiefs.

Several thousand miners and their families turned out in their Sunday best, braving a blazing sun today to hear union chieftains exhort them to stand by Lewis and their union.

"You can't dig coal with bayonets," shouted William Turnblazer, union district president, as he saw National Guard trucks rumbling down the main street of Harlan in the midst of his speech.

"The union has a big war chest," Turnblazer boasted. "No miner or miner's family is going to starve." He added that millions of C. I. O. members, other than mine union members, are backing Lewis in his fight against the operators.

Gov. Chandler, in ordering troops here to protect workers and preserve order, warned Lewis not to send outsiders here to stir up trouble.

Allow Peaceful Picketing.

"No one can tell our people to work, or not to work, and no one can come into this state and cause trouble," Chandler said. "The adjutant general understands there is to be no toleration of violence. There is to be no restraint of men who wish to work, and nothing is to be done to force men to work. If the union wants to carry on peaceful picketing, it can do so. But there will be no rioting or bloodshed.'"

George S. Ward, secretary of the Harlan County Coal Operators' association and spokesman for the group, said thirty-seven of the county's forty-two mines are ready to start operations as soon as troops are stationed at the pits, to assure the safety of workers. Ward said a canvass of the field showed a majority of the miners want to return to work, contract or no contract.

Ward added that the operators of Harlan county are opposed to signing the U. M. W. union shop contract forced upon the other fifteen associations comprising the Appalachian bituminous industry.

Daily Output 70,000 Tons.

The Harlan field has a daily operating capacity of 70,000 tons, and an average daily output of about 35,000 to 40,000 tons.

At Hazard, center of another district which resisted the combined Lewis-New Deal steam roller in the New York negotiations, the union strategy appeared somewhat upset tonight. It was announced that a massmeeting of union miners, scheduled for today, will not be held until tomorrow. Sam Caddy of Lexington, president of district 13 of the United Mine Workers, would make no explanation for the change in plans.

Representatives of the six holdout associations will meet in their respective areas early this week to decide whether they will continue to resist Lewis' demands for a closed shop contract. Some operators have exhibited signs of a desire to sign individual contracts and go along with the C. I. O. czar in order to operate their mines. Late last night the Southern Tennessee Coal Producers' association, an operating company and a member of one of the six associations, signed a separate union shop contract with the United Mine Workers.

25,000 Back to Jobs in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—(AP)—Ray Edmundson, state president of the United Mine Workers of America, said tonight he expected between 20,000 and 25,000 members of his union to resume work in Illinois mines tomorrow.

Closed since May 5 by the statewide walkout which followed a deadlock of negotiators in New York, mines worked by U. M. W. A. miners underwent cleanup operations over the week-end preparatory to opening again under a new "union shop" contract.

Meanwhile Joe Ozanic, president of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, announced at his Mount Olive home that the international board of the union would meet in Springfield tomorrow to discuss recent events throughout the coal mining fields and to plan action in union strategy.

Protest to Labor Board.

Ozanic said his organization would protest to the National Labor Relations board the agreement between the U. M. W. A. and operators of Peabody Coal company mines, Nos. 53, 57, and 57 in the Springfield area. He declared the Progressive union had a majority of the workers in those mines and should be the bargaining agent.

Also scheduled for tomorrow were conferences between P. M. W. A. officials and negotiators for the Coal Producers' Association of Illinois concerning a new contract for mines using P. M. W. A. labor.

The 18,000 working members of the Progressive union did not join the walkout, and their mines have continued to operate under an extension of the old contract.

DOCTOR REPORTS BIRTH OF A BOY TO INDIAN GIRL OF 5

LIMA, Peru, May 14.—(AP)—Dr. Hipolito Larrabure, chief surgeon and director of the Lima maternity hospital, said a 5.96 pound boy was born today to an Indian girl 5 years old.

Dr. Larrabure said the case was witnessed by sixty doctors when Dr. Geraldo Lozada and Dr. Alejandro Busalleau performed a Cæsarean operation to deliver the child. The child was declared to be in perfect condition. The child mother also was said to be doing well.

"The birth certificate of the child mother, Lina Medina, shows she was born in September, 1934 [there is a discrepancy in the civil and church records]," Dr. Larrabure said. "Her age also is corroborated by the fact she still has her first teeth and is not more than three feet one inch tall."

Dr. Lozada discovered the case a few weeks ago when the child's mother brought her to the hospital. Examination, Dr. Larrabure said, proved the girl had been raped. She had shown signs of sexual maturity when only three months old, he added.

DOCTORS DOUBT REPORTS.

Several Chicago physicians expressed skepticism last night over reports of a baby being born to a 5 year old girl in Lima, Peru. They said the youngest known mothers are Hindu girls, who have given birth to children at 9 and 10 years of age. Dr. Irving Cutter, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, said the chances of a birth as reported from Lima seemed so remote that he was inclined to feel there was an honest mistake made as to the girl's correct age.

SIX SONS BRING MOTHER LIFE ON MOTHER'S DAY

Blood Transfusion Gives Her Chance to Live.

Frail and worn, Mrs. Laura McCarty lay in Mercy hospital, her strength sapped by a malignant growth. For three weeks she had been there. And now her condition had become critical.

Physicians feared her life was ebbing; they said only a blood transfusion could aid Mrs. McCarty, who is 73 years old. Saturday they told their fears to Mrs. McCarty's daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Ryan, of Salem, Marion county, who was with her mother.

Mrs. Ryan acted at once. She sent out a call for help to Mrs. McCarty's six sons. Their home, like their mother's, was at Robinson, Crawford county, in southern Illinois. But business had taken several to other cities in Illinois, Indiana and the south. It had been twelve years since the family had been together.

Call Brings Them All Home.

The call reached William A. McCarty, at Robinson. He had been County and Probate judge of Crawford county for twelve years. It reached his brothers, Palmer G., Prentis E., George H., and the twins, Harry E. and Herbert F. McCarty in the various cities where they were stopping.

The clan McCarty soon gathered at Robinson. In two automobiles they started the 230 mile drive to Chicago. They arrived late Saturday. Yesterday they were at their mother's bedside.

Quickly a pathologist took blood samples from each of the sons, to compare them with Mrs. McCarty's blood, known as group 3, an unusual type. Only one son had this type, the twin, Harry.

Improved by Transfusion.

Soon the strong, healthy blood of Harry coursed through his mother's weakened arteries. Physicians said she seemed improved. The doctors even suggested that in a few weeks Mrs. McCarty may be able to go home.

Through happy tears, and almost buried under a huge bouquet of roses, Mrs. McCarty smiled up at her six sons and her daughter.

"This is the happiest moment of my life," she whispered. "That was the finest Mother's day gift a mother ever received."

J. L. LEWIS ASKS 3 MILLION WPA JOBS FOR YEAR

Washington, D. C., May 14.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the C. I. O., urged congress today to guarantee jobs under WPA for an average of 3,000,000 persons during the fiscal year beginning July 1. In a letter to Chairman Taylor (D., Colo.) of the house appropriations committee Lewis said he was convinced that a promised economic recovery would not come if WPA expenditures were seriously cut.

[President Roosevelt has asked congress to appropriate 1 billion 477 million dollars for WPA in the next fiscal year. He estimated this would provide employment for 2,000,000 persons.]

Meanwhile Howard O. Hunter, deputy WPA administrator, appealed in a radio address for continuation of the present system of relief administration by the federal government as opposed to proposals for grants in aid to the states.

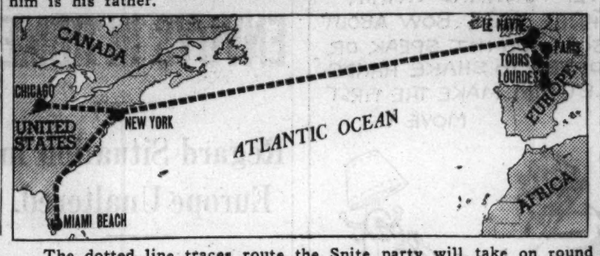
Fred Snite Jr. in his respirator aboard a special car as he started from Miami, Fla., for Shrine of Miracles at Lourdes, France. Beside him is his father.



The dotted line traces route the Snite party will take on round trip to Europe. From Miami Beach they will go to New York, Le Havre, Tours, and Lourdes. They will stop at Paris before sailing from Le Havre for New York, and will end the trip in Chicago.

SNITE JR. BEGINS HIS JOURNEY TO MIRACLE SHRINE

Special Car Taking Him to New York.

Miami Beach, Fla., May 14.—(AP)—Amid cries of "Good luck," Fred Snite Jr. started a 12,000 mile journey in his iron lung today that will lead to the shrine of miracles at Lourdes, France.

The handsome infantile paralysis victim, 28 years old, whose life for more than three years has depended upon the constant functioning of a mechanical respirator, was placed on a special car. Tomorrow he will reach New York, finishing the first lap of the trip that will take him to Europe and then to his home in Chicago.

He will sail tomorrow night on the Normandie.

Snite's pilgrimage to the shrine at Lourdes has a twofold purpose. Primarily he seeks spiritual strengthening of his religious philosophy, but his father, a Chicago small loan financier, has hopes that Divine Providence will reward his son with some physical improvement.

Father Tells Trip's Purpose.

"This is Fred's trip," the father said. "He wanted to make it, and so we arranged it. I hope he receives the inner satisfaction he seeks. The soul is more important than the body, and this trip is being made for his spiritual being."

More than 100 persons gathered to see Snite Jr., first stricken March 31, 1936, in China, while on a world tour, leave on his latest journey which will make his travels in the breathing device total about 27,000 miles.

Accompanying him were his parents, a physician, five nurses clad in new light blue serge uniforms and overseas caps, a physiotherapist, and two orderlies.

Van Takes Him to Train.

Dennis Scanlan of St. Paul, Minn., and Warren E. Collins, inventors of respirators, and a chauffeur complete the party.

Snite was taken to his special car in a moving van. With his father fanning him he rode slowly across a causeway to Miami to be put aboard it. The car is one that was rebuilt by the Pullman company for him.

A specially constructed automobile trailer has been sent to New York. In it Snite will travel from Le Havre to Tours, France, on May 23. The itinerary calls for an overnight stop there. On May 25 the group will arrive at Lourdes.

Returning to New York June 26 after visiting Paris, Snite will visit the world's fair before going to Chicago about July 1.

LILACS TO CHEER CITY'S SHUT-INS AGAIN TOMORROW

Hospitals on North Side to Receive Blooms.

For the second time this spring fragrant lilac blooms from suburban gardens will brighten the lives of Chicago's shut-ins. Tomorrow is the day, the second and last in the annual Share Your Lilacs observance.

As they did last Friday, thousands of volunteer workers will share the beauty and fragrance of their lilacs with patients in Chicago hospitals. The distribution tomorrow will be made to 8,000 persons in more than fifty hospitals on the north side. Last Friday lilacs were delivered to 13,000 persons in eighty-six hospitals on the west and south sides.

81 Clubs Aid in Work.

The lilacs will be in from every section of Chicagoland. The arrangements are handled by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild and THE TRIBUNE with the coöperation of eight railroads.

Committees of eighty-one garden clubs, with a total membership of more than 2,000 persons, are directing the work of cutting the thick purple and lavender blossoms. This group of volunteer workers is augmented by hundreds of school children and troops of Boy and Girl Scouts.

From home gardens and back yards, parks, clubs, and estates, the lilacs will be carried to suburban train platforms early tomorrow morning.

61 Trains to Carry Blooms.

There they will be place aboard sixty-one lilac trains for free transportation to Chicago.

In Chicago a fleet of Tribune trucks will meet each train. The lilacs will be taken to the Tribune loading platform, from which deliveries will be made.

On the north and northwest sides the lilacs will come from as far as Lake Bluff, Libertyville, and Woodstock. From the south they will come from as far as Crown Point, Ind. Western suburbs as far as Aurora, Geneva, and Elgin also will send blooms.

HERE ARE SCHEDULES OF TRAINS BRINGING LILACS FOR SHUT-INS

Trains which will carry lilacs to shut-ins tomorrow are listed below, together with time schedules. The trains will make numerous stops at stations en route to pick up blossoms:

North Shore Line [Skokie Valley route]—Lilacs should be put on train No. 708, leaving Libertyville at 8:17 a. m. and Briargate at 8:37 a. m. [Shore Line route]—Train No. 614, leaving Lake Bluff at 8:26 a. m. and Lake Forest at 8:29 a. m.

North Western [all divisions]—Any train, but lilacs must reach the Chicago station not later than 10 a. m.

Aurora and Elgin—Any train, starting at either Aurora or Elgin, but lilacs must reach Chicago terminal not later than 10:02 a. m.

Burlington—One train, No. 32, leaving Aurora at 8:02 a. m. and arriving at Union station at 9:10 a. m.

Rock Island—One train which leaves Blue Island at 9:50 a. m. and reaches La Salle Street station at 10:35 a. m.

Illinois Central—Any suburban train. Lilacs must reach Randolph Street station not later than 10 a. m.

South Shore Line—One train which leaves Gary at 8:08 a. m. and arrives in Chicago at 9:03 a. m.

Pennsylvania—One train, No. 307, leaving Crown Point, Ind., at 6:57 a. m. and arriving in Chicago at 8 a. m.

BROOKLYN QUIZ BARES POLITICAL TIEUP TO CRIME

New Deal Machine Hit by Indictments.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—On election night, last Nov. 8, the campaign managers for District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for governor, told him the race was nip and tuck, but there were still thirteen election districts in New York City to be reported.

Frank V. Kelly.

"Where are they?" asked Dewey.

"All in Brooklyn," was the reply.

Dewey swung around in his chair and started penning a note of congratulations to his Democratic opponent, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman. Hours later the thirteen districts came in with a heavy vote for Lehman. This vote was enough to give the governor the election by a state-wide plurality of 64,700 votes over the young rackets prosecutor.

Strongholds of Kelly.

Those districts were strongholds of Brooklyn's boss, Frank V. Kelly, one of the most powerful lieutenants in the country for the Roosevelt-Farley machine.

Today Brooklyn is being unveiled as a community where crime and politics operate for mutual profit on a vast scale. One county judge in Brooklyn will go to trial shortly on charges of accepting a bribe in the abortion racket. Another judge has been removed from the bench, accused of corruption.

Three assistant district attorneys, one of whom has confessed, are under indictment, and an assistant attorney general also has been indicted. Numerous small fry, including several policemen mixed up in the fur and abortion rackets, are awaiting trial.

Hines Is Convicted.

These revelations were not a complete surprise because the politics for profit syndicate in Brooklyn has worked in close concert with another Roosevelt administration subsidiary, the Hines-Pecora-Tammany combination in neighboring Manhattan or New York county.

Tammany Leader James J. Hines was the most influential single Democratic chieftain in Manhattan until Dewey convicted him recently as the political fixer for the policy game racket. Hines, a supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt before the Chicago convention of 1932, was rewarded by being made the chief dispenser of federal patronage for New York county.

The first Hines trial came to an untimely end last fall when Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora seized upon a technicality to declare a mistrial. Pecora, a former Tammany assistant district attorney, had been a Roosevelt appointee on the Securities and Exchange commission before his elevation to the bench.

Flynn Is Appointee.

Hines in Manhattan and Kelly in Brooklyn rule the Roosevelt duchy here in New York City with Edward J. Flynn, boss of the Bronx and Democratic national committeeman. Dewey revealed during the campaign last fall that Flynn, as sherif of Bronx county, had as one of his deputies Dutch Schultz, gangster. Flynn is President Roosevelt's appointee as United States commissioner general for the New York World's Fair.

The current disclosures of official corruption in Brooklyn are a sequel to the gubernatorial campaign last fall. Dewey hammered away at the political-criminal alliance in Brooklyn until finally Gov. Lehman appointed a special prosecutor, John Harlan Amen. This investigation, fortunately for the Democratic ticket, did not get up steam until after the election.

Several Leaders Dethroned.

Biggest of the five boroughs making up New York City, Brooklyn, or Kings county, has a population of 2,768,839. The community is afflicted with the vilest slums and toughest water front sections in the country. Al Capone and Johnny Torrio were among the hoodlums who received their early crime schooling in Brooklyn.

With a large foreign born population, Brooklyn has seen an influx of Italians, Jews, and Negroes during the last three decades. The result has been the dethronement of several Irish political leaders in the various assembly districts. When John McCooey died in 1934, Kelly succeeded him as Democratic chairman of the county, however, and has remained on top of the heap through deals, compromises, native shrewdness, and, above all, help from Washington.

Boss Kelly delivered for President Roosevelt in the 1936 election. The President received 738,306 votes in Brooklyn, while Alf M. Landon got only 212,852. Kelly, like Hines and Flynn in their respective counties, has been the chief dispenser of jobs and easy money under the New Deal. He also has parceled out jobs for Brooklyn under the state administration and under the Kings county posts held by his cohorts.

Geoghan Is Superseded.

The most important wheelhorse in the Kelly-Roosevelt machine in Brooklyn is District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, whose malodorous office is the chief target in the current investigation.

Gov. Lehman twice had superseded Geoghan with special prosecutors before naming Amen last fall, but always refused to remove the district attorney from office. Just before the 1936 election Hiram C. Todd, special prosecutor who had been investigating the Drukman murder case, made a formal demand for Geoghan's removal. The governor, then a candidate for reëlection, refused and told the public he was convinced that Geoghan is an honest man.

With such a fertile field for investigation, the score in the Amen drive in Brooklyn to date is as follows:

County Judge George W. Martin, indicted on three counts for bribery, accepting unlawful fee and conspiracy in connection with a $1,000 payment by two doctors charged with abortion.

Magistrate Mark Rudich, removed and disbarred by the Appellate division of the Supreme court as unfit for the bench on charges that he had taken bribes from a confessed fixer whose clientele included persons arrested for prostitution, extortion, vagrancy and other offenses.

Indicted on Bribery Charge.

Sol Ullman, an assistant under Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., indicted in connection with the abortion racket. Ullman was in charge of presenting grievances to the board of regents which acts on physicians' licenses. The case to be tried alleges Ullman took $13,000 in cash and demanded $8,000 more to protect abortionists.

Assistant District Attorney William McGuinness, one of Geoghan's chief aids, pleaded guilty to four indictments on charges of selling protection from prosecution to criminals.

Assistant District Attorney Francis A. Madden, indicted on charges of taking $9,000 in bribes in abortion racket.

Indicted on Perjury Charge.

Assistant District Attorney Alexander Baldwin, indicted on charges of taking $800 bribe in the fur racket. Finger printing disclosed Baldwin once had been tried on a charge of stealing an automobile and acquitted.

Rose Gold, described in court by Amen as the prime figure in three of Brooklyn's most vicious rackets, indicted for first degree perjury in connection with the bail bond racket. She is the mother-in-law of Sam Herman, clerk in the office of Irwin Steingut, Democratic minority leader of the state assembly.

Police Lieutenant Cuthbert J. Behan, charged with stealing criminal records from his precinct station, a felony under New York law.

Other indictments are in the making, it was reported. Some will follow adjournment of the state legislature, it was said.

Two Dead and One Injured in Blast

Jack Person (left), age 15, and Donald E. Ellingwood (center), 16, Evanston high school pupils, were killed, and Hubert C. Heffner Jr., 14 (right), was injured when a bomb they were making exploded yesterday. The explosion, which was heard for blocks, wrecked part of the interior of the Ellingwood home. Ellingwood was known as a brilliant chemistry student.

Fragments of the bomb which killed the two boys as they were experimenting and another bomb police found in the basement. It will be given to experts today for examination.

Britain Orders Trafic Cop to Guard Duke of Windsor

LONDON, May 14.—(AP)—A trafic cop is going to replace the Scotland Yard detective now assigned to the duke of Windsor. Scotland Yard officials said tonight that bombing activities of the outlawed Irish Republican army required every man on the job, including Detective Sergeant Attfield who has been with the duke since he abdicated the British throne. Police Constable Kenneth, athlete and linguist, leaves shortly to relieve the sergeant.

MILK PRICE WAR LOOMS AS CUT TO 7½ CENTS IS MADE

Two Independents Follow Slash by Majors.

A new milk price war in Chicago began to take form yesterday as independent dairies announced a cut of a cent a quart to 7½ cents, effective today. The move follows the reduction Saturday by big companies of a cent a quart, making their new prices 9 cents at the store and 11 cents for home delivery.

The independents' new price applies to milk purchased in retail stores, where most of the cut rate dairies' business is concentrated. The reduction enables them to maintain their 1½ cent advantage over the store price of the big distributors.

Two Firms Announce Slash.

Both the Meadowmoor Dairy company, the city's largest independent, and the Uptown Blue Ribbon dairy, said to be the second largest, announced the reductions. Other cut rate firms will be forced to follow suit, it was said.

Officials of the Borden-Wieland company, co-leader with the Bowman Dairy company of the associated milk dealers, expressed doubt that they would reduce their prices any further unless members of the milk drivers' union agree to a pay cut. Union members voted against such a proposal last week.

Walter Schaub, vice president and treasurer of Meadowmoor, said the reduction was waranted by the supply of milk and the company's policy of providing the public with Grade A milk at the lowest possible cost.

Marcus Lipsky, president of Blue Ribbon, admitted that the decision to cut was a direct result of the price reduction by the big dealers, who are said to handle nearly three-quarters of the fluid milk sold in Chicago.

Farm Price Unchanged.

Schaub said his company could still show a profit in serving 20 per cent of Chicago's retail consumers, but Lipsky said he could do little better than break even.

Both said the price to the farmer, 3¾ cents a quart, would remain unchanged. According to their figures, Meadowmoor will operate on a 1¼ cents a quart margin, while Blue Ribbon will have a margin of ¾ of one cent.

Meadowmoor, using nonunion truckers, pays its drivers about 1 cent a quart to deliver to the stores and Blue Ribbon, which pays the union scale of the associated dealers, about 2 cents, according to the figures given.

Store Profits Revealed.

Schaub said the stores selling Meadowmoor milk get approximately 1½ cents a quart, while Lipsky said the Blue Ribbon retailers receive 1 cent.

The cut rate dairies buy their milk from independent farmers' coöperatives, whereas the associated dealers buy from members of the Pure Milk association.

The independents pay $1.45 per hundred pounds for all milk they take. There are approximately 46 quarts of milk to the hundred pounds, making their price to the farmers about 3.15 cents per quart. The associated dairies pay producers a base rate of $1.43 per hundred pounds, or about 3.10 cents per quart. But they also buy a large amount of surplus milk at a lower figure. Lipsky said the purchase of this surplus milk brought down the average price paid by the associated dairy members to about $1.33 per hundred pounds, or 2.89 cents per quart.

"I had a hunch that a Lost and Found ad in the Tribune would get them back if I phoned one in right away."

WHENEVER you lose anything of value be sure to telephone a Lost and Found want ad to the Chicago Tribune. Thousands of dollars' worth of property is restored each year to owners who advertise in the Lost and Found column of the Tribune.

Regardless of what you may have lost, or where in Chicago or suburbs you may have lost it, there is a good chance that a Tribune reader will find it.

Every day of the week, the Tribune is read by more than 725,000 families right in metropolitan Chicago. This is practically as many as read any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

Further, the Tribune is Chicago's big want ad marketplace, carrying far more want advertising and, as a result, attracting far more want ad readers than any other Chicago newspaper.

CALL SUPERIOR 0100—WANT AD-VISER and ask for Miss Miller if you have lost something recently. Miss Miller will help you word your want ad. If your name is in the phone book, you may charge your Tribune want ad.

As an extra service to Tribune Lost and Found advertisers, all such ads are kept for three months after publication in a special register open to the public at the Tribune Public Service Offices, 1 S. Dearborn St. and in Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan Ave.

SILVER PURCHASE BY U. S. VITAL TO MEXICAN FINANCE

Future Depends on Action to Settle Oil Row.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, May 14.—Lack of money is a major factor in Mexico's chaotic condition, a leading banker here declared today. The government embarked upon a program of extravagance five years ago.

The federal treasury, he said, faces bankruptcy that can be avoided only by the administration doing an about face and adopting a policy of rigid conservatism and economy. Also the avoidance of bankruptcy depends on the continuance of silver buying by the United States.

Some well informed sources here declare the Mexican government realizes the situation and during the last month has showed signs of reducing the extravagance. They also point to the recent announcement that arbitrators are making progress toward settlement of the oil properties expropriation dispute.

Silver Buying Goes On.

The progress, the observers say, leads to the belief that the American government will continue to buy silver, for it would seem evident that it would not continue unless a satisfactory oil solution were reached. April, May, and June.

Figures giving evidence of Mexico's runaway spending show that expenditures were over 15,000,000 pesos more than income for 1937 and more than 54,000,000 pesos in the red in 1938.

[The peso was worth 27.75 cents early in 1938, but after the expropriation of oil properties, skidded and currently is worth 20 cents.]

The figures on expenditures are further illuminated by an examination of the government's obligation to the Bank of Mexico. On Nov. 30, 1938, the government owed the bank, including obligations for road bonds, an all time high of 174 million pesos. By decree of Dec. 28, 1938, the federal treasury was prohibited from making any further loans with the Bank of Mexico.

Turns to Short Term Issues.

In the future the treasury will depend on the issue of short term certificates to obtain temporary funds. The loan at the Bank of Mexico will be reduced from time to time by devoting certain tax revenues to that purpose.

The treasury ended 1938 with practically no cash balance in the bank. At the end of January the government had about 5,000,000 pesos. However, unusually heavy expenses in February absorbed the entire income for the month and also the 5,000,000 balance. Income for March—income tax month—held up well.

The minister of finance said he planned to issue short term 3 per cent treasury certificates of from 5 million to 7 million pesos to obtain sufficient funds to meet expenses of April, May, and June.

DISCOVERS NEW REMEDY FOR HAY FEVER PATIENTS

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—A weak solution of potassium chloride salt was suggested to physicians today as a possible remedy for hay fever sufferers during the coming sneezing season.

The chemical, a common substance used as a medicine for a number of diseases, has proved effective in stopping sneezes and sniffles in more than half of the 57 patients on whom it has been tried, Dr. Benson Bloom and Dr. C. S. Kibler of Tucson, Ariz., and Dr. S. J. Grauman of Milwaukee, Wis., told the American Medical association.

They did not recommend it for all hay fever patients, particularly those with asthma complications, but declared that the results are "interesting and promising" and might bring relief to a great many. It was emphasized that the treatment should not be tried except under a physician's direction.

RAID VETERANS' POST, SEIZE NINE SLOT MACHINES

Indianapolis, Ind., May 14.—(AP)—Police early today raided the Frank E. Strayor post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and confiscated nine slot machines and one dice device after Charles E. Stutz filed an affidavit that he had lost $1,500 during the last year.

George Rapp, 46 years old, of Indianapolis, named by police as the "agent in charge," was arrested on charges of violating the 1935 slot machine act.

Stutz, who lives here, is a brother of the late Harry C. Stutz, former automobile manufacturer.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, May 14.—The Joan of Arc festival was celebrated today in France for the first time in many years without any clashes between the right and left political groups. Both groups claim Joan of Arc as their own with the result the day is often one for riots. In Paris Premier Edouard Daladier and other members of the government decorated the heroine's statue. Afterward there was a parade of Catholic youth organizations joined by troops.

U. S. AGOG OVER KING'S VISIT, SAY BRITISH WRITERS

Report Women Pay $40 for Hats Like Queen's.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 14.—English correspondents in America are cabling stories back to London that the coming visit of King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth already has given a big boost to British goods in American and Canadian markets. Women will pay as high as $40 for a hat like the queen's, they say.

The correspondent of one Sunday newspaper declares that Americans are flocking to Canada with trailers and camping equipment, intent on welcoming the king.

Perhaps the record in descriptive superlatives is attained by the Sunday Chronicle reporter who explains that American children no longer are taught that English kings are tyrants and that "royal portraits now hang in American schoolrooms."

Says Americans Want King.

The Chronicle representative advises British readers that a former mayor of Chicago once accused King George V. of trying to "swallow America and undo the declaration of independence," and declares that "today an enormous number of Americans would be glad if that were true."

He explains that Americans are willing to repudiate the declaration of independence because they realize the upkeep of royalty with its shows costs less than presidential elections. He also points out that the people of New York are so enthusiastic that they talk of the permanent removal of the British throne to Canada, making what he calls a "complete Anglo-American hookup."

"This may seem fantastic in Britain, but it is regarded as a sensible project by New Yorkers," he declares.

Would Rule from Canada.

With the royal family comparatively safe in Canada, the correspondent says, Britain would rule the empire—and presumably the United States—from the new world and at the same time wage a war against the dictators.

"I have not met an American who thinks this idea is absurd," he writes. "Contrarily, every one says it is a good, practical suggestion."

This sort of cabled story makes no impression in some circles here, but the chronicle report stands out as a climax in the propaganda being fed to the unlettered section of this country's population about royalty.

OPEN DEARBORN SPAN TODAY; SHUT STATE ST. BRIDGE

The Dearborn street bridge, rehabilitated at a cost of $100,000, will be opened to trafic at 10 a. m. today, it was announced yesterday by Thomas Pihlfeldt, city bridge engineer.

The State street bridge will be closed at the same hour and demolition will begin at once to make way for the new $3,000,000 bridge and viaduct on the north side of the river. The viaduct will connect with Wabash street. Street cars will be rerouted over Wabash and Dearborn streets between Lake street and Grand avenue.

Pihlfeldt said it would take two months and cost $67,000 to demolish the bridge. He said the new construction could not begin until November because a subway tube must be built under the river before work is started.

W-G-N LISTENERS HAIL NEW PLANT, FINEST IN NATION

Improved Tower Boosts Strength 40%.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

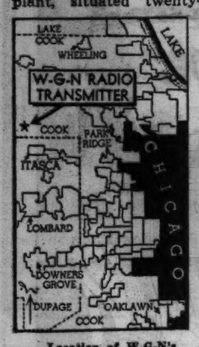
W-G-N's new $250,000 transmitter plant, situated twenty-five miles northwest of the loop, has been licensed by the federal communications commission and placed in regular service following a period of test transmissions.



Location of W-G-N's new transmitter.

The improved facilities have been acclaimed widely by radio listeners who have voiced their enthusiasm from points upward of 400 miles distant, where daytime reception previously has been unfavorable. They tell of greatly improved audibility provided by the new transmitter.

The site of the new plant, which replaces the one continuously in service near Elgin since 1926, is a 101 acre tract off Rohlwing road [Route 53] near Roselle. It was chosen because of favorable characteristics of the subsoil for radio transmission, the sparsity of population in the area, and the fact that it is five miles off regular lanes of air travel.

New Building Constructed.

The new equipment is housed in a new building constructed of brick, concrete, and steel, and painted white. The transmitter itself, which has the latest features in construction, the building, and the garages near by were completed in March. They went into service on March 29, the fifteenth anniversary of W-G-N.

The plant is equipped with many automatic devices designed to reduce to a minimum the types of failures that might interrupt broadcasting. The building is fitted with complete living quarters for the transmitter crew. Even during wintry blizzards the station could be manned for days without outside relief.

Construction of the new radiator, or transmission tower, which rises to a height of 750 feet, was completed almost a year ago. It is the highest man made structure in the central states.

Tower All-Electrified.

This all-steel tower, fabricated by the Truscon Steel company, is electrified from its base to its top, radio waves emanating at all angles from every point along its 750 foot height. Weighing sixty-five tons, it rests on a single pivotal base of porcelain less than a foot in diameter. Guy cables at two levels keep the tower in position. These exert a tremendous down pull on the base-insulator, which can support 900 tons.

The tower is designed to withstand winds of 110 miles an hour, far in excess of any experienced here. It is painted with alternate bands of red and white, which serve as a warning to aircraft in the daytime. A special system of flasher beacons illuminates it at night. This system is lighted automatically by an electric eye [photoelectric cell] when the light falls below a certain minimum in the daytime.

Ground System Aids Tower.

Signals from the tower are augmented by a complicated ground sending system which lies at the base of the tower and transmits its radio signals through the earth. The ground system consists of 120 thin copper strips each 800 feet long [nearly 18 miles], spreading clockwise from the base of the radiator.

By actual measurement the new equipment has increased the station's signal strength in the Chicago area 40 per cent. Engineers say that this is the equivalent of doubling its power.

Phenomenal reception has been reported, even from the northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan iron and copper ore regions, where audibility was always poor. The improvement has been general throughout Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio.

Best Plant in Nation.

The new W-G-N plant, engineers say, is the most modern and efficient in the nation. None exceeds it in coverage.

And no station shall exceed it in public service, station executives said. W-G-N has spent a million dollars since 1935, they said, to make it the best broadcasting station in the nation.

The improvements of the last year brought employment to more than 500 workmen in many special fields and trades. These include steelworkers, masons, bricklayers, carpenters, painters and decorators, roofers, plumbers, heating and ventilating experts, landscape artists, and road builders.

Robert M. Burgunder Jr. and his mother in jail at Phoenix, Ariz., yesterday.

COLLEGE YOUTH ADMITS KILLING TWO IN DESERT

Burgunder Tells How He Shot Salesmen.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 14.—(AP)—Robert M. Burgunder Jr., 22 years old, a college student, today confessed that he shot and killed two automobile salesmen April 29 while they lay bound at his feet in an Arizona desert.

The youth was brought here last night from Johnson City, Tenn., where he was captured a week ago.

Richard Harless, county attorney, and Sherif Lon Jordan, who returned Burgunder, said he told the whole story of the crime to them after he had finished eating dinner last night at Globe, Ariz.

Later he told the same story to a court reporter here and then sighed:

"I'm glad it's over."

Bodies Found in Gulch.

Burgunder, former student at the Tempe Teachers college, is charged with the slaying of Jack Peterson, 35 years old, and Ellis Koury, 27, whose bodies were found in a desert gulch. Accompanied by a youth, later identified from pictures as Burgunder, they had taken a drive to demonstrate a new motor car.

"I shot Koury first, shot him twice," the officers quoted him as saying. "Then I shot Peterson three times."

Five empty shells from a .25 caliber automatic were found at the scene. The gun still was in the glove compartment of the car when it was recovered at Johnson City.

"I had made Koury tie up Peterson's hands and feet," the statement continued. "Peterson was lying on the ground perhaps ten yards away. Less than five yards away lay Koury, who had tied his own ankles. He was lying face down with his hands behind his back.

"I shot him and he sort of sighed. I shot again. Then I swung to Peterson."

He said he shot Peterson in the body then in the head. After pausing a moment he decided Peterson was not dead and fired the fifth shot.

Young Burgunder, on parole from the Washington state reformatory where he was sentenced for a drug store holdup, was quoted by Harless and Jordan as saying his sole motive was to obtain an automobile in which he could flee from mounting obligations brought on by gambling.

"I haven't any guts," the officers quoted him as saying. "I never had enough guts to stop gambling, to stop playing those damned slot machines, marble boards, and poker game machines. They kept me broke."

Greets Mother with Kiss.

Burgunder greeted his mother, Mrs. Ruth Burgunder of Alhambra, Cal., with a kiss when the parents arrived at the jail today.

Without so much as shaking hands with his father, of Seattle, Wash., for whom he was named, the youth launched at once into a discussion of his crime, directing his remarks to his mother.

"What we said to each other was private," the senior Burgunder, a former Seattle prosecutor, told reporters. "I'd rather not discuss it."

"What his plea will be when he faces a trial court is a matter for him to decide," he added.

Harless said Burgunder probably would be brought before a justice of the peace tomorrow.

AWAIT HODES RULING ON CITY SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS' RESIDENCE

Nonresidents of Chicago are barred by statute from membership on the board of education, Joseph F. Grossman, first assistant corporation counsel, said yesterday. He said the question of what constitutes residence will not be answered, however, until Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel, returns to the city Thursday.

Membership on the board of William D. McJunkin, appointed by a former Republican mayor, is at stake. He moved to Winnetka nine years ago. He maintains a legal voting residence at the Chicago Athletic club. Records at the election commission yesterday showed that the club included him in its lodging house affidavit of registered voters May 4.

Mayor Kelly asked Hodes for an opinion after the question was raised by the citizens' advisory school committee. If McJunkin resigns it would add another vacancy to those created when the terms of Harry W. Solomon and Karl V. Janovsky-Johns expired recently.

HOUSE WILL GET PLEA TO OBSERVE REAL NEUTRALITY

Washington, D. C., May 14.—[Special.]—Asserting that the refusal of President Roosevelt to pursue the traditional American policy of genuine neutrality is leading the United States to war, Representative George Holden Tinkham [R., Mass.] tonight announced he will introduce a resolution in the house tomorrow calling for observance of that policy.

The resolution will ask congress to reassert its conviction that the only policy by which America can avert war is the traditional American policy of genuine neutrality.

Tinkham charged the President and Secretary Hull are committing acts of political intervention in Europe which are wholly unneutral and at the same time have brought, "for purposes of their own," the fear of war to this country.

DAYS IN THE OPEN (1)

By CALEB

WHEN a four-million city and half a hundred satellite towns hear the bugles of Outdoorland blowing —there must be outdoors aplenty in which to distribute the eager answerers! To last summer's summons, some ten million such surged into Cook County's Forest Preserve District . . . with five million more hardier recreationists added to the number as winter's quota. Such a total, in short, as none but tremendous acreage and facilities could begin properly to accommodate.

Thanks to an able Board of Commissioners—two women and thirteen men, long prominently identified with civic affairs, headed by President Clayton F. Smith—no other city in America serves its citizenry with such complete, diversified and attractive provisions in this respect as Chicago!

Wildlife sanctuary and game refuge, as well as superlative scene for "the education, pleasure and recreation of the public," the District comprises a magnificent strip of "engirdling greenwood," where every type of sport and holiday frolic can be had the year 'round, amid the breezy forests, trails, streams, lakes, golf courses and roadways of its 33,500 acres.

Actually, a Gargantuan affair embracing the 140-acre Brookfield Zoo; a 100-acre nursery; 125 miles of streams; 185 miles of highway frontage; 150 miles of trails for hiking, bicycling and horse-back riding; five golf courses; 8,000 picnic tables and benches; 2,000 picnic fireplaces; 50 baseball diamonds; 3 athletic fields; 224 auto parking spaces; 3 beaches, 3 pools and 3 tennis courts; 3 bandstands, and a free-admission Trailside Museum, open seven hours daily, where general public, science teachers and students alike can learn about Nature direct from her own enchanted pages—

Such, told in quick-sketch tempo, is the Forest Preserve story—one that periodically needs retelling, if for no other reason than to remind us anew of our individual debt to the public servants who started this Preserve project, some twenty-four years ago, by purchasing for the purpose forty acres at Deer Grove and one hundred acres in Palos.

Gas in the tank—ham, cheese and chicken in the hamper—a holiday of sun and wind on the calendar—and a "heart for any fate" . . . these are the sole ingredients needed for royal recreation. All the rest: trees and trails, streams and beaches, glens and hills and gay-flowered spaces, the city has already provided. North, south or west, as Nature's guest you play or rest!

"A serious question for all, but especially for those who at a given moment must take the responsibility of deciding.

Hails Pact with Germany.

"I answer this question by declaring that according to a cold objective examination of the situation, there are not at present in Europe problems big enough or acute enough to justify a war which by logical development would spread from Europe and become a universal event.

"There are knots in European politics but recourse to the sword is, perhaps, not necessary to cut them. Nevertheless, there is need that these knots be untied once and for all because sometimes a hard reality is preferable to a long uncertainty.

"This is not only the thought of Italy but also of Germany and thus the axis—of that axis, which, after many years of parallel action of the two régimes and of the two revolutions, will become through the pact of Milan and through the military alliance which will be signed this month at Berlin an indivisible communion of two states and two peoples.

"Those who, perhaps, with inverted telescopes have at times perceived a possible split or fracture now will be confused and humiliated. Let no one harbor further ridiculous delusions nor abandon himself to superficial casuistry because the doctrine of Fascism is clear and my will as inflexible as before and even more so.

Ready to March with Nazis.

"As before, and even better than before, we shall march with Germany to give Europe that peace with justice which is the profound desire of all peoples.

"The polemic makers of the great democracies are invited to render a judgment as fair as this point of view of ours.

"We do not desire peace simply because our internal situation is, as has been noted, catastrophic. It is now 17 years that our adversaries have awaited the famous catastrophe in vain, and they will wait a whole lot longer.

"And not because of physical fear of war, for that sentiment is wholly unknown to us. That is why elucidations of some table strategists beyond the nearby frontier who talk of an easy passage into the Po valley make us laugh.

"The times of Francis I. and Charles VIII. have passed. That kind of war no longer is conceivable.

Refers to French Invasions.

"Even in the days when a formidable compact people of 45,000,000 souls did not live across the Alps as today foreign invaders from Talamone to Fornovo [two points of attack in French invasions of Italy] never had good fortune in Italy very long.

"In your glorious military history, O people of Piedmont, there are many memorable episodes which demonstrate how unhealthy has been the passage of overbearing people through Italy.

"It is a question of asking ourselves: To the sincere desire of the totalitarian states is there a correspondingly sincere desire of peace of the great democracies? [Shouts of 'No!']

"You have already answered. I limit myself to saying that in view of their acts it is proper to doubt it.

"Maps of three continents have recently been altered but it may be observed that neither Japan, Germany, nor Italy has subtracted a square yard of territory or a single inhabitant from the sovereignty of the great democracies.

Attacks Versailles "System."

"Then how is this fury explained? "Are they trying to make us believe that it is question of moral scruples?

"Perhaps we do not know what methods they employed to build up their own empires?

"And with what methods they still maintain them?

"It is not then a question of territory but another question. A system was constructed at Versailles. It was a system of pistols pointed against Germany and Italy.

"Now this system has irreparably collapsed. And thus it is attempted to substitute it with guarantees more or less demanded and more or less plurilateral.

"That the great democracies are not sincerely devoted to the cause of peace is incontestably demonstrated in that they have already started what might be called a white war, that is to say, a war on economic ground.

A Warning to Foes.

"They deceive themselves into thinking they are weakening us.

"It is not only with gold that wars are won. Besides gold, and more important, is will and still more important is courage.

"The formidable rapidly increasing bloc of 150 million which grows from the Baltic to the Indian ocean will not permit itself to be overpowered.

"Any attack will be useless, any attack will be repulsed with the greatest decision.

"And after the pistol system, the system of guarantees also will collapse.

"I wanted to say this to you, comrades, because it is not the style of Fascism to harbor excessive hopes and fallacious illusions. Strong peoples like Italians love truth and reality.

"And thus the motives of our armaments will be clear to you—to be ready always to safeguard our peace and to repulse any threatened aggression at any moment.

"Comrades, I might dispense with talking about the internal situation. These questions may be reduced to a single sentence: The people and régime in Italy constitute an absolutely indivisible bloc.

Urges Self-Discipline.

"From the social point of view, we are rigorously keeping faith with the postulates of our vigil [before the Fascist march on Rome]. With the education of a new generation we are creating a physical and moral type of new Italian. With the development of lands overseas we intend to improve living conditions of the working people.

"All this demands severe discipline, coördination of effort, and unprecedented concentration of our will. But this cannot intimidate the Italian of Fascist times any more than it did you ninety years ago when little Piedmont dared defy a great empire [Austria]. It appeared an act of foolish temerity but it was a great act of faith in the path of history.

"From Piedmont went out the call which initiated the great unitarian movement. It ought to be a motive of profound and legitimate pride of the people of Turin to remember that time and compare Italy of 1848 with Italy of the 17th year of the Fascist era.

"What an arc of power has been curved in these ninety years and who can doubt our future? Comrades, no matter what happens I declare to you with absolute certainty that all our objectives will be reached."

PARIS SEES DUCE TALK AS WARNING TO PATCH UP ROW

Believes He Wants France to Open Negotiations.

PARIS, May 14.—(AP)—French diplomatic circles today read between the lines of Premier Mussolini's Turin speech an urgent notice to France to open negotiations on Italy's issue with her.

Although diplomats called Il Duce's speech moderate on the surface, they said it had an undertone demanding that France must take the initiative in settling the French-Italian quarrel if Europe was to have "peace with justice."

Some observers also found a studied coincidence in the simultaneous inspection of French frontiers by both Mussolini and his axis partner, Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Speed Work on Nazi Forts.

While Il Duce was signaling the start of his tour of Italian border regions by the speech at Turin, Hitler arrived at Aachen for a trip which will extend down the Rhine opposite France's Maginot line to the Swiss frontier.

At the same time, reports from French regions facing the German frontier said that work on German fortifications across the line—clearly visible from France—was being accelerated.

Special emphasis, these reports said, was being placed on fortifications at the junction of the German, Swiss and French boundaries which form a German entrance to the Burgundian gate, the historical southern military passage between Germany and France.

France's army was on the alert along the Maginot line.

French Study Paragraph.

The significant words of Mussolini's speech for Paris analysts were contained in the following paragraph:

"There are knots in European politics, but recourse to the sword is, perhaps, not necessary to cut them. Nevertheless, there is a need that these knots be untied once and for all because sometimes a hard reality is preferable to a long uncertainty."

This was linked to a preceding paragraph in which Mussolini declared there were no problems in Europe "big enough or acute enough to justify a war which by logical development would spread from Europe and become a universal event."

Diplomatic circles here construed Il Duce's meaning as a hint that if France were ready to make concessions to Fascist clamor for a share of her colonial empire she could buy peace.

Find Warnings in Speech.

They said there were warning rings, however, in his references to "peace with justice," in which he invoked German military support for Italy, and in his peroration, in which he declared that no matter what happens "all our objectives will be reached."

The municipal government of the village of Isola on the French-Italian frontier resigned today in protest against the Italian army's seizure of its inhabitants' homes on the other side of the border south of Turin. French families who had lived on the Italian side working their farmlands there under the treaty of 1860, by which a slice of French territory was given Italy, completed their enforced evacuation on April 16.

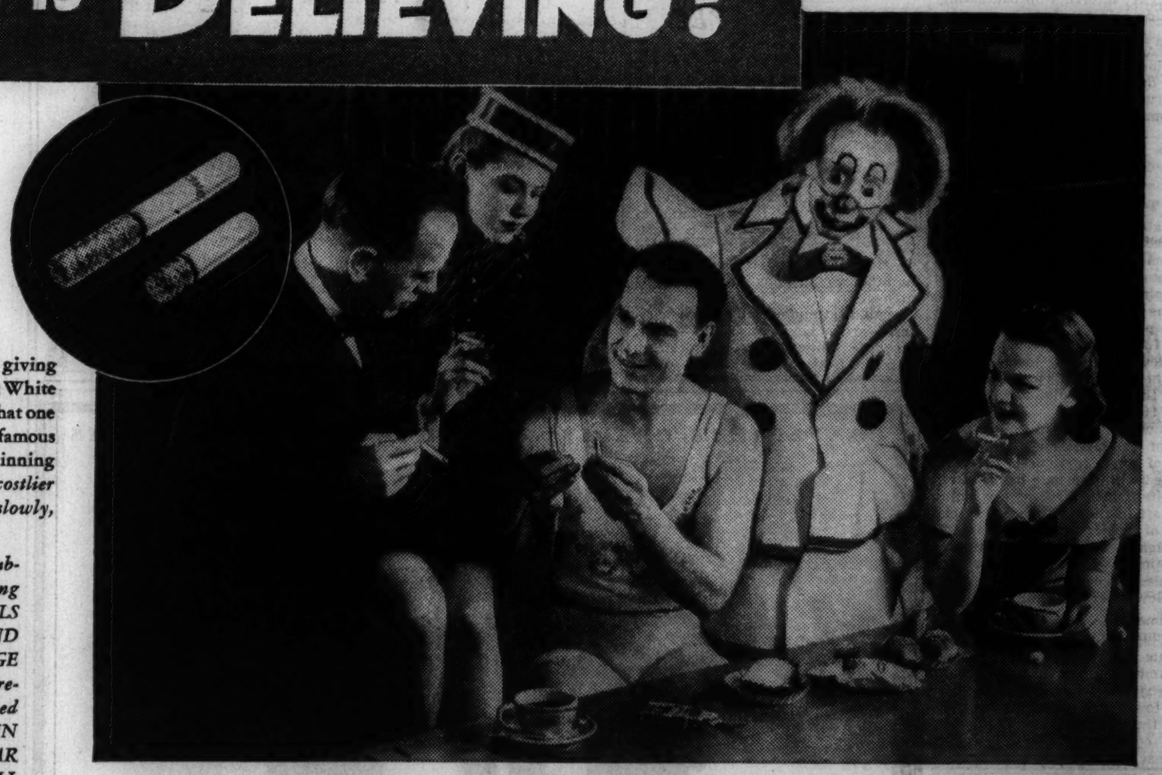
SEEING IS BELIEVING!



Now...circus folks, too, are comparing cigarettes this strikingly convincing way...

"JUST watch 'em burn," is the advice smart smokers are giving on cigarettes these days. At the right, aerial ace Everett White of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey circus proves that one leading cigarette burns slower than other brands. The famous star of the high trapeze, Ed Rooney, observes that the winning brand is C-A-M-E-L! Camel's big advantage is in its costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette made to burn slowly, completely!

Recently, a group of scientists made this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale. 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were tested impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent. Cigarettes of some brands smoked twice as fast as others right from the same pack.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos...always slow-burning, cool, mild, with a delightful taste!

Everyone watches Everett White, the daring aerialist (center), intently, as Camels win in his cigarette test. He remarks: "Camel smokers know Camels smoke COOLER and MILDER. And any smoker can see one reason why! Look how much slower that Camel burns! And, say, notice how the Camel ash stays on!"

SMOKING IS BELIEVING!

Camel's slower burning (compared to the average time of the 15 other brands tested) gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! You economize while enjoying smoking pleasure at its best!

IF you feel that life owes you a little more fun, try a cigarette made with costlier tobaccos...a Camel! See how Camel's delightful fragrance and taste can brighten you up. Camels are amazingly mild. Cool ...easy on your throat...really a matchless blend.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Camels give you even more for your money when you count in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Buy shrewdly! Buy Camels...America's first choice for a luxury smoke every smoker can afford!

POLISH-GERMAN INCIDENTS OVER DANZIG PILE UP

Ill Feeling Results from Sentries' Shots.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, May 14.—(AP)—Incidents involving Poland with Germany and the Free City of Danzig have multiplied within the last four days.

Arrow locates town where sentries fired.

Shots have been fired, but there has been no bloodshed. The incidents have been numerous, although not serious.

Among those that have caused ill feeling and the most debate was one involving two citizens of the free city who were challenged by Polish sentries near Tczew, a frontier railroad town.

The two fled when they were ordered to halt and raise their hands and Polish soldiers fired three shots. Danzig officials protested, asserting the men were on free city territory throughout.

The Poles in reply asked why, if the men were just ordinary Danzig citizens, their names were not made public.

Try to Take Photographs.

The incident was sharpened on Friday when members of a Danzig investigating commission also were challenged, especially because they tried to take photographs. Poles alleged the two citizens and the commission were after military information.

Uneasiness in the three Polish provinces bordering on Germany—Pomorze, Poznan, and Slask [Polish Silesia]—is greater than in the free city. Polish laborers and German landowners alike are nervous.

Thousands of Poles who benefited by post war land reforms were wondering what might happen to their little homesteads which were sliced off of large German estates.

Between 1919 and 1937, 66,300 new farms were created in these provinces and occupied chiefly by Poles brought in from other parts of the country.

Garrisons Strengthened.

Troops are not visible to the ordinary traveler. But regular garrisons have been strengthened in the western provinces, though some observers said the Poles had withdrawn large forces from Pomorze where the corridor narrows down in some places to a width of from 15 to 20 miles.

It was said this was done to prevent the troops from being caught in a trap should German forces drive in simultaneously from East Prussia and Pomerania if there were an armed conflict.

These observers said that no more than 100,000 men were believed stationed in the corridor itself and on its fringe.

Other sources said that in Danzig itself the police and Nazi formations had taken precautions to defend the city in event of a conflict until German troops could arrive. They asserted arms and equipment for them recently had arrived.

They said the force was being drawn from 8,000 Brown Shirts, 2,000 black uniformed storm troopers, 2,000 members of the motor corps, and 1,500 members of the National Socialist [Nazi] Flyers' corps.

Dictators See Forts

(Story in Adjoining Column.)

Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini yesterday began inspecting German and Italian fortifications on the western frontiers of their countries. Hitler started his tour at Aachen and Mussolini at Turin. Heavy lines show the routes the two dictators will follow in their tours of inspection.

2 ATTORNEYS GO ON TRIAL TODAY IN HEINTZ CASE

Edward A. Fisher and Francis J. Kennedy, two former assistant United States district attorneys, are scheduled to go on trial this morning before Judge William J. Lindsay. They are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice and being accessories after the fact in the robbery case of Hubert Heintz, 30 years old, son of a wealthy Winnetka broker.

The younger Heintz, then living at 6447 North Rockwell street, was arrested last November as a suspect in a holdup at the Household Finance corporation office at 3150 Lincoln avenue. Charges were dismissed because Heintz had blond hair and the robber's hair was dark, but Heintz was taken into custody again when it was learned that he had bleached his hair.

The attorneys were accused by Heintz's father, Philip F. Heintz, of suggesting the bleaching and then threatening the father to collect more money after he had paid their fee. Young Heintz has confessed the robbery.

HITLER INSPECTS FORTRESSES ON WESTERN FRONT

Plans Tour Along Polish Border Next Week.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 14.—Adolf Hitler arrived in Aachen [Aix-la-Chapelle] from Munich today to start a tour of inspection of Germany's western fortifications which, Germans declared, are nearing completion.

The Fuehrer was met at Aachen by Col. Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the military high command, who will escort him on his tour which will include, according to Nazi circles, almost every pillbox in the region. Next week Hitler intends to make a similar visit to the eastern fortifications along the Polish border.

Himmler Accompanies Hitler.

On his present tour Hitler will be accompanied by Heinrich Himmler, chief of all police forces in Germany, who has large detachments in the fortified regions supervising workers and watching for spies; Gen. Erwin von Witzleben, commander of the 2d corps; Lieut. Gen. Jacob, inspector of fortifications, and Dr. Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief.

The fortifications were constructed at Hitler's command by 100,000 workers of the Labor Front. The works are known as the Limes line and stretch along the German frontier facing France, Switzerland, and the Netherlands.

Germany received Premier Mussolini's Turin speech with great satisfaction. The nation was particularly pleased by Il Duce's promise to march with Germany for what the Italian dictator described as the peace of Europe.

Angry at Turkey.

This, however, did not completely console Nazi officials for the so-called defection of Turkey.

"Turkey made herself a vassal of England by signing a pact [mutual assistance] with London," Nazis said.

Influential circles said that Germany will take energetic measures against Turkey to punish her for reaching an agreement with Great Britain.

GIANT OAK TREE FALLS ON CROWD; 2 DIE, MANY HURT

Visalia, Cal., May 14.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and many injured near here today when a huge oak tree toppled into a recreation grove where many groups were enjoying Mother's day outings. Witnesses said the tree broke off 20 feet above the ground.

The dead were Mrs. Dale King of Dinuba and Cecil Griffis of Lindsay.

Dorothy Bishop, 12 years old, suffered a skull fracture. She, her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Bishop, and George Smith were kept at the hospital for treatment of head injuries.

Polish Military Chief on Way for Talks with French Allies

WARSAW, May 14.—(AP)—War Minister Gen. Tadeusz Kasprzycki left for Paris today on what was described officially as a private business trip, but it was believed he would have important consultations with French military and political leaders.

Gen. Kasprzycki.

Gen. Kasprzycki not only holds the war portfolio but has continued in active service as one of Poland's most prominent military leaders.

Observers said they believed his trip to France was connected closely with Poland's alignment in the British-French front and that he would discuss details of the military assistance which has been guaranteed to Poland in event she found it necessary to resort to war in defense of her independence and territorial integrity.

Expect Talks with Russia.

Continuance of Russian-Polish talks aimed at improved relations were considered likely in the developing European situation.

There were reports that Miroslav Arciszewski, undersecretary of foreign affairs, would go to Moscow before long to return the Warsaw visit of Vladimir P. Potemkin, soviet first assistant foreign commissar.

Under her recent trade agreement with Russia, Poland is receiving a quantity of raw materials essential to the manufacture of munitions.

As an example of improvement in soviet-Polish relations, indicated by the visit of Potemkin and the appointment of Nicholas Sharanov as the new soviet ambassador to Warsaw, there has been a complete cessation of the intermittent attacks on Russia in the Polish press.

Resent Action in Danzig.

Polish newspapers continued to express resentment over recent events in the Free City of Danzig, including the Danzig senate's failure to grant permission to Danzig Poles for an observance of the fourth anniversary of the death of Marshal Josef Pilsudski.

The newspaper Goniez Warszawski complained of "a continuous movement of Hitlerite groups into Danzig from East Prussia" and stated larger groups would arrive there tomorrow.

Regarding reports that Germany was planning a plebiscite in Danzig, the newspaper Kurjer Polski asserted the Danziger Vorposten now was printing large numbers of ballot slips with inscriptions "Yes" and "No."

VENGEANCE CLEW PROBED IN RAZOR ATTACK ON NURSE

Police yesterday continued their search for a Negro who slashed Miss Marcella Miles, a nurse at the North Chicago Community hospital, with a razor last Thursday. The attack occurred as she was about to enter the hospital at 2551 North Clark street. Detectives believed that the assailant would be found among the former associates of Edward Perkins, who is now serving a sentence of one to fourteen years for attacking Miss Miles with a razor two years ago. He threatened her when he was found guilty in the Criminal court.

AWAIT RUSSIAN REPLY TO BRITISH PACT PROPOSALS

Believe Soviet Will Join Front Against Nazis.

LONDON, May 14.—(AP)—A Russian reply early this week to Britain's latest plan for collaboration between London and Moscow was expected tonight to advance the British-French front another step toward winning a new ally.

There was no intimation here as to what the soviet answer in the front negotiations would be but British circles were hopeful that Moscow would give up original demands for a hard and fast military alliance.

Whether or not Russia offers important concessions, however, it was regarded as certain that an agreement would be reached soon, adding the soviet union to the British-French front which already includes Poland, Rumania, Greece, and Turkey.

May Make Concessions.

As a result of political demands, Prime Minister Chamberlain was reported ready to make further concessions to soviet Russia. Informed sources said he was prepared to go to almost any length short of an outright military alliance to bring her into the British-French bloc. Some quarters here even urged that the government meet Moscow's terms, whatever they were.

Diplomatic circles, however, saw little likelihood of an agreement between London and Moscow before the league of nations council meeting opening at Geneva on May 22, when the British and French foreign ministers, Viscount Halifax and Georges Bonnet, will have an opportunity to talk with Vladimir P. Potemkin, Russian first assistant foreign commissar.

Bonnet left by plane for Paris after a brief visit to England for a speech yesterday at Southampton, in which he declared British-French relations were "never closer."

To Study Palestine Question.

Britain, meanwhile, prepared to take up one of her most troublesome non-European problems—Palestine.

The government was expected to announce its plans for the future of the Holy Land Tuesday in the house of commons and issue a long awaited white paper.

There was no official comment on Premier Mussolini's speech at Turin, Italy, in which he asserted that "war" was being waged on economic ground against the Rome-Berlin axis powers.

Belief was expressed in some quarters that Il Duce was referring to Britain's new trade agreement with Rumania, opening British credits to the Rumanian government.

Seek Trade Pact with Greece.

But if that were so, it had no effect on Britain's efforts to extend her trade into southeastern Europe. Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, who concluded the agreement in Bucharest, was in Athens today ready to open negotiations with Greece.

At the same time, it was announced at Istanbul that the Turkish government had granted British concerns a contract for 300 railway cars costing approximately $2,340,000.

The reaction in diplomatic circles to Mussolini's speech was that it was pacific and moderate.

IRISH PREMIER'S AID TO ATTEND RALLY IN CHICAGO

Sean T. O'Kelly, deputy prime minister of Ireland, will arrive in Chicago this week to attend the International Irish congress, which opens Thursday in the Morrison hotel. Delegates of Irish descent from twenty-eight states and Canada will attend the congress. O'Kelly, who will make the principal address, is the personal representative of Eamon De Valera, Irish prime minister, who canceled his trip to the congress.

PALESTINE JEWS LAY PLANS TO COMBAT BRITAIN'S NEW POLICY

JERUSALEM, May 14.—(AP)—Jewish leaders were reported today to be drafting the most drastic plans they ever have proposed in an effort to defeat Britain's expected new policy for Palestine. Reliable sources here expressed the belief that Britain might put its new plan for an Arab state with a Jewish minority into effect immediately after its publication and said Jews would make every effort to prevent what they generally believe will mean the end of Palestine as their national home.

David Ben Gurion, chairman of the Palestine Jewish agency executive, met with Jewish leaders from all over the Holy Land to consider the plans.

All illegal Jewish immigrants in concentration camps at Haifa and Sarafand have been released and their numbers are being deducted from forthcoming Jewish immigration schedules. The government also began releasing Arabs detained in military camps during British army maneuvers.

BALK AT GERMAN DEMAND FOR BIG COSTA RICA PORT

Steamship Lines Press for More Facilities.

(Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.)

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 14.—Pressure is being brought on the government to induce the granting of a contract to a German company to enlarge the facilities at the Pacific port of Puntarenas. This was indicated by the attitude of steamship companies in respect to the present temporary congestion of that port.

Arrow locates port of Puntarenas.

The German company has offered to finance the work, using German materials and technicians. The Germans also are interested in the proposed canalization of Tortuguero Lagun on the Atlantic coast.

Leaves Coffee Unloaded.

The Hapag Lloyd ship Jersbeck recently left a consignment of coffee unloaded and later informed the consignors it was "due to complete lack of facilities for handling ships at the pier."

Steamship companies are reported threatening to increase freight rates at Puntarenas because of the delays. Ricardo Pacheco, minister of public works, in an interview pointed out that the congestion is temporary and due to the heavy shipments of rails and other equipment for the government railway and for the United Fruit company, which is opening large banana plantations on the Pacific slope.

Sees Piers Adequate.

Improvement of the railway is more urgent, he said, than extending the pier at Puntarenas, and explained that the port facilities are sufficient for normal trafic.

"In all this affair," he says, "there is the persistent desire of a certain steamship company that additional piers be built."

It is believed the minister referred to the Hapag Lloyd which has been the leader in the demands for a larger pier. In reference to the threat of an increase in freight rates the minister said such action will force the government to take such measures as are necessary to protect exporters and merchants.

GELDMACHER RITES AT CHADWICK.

Chadwick, Ill., May 14.—[Special.]—Funeral services were held today for Mrs. Mary Geldmacher, 76 years old. Born on a farm one mile south of here, she lived in this locality all her life. She died Friday, leaving two daughters and two sons.

MADRID ORDERS PRICES CUT TO PRE-WAR LEVEL

Franco Seeks to Ferret Out Profiteers.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, May 14.—In a new effort to kill profiteering the Madrid civil government today ordered all restaurants and cafés to return to the prices charged before the outbreak of the civil war. Each establishment must have a printed price list available to customers.

Despite exemplary fines imposed recently—Madrid's most popular café, the Aquarium, was fined $250 last week—restaurant owners have been boosting prices until a simple luncheon costs at least $2.

The government intends to put an end to that, and throughout Spain strict measures are being taken to prevent any effort to get rich quick on the post-war boom.

May Adjust Prices Later.

The program calls for a reduction in prices to the pre-war level, after which permission will be given for necessary increases to give shopkeepers and others a fair profit.

The civil governor of each province has charge of the war on profiteers and the commission on food supply investigates the complaints. The record fine to date was imposed in Malaga where a wholesaler was fined $20,000 for selling food above the official prices.

In most provinces even failure to post prices publicly is an offense bringing a fine of as much as $100.

The trouble is not entirely with the restaurant and café owners. Food prices are sky high compared with prewar levels. Coffee is not obtainable by the ordinary Madrid citizen nor is rice or beans. Restaurants serving them must bring their own supplies from the outside and even when they have real coffee it is usually adulterated with roasted malt.

Only Mutton Available.

What bothers Spanish residents is that mutton is the only meat available on many days and the cost is 40 cents a pound, against about 12 cents before the war. Chickens which could be bought before the war for 40 to 70 cents, now cost $1.50 to $3 and the birds are of poor quality. Ham is $1.50 a pound. Cheese now costs 70 cents a pound and butter 75 cents against 40 cents before the war. Bananas, which used to be about 4 cents a pound, now are 14 cents, and string beans, instead of 3 cents a pound, cost 15 cents. Green vegetables are extremely scarce.

Spanish workers find the prices pretty stiff for their income of 50 cents to $1 a day.

Cigarets and tobacco are obtainable again though it is impossible to get imported brands.

Thief Tiptoes Through Her Tulips; Cops Are Called

Were YOU Interviewed?

WE DECIDED, recently, to find out exactly what people want and look for when they buy a car in LaSalle's price range. So we had an independent research organization interview thousands of owners. The results were most gratifying, because what most people want is performance. And that's where LaSalle's superiority is greatest! In fact, LaSalle's Cadillac V-8 engine is so outstandingly smooth, quiet and responsive that almost half the people who try LaSalle promptly buy it. We'd like to have you ride out the reasons. Just name the time!

PRE-MARRIAGE EXAMINATIONS

With separate departments for men and women, the Public Health Institute is especially well fitted to make the medical tests which the law requires every couple to have before a marriage license can be obtained. A thorough physical examination, including all necessary laboratory tests, costs $3.00 per person. Those examined before 2 P.M. (at 159 or 169 N. Dearborn St.) can have certificates same day.

Don't be numbered among the thousands to die this year of neglected venereal infections, but visit your doctor or this reliable clinic!

EVERY year many thousands of comparatively young men and women have their lives cut short by the disastrous complications resulting from neglected or improperly treated venereal diseases.

And needlessly, too, for syphilis and gonorrhea can almost always be cured when competent medical treatment is started in time and continued faithfully!

Therefore, if you know or suspect that you have a venereal infection, don't deliberately invite early death by neglecting it or trying to cure it yourself. For unless you secure proper medical attention at once, consequences of a dreadful nature may easily occur.

Neglected or improperly treated syphilis, for example, may cause you to drop dead of a heart attack, bring about the loss of sight or hearing, lead to a stroke of paralysis or apoplexy, or result in a nervous breakdown that may end in insanity! And neglected or improperly treated gonorrhea may cause a sight-destroying eye infection, sterility, stricture, crippling arthritis, or serious prostate, bladder, kidney and other troubles!

Secure tests of cure!

Thus you can see how vitally important it is to have reliable medical treatment—followed by dependable tests of cure! Such treatment and tests can be had from any capable private doctor, or you can get them inexpensively at the Public Health Institute.

The physicians of the Institute are unusually thorough in making their tests of cure. Syphilis patients receive three different types of blood tests, including spinal fluid examinations when necessary, while gonorrhea patients get repeated microscopic smears. In addition, searching physical examinations are made to rule out other evidences of infection.

Having given more than 5,000,000 examinations and treatments for syphilis and gonorrhea since 1920, the Public Health Institute is qualified to render a medical service of the finest possible type. It is doubtful if money can buy more expert venereal disease attention than that which the Institute affords at low cost!

No one is turned away!

Because the Public Health Institute was organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, it is able to provide specialized venereal disease treatment at charges to fit the smallest income. The cost of a physical examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, including blood tests, urinalysis and microscopic smears, is amazingly moderate, while individual treatments are available at fees so low that any employed person can readily pay them.

Nor does the Public Health Institute stop there in its efforts to make dependable venereal disease treatment available to the entire community. Even persons who are temporarily short of money can make arrangements to be cared for!

DANFORTH HOPES HE WILL LOSE IN BENCH ELECTION

Asserts Name's on Ballot Without Consent.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Watseka, Ill., May 14.—[Special.]—Herman W. Danforth of Danforth is a political anomaly in the judicial battle in the 12th circuit. He is on the Democratic ticket, but he is a candidate who says he does not want the voters to vote for him.

Danforth, it appears, was put in the battle against his will as running mate for Judge Edwin L. Wilson of Joliet, who roused the wrath of Joliet officials in 1936 by enjoining raids on slot machines in Will county.

Three Circuit judges are elected in each district. In the 12th the Democrats nominated Judge Wilson, Samuel Shapiro of Kankakee, and Wilfred S. Kay of Watseka. But Kay and Shapiro did not choose to run on the Wilson ticket and withdrew.

Urge Danforth to Run.

To fill the vacancies the Democratic bosses picked William J. Parrish of Momence and Mr. Danforth. A delegation, including Judge Wilson, drove down to the village of Danforth, and urged Danforth to run.

Danforth, now retired from law practice, has been active in agriculture. He was an early official of the Illinois Agricultural association, for years was head of federal land banks in Missouri, is a close friend of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, and apparently the group deemed him an acquisition to the ticket who might pull a strong farm vote. The town of Danforth was named after his father.

Decides Against Running.

Danforth told the group he did not want to run. He was enjoying life on his farmstead and his flower gardens. With a rose to his nose he insisted he was not interested. The delegation asked him to sleep on the proposal and telephone his answer in the morning. He agreed. Thereupon, he says, Patrick D. Fahey, Joliet real estate operator, a friend of Wilson, remarked it was a long drive from Joliet to Danforth and it would save time and trouble if Danforth would sign a certification on the understanding it would not be filed unless he approved it next day. Danforth signed on the dotted line.

Next morning he called up and said he had decided definitly not to run. Danforth as a college lad was on the University of Michigan track team and went to the Olympic games of 1900, but some one had outrun him, for next day he read in THE TRIBUNE, his nomination had been filed at Springfield.

Name On Anyway.

Danforth at once sent affidavits to the county clerks setting forth particulars of the matter and demanding his name be kept off the ballot. But it had been certified and so it will be printed on the Democratic ticket. Danforth himself says he may go to New York to visit his daughter June 1, just before election, and that he is not seeking any votes.

Democrats say Danforth was drafted; others say it looks more as if he was shanghaled.

Iroquois county, normally Republican, seems torn among the four slates that are in the field with a total of eleven candidates. Four of the eleven are from Iroquois. Elmer Taylor of Watseka, state's attorney, is running on a People's ticket and is reported to be showing strength.

Saum on Another Ticket.

Judge Claude N. Saum, of Watseka, incumbent, a Democrat, declined to run on the Wilson Democratic ticket. He desired a coalition that would give him a place on the Republican ticket. When this fell through the judge filed on a non-partisan ticket. The Republican candidate from this county is Roscoe C. South, who for 25 years was the law associate of Fred P. Morris of Watseka. Judge Saum is expected to roll up a large vote in his home county, and so is Taylor.

Iroquois is the smallest county in the district. Last November it cast a total vote of 14,968. Kankakee cast 23,669 votes; Will county 49,412 votes. Will county has more votes than the other two combined.

Republicans here and in Joliet and Kankakee expect the political swing of last year to continue in the judicial election. In 1936 Roosevelt carried the district by 6,080. Last November, Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for senator, had a plurality of 12,373 in the district.

Held in Shooting

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. CLAIRE DUNANT.

Mrs. Claire Dunant was held at the detective bureau yesterday in connection with the shooting Saturday night of her husband, Edward, owner of a tavern at 332 South Western avenue. Dunant was shot in the liver and right arm while he and his wife were struggling for possession of a revolver during a domestic dispute. He is in the County hospital. When police led Mrs. Dunant from her apartment she kicked Sergt. John Racek down a flight of stairs. He suffered shoulder and rib injuries and was taken to the Presbyterian hospital.

Pilot Flies from Omaha to Discuss Air Show Plans

Pilot Raymond Niles flew from Omaha yesterday to the Chicago airport to learn about plans for the second amateur air show, which will be held June 25 at Curtis-Reynolds field near Glenview. Niles was greeted by Robert A. Morrow, co-director with Pat Sweeney of the show, and Miss Dorothy Ring, a girl pilot. Niles plans to lead a fleet of thirty planes here from Omaha several days before the show.

COURT PROGRESS UNDER SITTING JUDGES HAILED

Co-Chairmen of Democrat Slate Issue Statement.

A new statement of the issue in the June 5 judicial election as the nominees on the Democratic ticket see it was presented yesterday in a statement issued by Judges Cornelius J. Harrington and Hugo M. Friend, co-chairmen of the group.

"The paramount issue in the campaign," read this declaration, "is whether the electorate desires to re-elect sitting judges whose records have repeatedly been approved by the people and to fill vacancies with men of high legal attainment as certified by the Chicago bar.

Crime Capital Stigma Banished.

"Not many years ago Chicago was publicized as the crime capital of the world. The criminal court calendar in 1928 showed 1,800 indictments pending. About 900 were in the county jail awaiting trial. Long delays made it difficult to obtain convictions.

"Judges of the Circuit and Superior courts proceeded to remedy this situation by three principal measures.

"They first made a test case of a law which had been enforced for 100 years. This law made it impossible for the defendant to waive trial by jury in a felony case. The statute was invalidated and this made it possible for a large percentage of the defendants to be tried by the court with a consequent saving of much time.

"Then they obtained a modification of the statute which made the jury the judge of the law as well as of the facts.

Had Public Defender Named.

"The third was the appointment of a public defender. Upward of 75 per cent of the defendants in the Criminal court are now represented by the public defender, and as many as eight or ten cases are disposed of by a single judge in the course of a day.

"Pending indictments were reduced to sixty-five at the close of the Criminal court year in 1938, and only about forty men were confined to the county jail awaiting trial."

The Republican nominees will meet at their La Salle hotel headquarters this afternoon.

CHICAGO G-MAN CHIEF SILENT ON RUMOR OF NEW YORK TRANSFER

It was reported last night that Daniel M. Ladd, head of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation of the department of justice, is to move to New York in a week or two.

Whether he is to take up new federal duties there was not indicated. Ladd refused to comment. "I can say nothing at this time," he said. Department of justice officials in Washington, D. C., could not be reached.

Ladd has been head of the Chicago G-men office since July, 1935, when he succeeded Melvin H. Purvis, famed as the man who spectacularly ended the career of John Dillinger. He had been second in command to Purvis. Ladd is a graduate of the law school of George Washington university. He is 36 years old and the son of the late United States Senator Edwin F. Ladd of North Dakota.

Suspended Policeman Faces Tavern Killing Trial Today

John P. Welch, suspended policeman, is scheduled to go to trial today in the Criminal court on a charge of manslaughter. On March 2 Welch shot and killed John McDonald during a quarrel in a tavern at 1129 East 43d street. McDonald lived at 9157 Loomis street. Welch, 44 years old, lives at 4700 Drexel boulevard.

FOSTER APPEALS TO COMMUNISTS TO DEFEAT G. O. P.

Says Reds Can't Afford to Let Democrats Lose.

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—William Z. Foster, national chairman of the American communist party, warned the 650 delegates to the young communists league convention here today that they could not afford to let the Republican party triumph over the Democrats.

Foster's pronouncement was in a vein similar to that of Earl Browder, general secretary and guiding head of the communist party in this country, who advocated a third term for President Roosevelt in a speech before the young communists last week.

"It would be a great illusion to think that the Republican party will maintain the social legislation of President Roosevelt's administration," said Foster today. "On the contrary, the Republicans, if they should come to power, will pattern themselves after Hitler and Mussolini."

Describing the 1940 presidential election as the most important in American history, Foster urged the young communists to get into the fight, for youth "has the most to gain and the most to lose."

He said the New Deal was a step in the right direction, but called for even bolder steps to break what he termed the sabotage of the big industrialists and put the people back to work.

Long Dominated Reds.

Foster has been communist candidate for President of the United States three times and he dominated the affairs of the red party in the United States until a few years ago when ill health compelled him to turn the reins over to Browder.

Foster was expelled from the Socialist party for revolutionary activities in 1909 and he came into national prominence in 1918 as leader of the great steel strike.

In 1922 he was tried on a charge of criminal syndicalism but was freed by a hung jury.

FIVE ARRESTED ON ADVERTISING FRAUD CHARGES

Five men were arrested yesterday for investigation on charges of passing bogus checks and selling fake advertising contracts in a nonexistent labor magazine and "Police 1313," the official police publication of Chicago.

Those arrested are John O'Donnell, 8235 Laflin street, a brother of Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, prohibition beer runner; John J. Casey, 3454 North avenue; John Blanchard, 3943 Arthington street; Neil Woudt, 28 East 111th place, and Charles McKenna, 8816 Aberdeen street. Police said complaints about the activities of the group had been received from Franklin Park, Maywood, and as far north as McHenry.

A PROGRAM FOR JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

I.—JURISDICTION.

The pattern of juvenile crime in Chicago has been pretty well established by recent scandals at the St. Charles School for Boys and disclosures of the extent to which maladministration of the Juvenile court act contributes to those scandals.

This local picture is a piece of the national picture. The great amount of crime in this country is caused by the alliance of crime and politics. In every field, but in that of juvenile crime particularly, this alliance works under the mantle of the professional social worker. Pretended munificence shelters crime. Too great a proportion of the professional social workers, male and female, have earned the title of sob sisters. When they plead sincerity, as they do, they merely assert that they are fooling themselves along with a considerable part of the public.

The Juvenile court is shielding youthful criminals from deserved punishment. The sob sister social workers have usurped power in the court to mold it to their theories. Frequent demonstrations of the fallacy of those theories does not dim the obstinacy with which they are pushed. In rare instances when a young criminal receives adequate punishment he may still look to the professional social workers to obtain for him the perverted mercy of a political parole board.

This evil system can be stopped if the Criminal court will reassert its constitutional jurisdiction over young offenders. The function of that court is to punish offenses against the law. The Juvenile court does not inflict punishment. It is a civil court. Its function, in dealing with juvenile offenders, is to prevent their adopting crime as a vocation.

The Juvenile court gets jurisdiction over young criminals through the statutory definition of a juvenile delinquent. This is a shotgun definition. In addition to conduct that violates no statute, it covers every offense from swearing in a schoolyard to murder.

The Criminal court's jurisdiction is over all criminal offenders, regardless of age, and is superior to that of the Juvenile court. The Supreme court has said that no other court can usurp the Criminal court's constitutional power, nor can the legislature limit it. It has said specifically that the civil jurisdiction of the Juvenile court cannot be used to shield young criminals from the consequence of their crimes. Some social workers, seeing their racket threatened, have protested against these decisions, but their protests are not convincing.

Actually, there is no serious conflict in jurisdiction. The Juvenile court has power, used too infrequently at present, to send offenders to the Criminal court. It is used too infrequently because social workers have got control of the sorting gate. Using the shotgun definition of juvenile delinquency as a tool, they demand that virtually every young criminal, no matter how vicious his offense, be subjected to their dubious and unsuccessful process of redemption instead of being sent to the Criminal court to account for his crime.

The remedy is for the Criminal court to take effective control of the sorting gate as a means of effecting its constitutional jurisdiction. It may be taken for granted that the sob sister school of social workers and their friends will oppose violently any such plan. Such protests, not infrequent in the past, partake of the same false claim to superior morality that characterized the prohibitionists.

The social workers need to be reminded that they are not the sole repositories of wisdom and mercy. They will have little success in painting the judges of the Criminal court as sadists. Those judges are not going to lock up 14 and 15 year old offenders with hardened criminals, as the social workers try to make the public believe whenever their own hold is threatened.

Judges assigned to the Criminal court are almost without exception just and conscientious men. They are as anxious as any social worker could be that young offenders shall not become habitual criminals. They will approach their task with as great discretion and humanitarianism as may be expected of any social worker, but with far wider experience and sense of responsibility than is shown by the majority of that tribe.

The details of a plan under which the Criminal court can exercise its constitutional jurisdiction over young offenders, to the end that the public may be protected immediately from their depredations and at the same time safeguarded, so far as is possible, from their becoming habitual criminals, will be discussed later.

A BAD REPEALER.

The Illinois legislature passed a law requiring three-day notice of intention to marry before the ceremony could be performed. That law is intended to stop gin marriages, which were scandalizing the rites, vulgarizing the issuance of licenses, enriching disreputable marrying magistrates, and later filling the courts with divorce actions which never should have been in court because there never should have been a marriage.

Later the legislature passed another wise law requiring medical examination before a license could be issued. Now it is proposed in the legislature that because of the second law the first should be repealed. The excuse is that the law requiring the medical certificate makes the other law unnecessary. The bill would seem to be solely in the interest of the gin mill magistrates and officials who profit from the drunken marriages, and of the divorce lawyers. It has already been suggested that unethical medical practitioners could add a fourth to this set-up and the purpose of the legislation would be defeated. The reason given for the repeal of the three-day law is no good and it should not prevail.

MR. BROWDER'S "MY FRIENDS."

Earl Browder, the general secretary of the American communist party, opening the convention of the young communists' league in Madison Square Garden, New York, last week, said that the hope of the American revolution was in the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt.

The leftists, he said, "must look for a victory of the New Deal wing in the Democratic convention or, failing that, face the alternative of break-up, dispersal, and defeat without a fight, or the launching of a new party of their own."

Mr. Roosevelt is the choice of the communist party on his record. That choice is not made by Mr. Browder as an individual or even as the head of the American communists. Independent decisions of such a political nature are not made in the communist organization here. They are made in Moscow, where the party line is determined. Mr. Browder sends frequent reports of progress to the home office and receives his instructions there.

People who still doubt that a sympathetic bond exists between the American government and the Russian soviet dictatorship choose not to permit the facts themselves to speak. It is natural that there should be incredulity. Facts sometimes are easily dismissed or discounted. They can be too strange for acceptance. A person may be unable to perceive them because they represent what he has believed all his life to be impossible.

It may not seem possible that the head of the American government should be so committed to some of the principles and procedure of the communist dictatorship that he would be endorsed by that dictatorship and supported by the communists in the United States, acting through their political organization.

Mr. Roosevelt, trying to take the center of the world stage as the defender of democracy and the enemy of the dictators, exchanges compliments and felicitations with Stalin. In his administration members of the communist party and persons who go a great deal more than half way with them have obtained positions of importance. They have great influence. They are not only in government positions but they have commanding influence in many of the C. I. O. organizations which Mr. Roosevelt supports against the conservative labor leadership of the country.

Mr. Browder knows his way about. He knows the friends of communism. He knows where its greatest opportunities are to be found and he knows the line by which it can hope to advance with the least opposition and the greatest chance of success. He knows that without Mr. Roosevelt, without the third term, communism will be forced to retreat into the obscure cells in which it was contained before Mr. Roosevelt was elected.

Browder knows that if Mr. Roosevelt could have a third term, if the destructive policies of the New Deal could be given four years more of life and of operation, then the economic and political consequences in the United States would be so disastrous that private enterprise, capitalism, the institution of private property, the profit system, and the free enterprises of a free people might be destroyed. These institutions would collapse and the only substitute for them would be the dictatorial state which under Mr. Roosevelt, in Mr. Browder's opinion, would be communist.

That is the revolutionary program for the United States as he sees it and that is why he supports a third term for Mr. Roosevelt.

REMEMBERING LANIER.

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

A concerted effort is to be made this month to support the candidacy of Sidney Lanier for the Hall of Fame. The poet-musician's composition, "Danse des Moucherons," known as the Gnat Symphony, will be played at a Lanier program to be held in the Museum of Art on May 18; one of his poems will be read with musical accompaniment, and a string quartet will interpret Edward Litchfield Turnbull's "A Melody from Lanier's Flute."

Most of the pictures of the poet, published in collections and anthologies, show him with a full beard and are practically indistinguishable from the pictures of Stonewall Jackson. Actually, as a soldier-poet he was a beardless, spiritual looking youth—old daguerreotypes show this—who packed his flute along with him when he went off to the civil war and who, when a prisoner, consoled his spirit with its magic notes. If the Lanierians will take a friendly hint, they will dig up one of those old pictures of the young poet and have good reproductions made. Judicially distributed, these pictures would win a vast amount of support for their poet.

Lanier died tragically young, but it cannot be said of him [as, unhappily it can with complete justice be said of Poe] that Baltimore let him starve. He came here from his native Georgia, his lungs already ravaged by the illness that was to claim him, and obtained positions as English lecturer at the Johns Hopkins university and as first flute in the Peabody orchestra. During his last years here he composed some of his best work and expounded his views of music and poetry. Any one who has ever read his "Song of the Chattahoochee" will agree that he was a master of alliterative, tone-color verse. In that he was what Ezra Pound would call a "hippety-hop o' the accents." But he was much more than a skilled and graceful versifier. At his best he is the equal of Poe; moreover, he never wrote [or at any rate never published] anything as banal as the worst of Poe. Though some of his poems have an overplus of vague or meaningless mysticism, they are all musically clear.

Lanier's reputation does not need bolstering by his inclusion in the Hall of Fame; it only deserves its rightful place.

VOCABULARY TROUBLES.

The applicant for a job as housemaid was being interviewed by the employment agent, and was asked if she had any preference as to the kind of family she would like to work for.

"Any kind," she said, "except highbrows."

"You don't like to work for highbrows?"

"You bet I don't," she said. "I worked for a pair of 'em once—and never again. Him and her was fighting all the time, and it kept me running back and forth from the keyhole to the dictionary 'til I was worn to a frazzle."—Telephone Topics.

SHADOWS OF HISTORY.

You can find more clews to history in the former Camp Douglas region, focussing at 35th street and Cottage Grove avenue, than in any other limited area in Chicago. At 35th, overlooking the Illinois Central tracks and the lake, south of Douglas monument park, there stands the Catholic Home for the Friendless. The eastern half of this structure was a military hospital during the civil war. Two blocks south, on 37th street at Lake Park avenue, you may see a deserted old frame building which looks like a series of attached houses. It was a barracks for the medical staff and nurses of that hospital.

* * *

Now read what Fred A. Ebersold, son of Chief of Police Ebersold of the Haymarket riot time, writes from California about this region:

"I went to the old Douglas school in 1882 and to the old South Division High school in 1883. My favorite walk was around the Camp Douglas district, from the castlelike building of the old University of Chicago to the monument. Here my father had left for the civil war.

"Here the future African explorer, Henry M. Stanley, was held as a confederate prisoner after the battle of Shiloh, later joining the Union army. On Sept. 6, 1866, so my folks told me, the Douglas monument corner stone was laid, and in the square were President Johnson, Secretaries Seward and Welles, Generals Grant and Meade, and Admiral Farragut. Across the street on 35th was one of the buildings of 'Soldiers' Rest,' which had been used by civil war men.

* * *

"Near by lived Melville W. Fuller, later chief justice of the United States. Another resident was Dr. J. C. Burroughs, first president of the old university. A few blocks south, on Lake avenue, was the home of ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull. [Lincoln was often a guest there; house still standing and in use; tablet.] On 31st street, near Calumet avenue, lived the widow and daughter of Col. Mulligan of the famous Mulligan guards. [Buried in Calvary; monument near entrance.]

"There should be a marker on Cottage Grove avenue to show the site of the old camp entrance. It was from the cottages in the monument neighborhood that this street got its name."

PRELUDE TO THE PROM.

He goes, wings on his heels, a cloud for a collar,
To buy some blooms for his prom "date" to wear,
Sweet peas in a corsage are but a dollar—
He fingers of his silver—would he dare
To ask the florist what gardenias cost,
Or would some dainty rosebuds do as well?

She knows there's not a moment to be lost.
Her pulchritude will need some time to jell,
With t-enty curls to set, and things to press,
And how she hopes those slippers will not hurt,
And that his flowers will go with her dress;
Good grief—sweet peas would make it look like dirt.

Fret not, my friends, tonight she'll dance on air;
A beauty with gardenias in her hair.

Tom Chekouras.

Catching Up with Ketchup.

How do you like your tomato sauce—as catsup, catchup, or ketchup? And which word is the original form? Well, maybe you'll be as surprised as we were to learn that ketchup is the most ancient and honorable member of this family. The word comes from the Malayan kêchap, which probably had a Chinese ancestor.

Its origin in English usage? In our mind's eye we see nabobs of the East India company, returned to London, hot tempered, liverish old fellows with fat pensions, roaring around their clubs for oriental foods, and handing the cook recipes that they had learned in the outposts of empire. English novels are full of such types; see Jos. Sedley, and his fondness for curries, in "Vanity Fair."

The Castles of Park Manor.

Regarding the mystery of Keefe castle [May 9]: I can show you a plat of the subdivision called Park Manor which was drawn up by Mr. Keefe more than sixty years ago. He built the red castle [recently razed] at 69th street and Anthony avenue, and hoped to have an artificial lake and gardens to carry out the idea of an old English estate. Then came domestic troubles, and Mr. and Mrs. Keefe parted. He gallantly built another castle for her, directly across the street from his own. Thus they lived as neighbors, although separated, for many years.

Eventually both of the Keefe castles were remodeled into housekeeping rooms. The first castle was deserted in 1932, and vandals carted it away piece by piece.

LIFE'S EBB AND FLOW.

If there had been no suffering,
No loneliness, no pain,
I should have missed the wonder
Of rebirth to health again.

If there had been no parting
With its waiting and its tears
There would have been no rapture
Of reunion after years.

And had there been no barren days
Devoid of song and wing,
I could not sense the miracle
Of hillsides flushed with spring!

Elsie Melchert Fowler.

Rubes on State Street, 1893.

[Clipped from the Story City, Ia., Herald.]

The razing of the old Masonic Temple in Chicago brings to mind an incident of the world's fair era. A bunch of Story City fellows, including George Wiggins, Milt Swan, Hans Dale, Will Kelley, and several others, visited Chicago. Led by Wiggins they "took in everything"—the 10 cent museum on Clark street, the zoo in Lincoln park, the big stores on State street and, of course, the Ferris wheel and the Midway at the fair.

When they came to the Masonic Temple, Wiggins led the "boys" out in the middle of the street and they all took off their hats and leaned backward to get a look at the top of the skyscraper. The street cars had to stop while the rubes got their eyeful.

"Yep," said Wiggins, "I guess it's a little taller than our Iowa corn."

It's about time for Chicago to rediscover the Civic theater, next door to the opera house. Out of the way? Nonsense. One of the diseases of the drama in this town is the rube idea that all theaters should be located within shouting distance of Clark and Randolph streets.

ADVANCES IN THE TREATMENT OF EPILEPSY.

ONE finds a real thrill in discussing a subject dealing with human welfare wherein the spectacular discoveries of science have banished some hitherto widespread disease. It is not so pleasant, however, to describe a malady that has defied the best efforts of medicine. For example, the problem of "falling sickness"—as epilepsy was termed formerly—has not been solved and much remains to be done.

We do know, however, that these unfortunates handle sugars and certain other substances differently from those who are normal. Furthermore, the response of their tissues to large quantities of water or to the restriction of fluids is significant. Some are influenced favorably by a diet high in fat. During the paroxysm—at least momentarily—the brain is deprived of its regular supply of oxygen due in part to the fact that breathing is suspended momentarily.

True epilepsy usually begins about puberty and—unless something is done—continues to progress. As a rule, the symptoms consist of an initial cry, unconsciousness, the fall, rigidity and jerking of the muscles, and finally deep sleep which may last for from one to three hours. With about 50 per cent there is no warning, while with others there is an antecedent series of sensations—all of which the sufferer learns to recognize. A seizure may come quickly or may be delayed by a day or so. The one who becomes unconscious without the slightest indication that trouble is brewing may undergo serious injury because he will fall wherever he is.

Considerable progress has been made in treatment, which includes not only drug therapy but a reconstruction of the victim's social and economic environment. Instructions cover such topics as the avoidance of all excesses of all sorts and strict adherence to a regular régime of rest, diet and exercise. Alcohol is prohibited and the body is placed in the best possible condition to withstand assaults. This includes the removal of foci of infection, careful attention to the bowel, the relief of all forms of nasal irritation, and the shunning of fatigue.

The two chemicals of choice are the bromides and luminal. Although numerous substitutes have been tried, physicians return again and again to these standbys. A precise method of determining the specific proportion of bromine in the blood has led to the accurate utilization of this sedative and many are able to go for months, or even years, on tolerance doses without a single manifestation.

Recently some favorable reports have followed the employment of dilantin [diphenyl hydantoinate], a drug known for its power in controlling convulsions. It proved successful in 62 per cent of a series of trial cases. However, the compound may be responsible for certain toxic effects, even when given in small doses over brief periods. In addition it appears to lower the percentage of vitamin C in the blood with symptoms that simulate scurvy—spongy, swollen, and tender gums. About two-thirds of the patients complained of some dizziness, an unsteady, swaying gait, and spells of great weakness.

Despite the feeding of generous amounts of vitamin C it was impossible to raise the level to normal. In those who did not exhibit the swollen tissues about the teeth the medicine was tolerated unusually well and the control of the disease was more perfect than with luminal or the bromides.

It is not difficult for a layman to recognize a real epileptic convulsion and—other than safeguarding the afflicted person so that he cannot harm himself—nothing is gained by interference. With many there is a tendency to bite the tongue and if some object can be introduced between the jaws so that the teeth cannot meet, this will be avoided. If the attack has occurred in a public place it is well to wait until relaxation comes before attempting to transport the patient.

INTERCOSTAL NEURALGIA.

N. S. writes: What are the symptoms of intercostal neuralgia? Could this condition be mistaken for heart disease?

REPLY.

Pain along the area supplied by the intercostal nerves, which parallel the ribs. In certain cases the distress is in the heart area. Slight twinges are often confused.

DO PIGEONS SPREAD DISEASE?

B. T. writes: Do pigeons spread any diseases? They certainly are a nuisance from the standpoint of filth.

REPLY.

As a rule, they do not. Psittacosis—which is spread by parrots and parakeets—is quite rare.

YES.

W. G. writes: Is sulfanilamide being used in sinus infections?

REPLY.

Yes, if the causative bacteria are of the type which yield to this drug.

USURY.

Chicago, May 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband works for a firm employing several hundred persons.

1. There are several men among these employés who make a practice of loaning money out to others at an interest rate of 10 cents per dollar semi-monthly.

2. My husband found it necessary to get money by this method, and since that time has not been able to pay back the principal, due to the high interest. He has paid so much interest that it has added up to much more than the original loan.

3. Must he keep on paying this interest?

Due to the fact he has paid in interest more than the original amount of the loan, plus more than a legal rate of interest, [4] must he still pay the principal?

5. Can anything be done about this privately, so that no one would lose his job? L. F.

1. This is usury and hence a creditor could not collect more than his principal by court proceedings.

2. If the total of your husband's payments equals the principal, then he need pay no more.

3. See 1 and 2.

4. No.

5. Your husband can refuse to pay and it would be the other parties' next move.

OPEN-AIR READING.

Chicago, May 12.—Why does not Chicago have an open-air branch of the public library in Grant park for the summer months?

It would be a graceful gesture to strangers within our gates besides benefiting those who have no pleasant place to read except the park.

A man tried distributing some old magazines to occupants of the benches a few days ago and reported they were received like $10 bills.

Is there not some voice more powerful than mine to cry aloud in the wilderness and push this project?

MRS. ALLEN SPENCER.

MILK DRIVERS' WORKING CONDITIONS.

Chicago, May 8.—In answer to remarks of Pete Hoban: In the ten years that I was with Borden's no man was ever charged with overrun accounts unless the driver ran them against the instructions of the credit manager. On numerous occasions the officers of the milk wagon drivers' union have gone so far as to cut the account in half.

Further, if Hoban will check he will find that a number of men past their 70s are employed by Borden in various capacities. Regarding cheese, butter and eggs, any one knows that the average route sells a certain amount of these products, but that drives on the routes have long been abolished due to the efforts of the officers of the milk wagon drivers' union. No man is working the long hours claimed by Hoban, for the union contract does not permit any driver to leave before 5:30 a. m., and that man is through by noon, and must be off the street by 3 p. m.

The Borden company may have made over 7 million dollars in the past year throughout the United States, but the company here has had a loss for the past five years. HAROLD MILLER.

DISTRUSTS BANKERS.

Chicago, May 8.—Your editorial on May 5 was 100 per cent truthful on the subject of savings bonds, but you say that money which formerly went into business enterprise is now going to the spenders at Washington.

Experience of most investors is that much of the money invested in industries was lost. This explains why the thrifty saver is no longer going to take the recommendation of the banker or investment house. Until the investor can be convinced that he is dealing with sound propositions he has no intention of purchasing bonds and stocks on the market. He paid for the last period of expansion and does not seek a similar experience. The boys on La Salle street are crying about the S. E. C. and I say—let them cry. P. M.

FACTS ABOUT THE MULE.

Chicago, May 12.—Truly I can say with Solon of Athens that "one grows old learning new things every day." Your Editorial of the Day, May 9, informs me that "the mule has a constitution that is the cumulative result of generations of pulling impossible loads through gumbo, feeding on thistles, enduring blazing sun in August and zero blizzard in January, and absorbing stings of malarial mosquitos and vicious yellow jackets."

Astonishing facts even for a "mule," but there is no "cumulative result of generations," for every mule is the end of its own line of inherited hybrid vigor. Was the above mentioned editorial a hoax or the result of misplaced confidence in Dame Nature? G. B. U.

SAFETY LANE INCOMPETENCE.

Chicago, May 10.—I would be the last man to deprecate any legitimate safety measures designed to reduce accidents on the highway, but I protest the farce that is being conducted in Chicago under the name "Safety Lanes."

I keep my car in excellent mechanical condition to preserve my own life and the welfare of my passengers. I can produce at any time a certificate from the garage where my car is serviced. Furthermore, I would not object at all to putting my car through the city testing lane for further check if the job could be done under four hours and the tests be made by competent men.

The manner in which these lanes are being handled is a scandal in a country that still maintains some semblance of democracy. The delays, discourtesy, surly treatment, and gross incompetency savor strongly of some of the better known dictatorships.

No laboring man, salaried employé, or business man has the time nor should be asked to wait hours in line to get a ten minute check. Is there any reason why the city could not maintain several of these free testing lanes for those who have the time to wait in line and then in addition authorize a number of accredited, reputable garages, which already have all the necessary equipment, to do the same work and issue the same sticker certificate for a covering fee of 50 cents or even a dollar?

I know of several cases where stickers have been refused because of alleged defects in brakes, lights, or wheel alignment and later the most competent garage mechanics could not find any trouble or remedy what was declared to be at fault. Later the same cars were driven through other testing lanes and passed without question.

Another car costing $35 was put through the lane and passed without challenge, when any one knows that a used car worth only $35 is a menace and a hazard on the highway, sticker or no sticker. R. S. WILLIAMS.

AN EASY SOLUTION.

Chicago, May 12.—Many old people are in need of homes. Many private homes wish to adopt children. Workers in orphanages do not wish to give up the children for fear of losing their jobs.

Why not turn the orphanages into old people's homes?

For every child taken into a private home, let the orphanage take an old person in its place. Then every one will be happy. Q. E. D.

WINNERS IN THE DERBY.

Chicago, May 12.—In yesterday's TRIBUNE, Mr. T. R. Cravens asks who won the Kentucky Derby, Rose of Washington Square or Tyrone Power. Like Mr. Craven, I had considerable difficulty in separating facts from the hooey on that broadcast. I, however, did manage to get the names of the winners of the Derby. They were, Twentieth Century Fox, first; Rose of Washington Square, second, and Al Jolson, third.

O. F. ROBERTS.

THE NAZI ARMY.

Chicago, May 10.—May a professional military man who has been afforded an excellent opportunity for first hand observation offer a comment in connection with the question, much discussed in your columns, of American intervention in the coming war?

It is unnecessary. Germany could not win a war against France and England alone, even with the dubious assistance of Italy. The German army is defective both as regards equipment and personnel. The German invasion of Austria was a complete debacle, revealing faulty organization, technique, and mechanical breakdown. Small as the Austrian army was, it could have inflicted one or two heavy defeats upon the bungling Prussians before being overwhelmed, but the political leader, Dr. Schuschnigg, would not accept responsibility for bloodshed. Czecho-Slovakia could have defended herself successfully until the fall of Austria left her flank open; the Czechs had not fortified their Austrian frontier adequately, knowing they had nothing to fear from independent Austria.

Germany is incapable of defeating a major power. The strength of the German army in the last war was its aristocratic officers' corps, founded upon a tradition and consciousness of faithful service and professional devotion. Self-seeking opportunists of no ability characterize the officer class today. The best military minds have been purged and inefficient amateurs hold the high commands. Technically the army is handicapped because of the country's economic weakness. The military forces can expect neither the material nor moral support of the nation for any length of time.

American intervention is superfluous, although it would hasten the German debacle.

While I share the detestation for anonymous contributors to opinion, in view of the fact that my aged parents remain in Austria at the mercy of the Nazis, to whom my family is known unfavorably as anti-German anyway, I must in this case request that my name be withheld if you should be pleased to publish this communication. EX-AUSTRIAN OFFICER.

THE CHURCH AND DIVORCE.

Chicago, May 13.—Apropos of the discussion over the archbishop of Canterbury's attitude toward Edward VIII. and a divorcé, the archbishop is head of the Church of England which Henry VIII. started when the Catholic church would not allow him to divorce his wife and marry Anne Boleyn. I cannot see what awful affront divorce can be to a religion which would never have existed except for divorce. HENRY E. CLAY.

TRENCHES FOR THE FOUR BOYS.

Chicago, May 9.—I'm for war in Europe IF Jimmie, John, Elliott, and Franklin Jr. are buck privates only, and are right by my side in the trenches. Franklin Sr., of course, would be exempt because of physical disability, but Eleanor and her daughter could be nurses at the front.

Then, and then only, would I enlist, which would never occur I'm 100 per cent sure. A FORMER BUCK PRIVATE.

BACK TO COUNTRY HEGIRA STARTED BY CITY TIPPLERS

County Taverns Do Brisk Night Business.

Sunday morning business in the taverns and roadhouses of Cook county, outside Chicago, suggested a prosperous summer for suburban drink purveyors. So did the early morning business Friday and Saturday.

The reason: Chicago was enforcing its closing hour law; Cook county was not.

The trek of drinkers to the territory not under the jurisdiction of Police Commissioner Allman has increased nightly since the heat went on in Chicago. Spokesmen for local dispensers viewed the flight of their business with alarm.

Thirty Owners Arrested.

Fourteen city tavern owners were arrested yesterday for keeping their places open after 2 a. m. Sixteen others were arrested for opening before noon. On weekdays the city ordinance requires taverns to be closed between 1 and 5 a. m.; on Sundays between 2 a. m. and noon.

There are similar regulations—not laws or ordinances—in the county territory which is not within incorporated limits. Each town and village has the right to pass and enforce its own regulatory ordinances. But Cook county's board of commissioners does not have power to enact laws.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, is the county liquor control commissioner. He is so designated by state law. He has the power to issue and revoke licenses for taverns and roadhouses in territory not under city or village government.

Closing Time Proclaimed.

With the coöperation of the rest of the county board, President Smith in 1935 proclaimed a 1 o'clock closing order for weekdays and 2 o'clock for Sundays for the 350 taverns operating on county licenses. These licenses cost $200. In Chicago the fee is $600.

Yesterday Mr. Smith's assistant, A. L. Hornick, said the closing regulations still are in effect. Sheriff Thomas O'Brien is the enforcement agency of those regulations, Mr. Hornick said.

For several nights now Chicago has watched thousands of its best spenders heading for north, west, or south suburbs.

Roadhouse keepers said they have done a land office business the last few nights. For many years they ignored any closing order that might interfere with their business. Many of them actually doubted the existence of a closing order.

In the city it was estimated that a continuation of the closing hour enforcement will put 1,500 bartenders and many 26 game girls [those who shake dice with the customers] out of jobs.

Boy Hurled from Bicycle Handlebar; Hurt Seriously

The trafic lights changed yesterday as two small brothers sped down the decline from the bridge at Central and Grand avenues on their bicycle. Etalo Daninato, 8 years old, was pedaling. He turned sharply to avoid the cross-trafic that had begun to move. The bicycle missed the automobiles, but Dino, 6 years old, was hurled from his perch on the handlebars. At the Danish-American hospital it was found that his skull was fractured. The boys live at 2168 North Mead avenue.

Boy, 4, Tumbles Into Well at Parents' Home; Drowns

Centralia, Ill., May 14.—(AP)—James Clofton, 4 years old, drowned today when he fell in a 12 foot well at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clofton, near Walnut Hill.

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

BOY CAMPER DIES AFTER CAR HITS HIM ON HIGHWAY

James Drezewski, 15 years old, died early yesterday in the Oak Forest infirmary of injuries suffered late Saturday night when he was struck by an automobile at 159th street and the Rock Island railroad tracks in Oak Forest. The boy was carrying camping equipment. He lived at 8252 Green street. George Hanson of Tinley Park was the driver.

John Hoff, 74 years old, 5512 North avenue, owner of a delicatessen, died last night in the county hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 5422 North avenue. Police charged the driver, Walter Vaisin, 31, of 2646 South Grove avenue, Berwyn, with reckless driving.

An unidentified woman, about 65 years old, was seriously injured last night when she was struck by an automobile at 78th street and Cottage Grove avenue. A card in her purse bore the name Mrs. Mary Neagle, but no address. She was taken to Jackson Park hospital. Abraham Sader, 55, of 224 West 106th street, was the driver of the automobile.

Mrs. Mary Gaurine, 49 years old, 1144 North Le Claire avenue, suffered a possible skull fracture last night when an automobile driven by her husband George overturned in a ditch at Harlem avenue and 141st street. Gaurine said his car skidded on the wet pavement. He was bruised, and with his wife was taken to Little Company of Mary hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 315 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 244 were killed in Chicago, where 7,068 were injured in the same period.

FLEEING AUTO PROWLER, AGE 15, SHOT BY POLICE

Robert Booker, colored, was shot in the back yesterday when he refused to obey the command of policemen to halt. He is 15 years old, and lives at 3754 Dearborn street.

Detectives Thomas Burns and Michael O'Donnell of the Stanton avenue station said they heard glass being shattered in Stewart avenue, near 35th street. They found Booker in a parked automobile, a side window of which had been broken. Booker ran, and the detectives lost track of him. A few minutes later they saw him again at 37th street and Parnell avenue. He ran again. Burns fired two warning shots which Booker ignored and then a direct shot that brought him down. The boy was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

FINDS HONESTY IS BEST POLICY, EVEN FOR BANDIT

Cheated Pal Confesses 7 Holdups to Police.

Honesty is the best policy—even for a bandit. George Milazzo learned that yesterday when he was trapped in seven Western Union telegraph office robberies through the confession of his partner. The partner blurted out the story in a sudden burst of anger upon learning that Milazzo had cheated him in the division of loot.

But for the confession, police said, it might have been difficult to convict the two men.

Last Friday night Miss Alice McDermott was robbed of $154 in a Western Union office at 811 Jackson boulevard. Sergt. James Dougherty of the detective bureau guessed that the two robbers would try to rob another telegraph station.

Find Police Awaiting Them.

The sergeant and two men were parked opposite the Western Union office at 3113 Roosevelt road when two men approached an hour and a half later with handkerchief masks on their faces. Before the masked men could enter the office Dougherty and his men tried to arrest them. The men fled. One, who threw away a gun in his flight, was captured.

He was Milazzo, an ex-convict once paroled from the prison at Joliet. Milazzo gave his age as 35 and his address as 3322 Grenshaw street. From the license of a car found in the vicinity, the police traced and arrested Anthony Serio, 28, of 1421 North Dearborn street, another ex-convict.

Milazzo had more than $100. Serio had $50. Miss McDermott identified both men, but they insisted there had been a mistake.

Sergt. Dougherty concentrated on Serio. The sergeant pretended he knew definitly the men were robbers. There must be a third, he said, because Milazzo was carrying two shares of the loot. He had more than $100.

Serio's anger flared. He demanded to know where his partner had got $100. Dougherty showed him the official complaints in six other Western Union holdups.

Serio shook with rage. He confessed that he and his partner had committed every one of the robberies. And he said he had received one-third of the loot from each in the belief that he was getting half.

DIES OF INJURIES IN FALL.

John Wolnik, 52 years old, died yesterday in the County hospital of injuries incurred Wednesday when he fell from the roof of his home at 731 Willard court.

You've hit your inner stride

....when you regain healthy per-i-stal-sis

You feel exhilarated...you swing along with joy and ease...when you hit your inner stride!

What is your inner stride? It's that steady contracting and expanding of the intestines called per-i-stal-sis. You feel gloriously free when the motion keeps up. When it slackens, you have that constipated feeling.

To help clear the way for healthy per-i-stal-sis—a gentle, but thorough, flushing-out may be needed. Here Eno can help!

What fluid-action does

Eno, taken in water, attracts moisture from other parts of the body to the intestines. The fluid-action... accompanied by a mild stimulation ...gently frees you of accumulated waste matter.

You feel so relieved! Healthy peristalsis can start again. Gradually you get back to schedule—hit your inner stride!

Eno also alkalizes

Eno is refreshing, pleasant to take. While cleansing, it alkalizes, too... helps neutralize excess stomach acids. You'll welcome this extra alkalizing effect.

Try Eno's alkalizing fluid-action. Feel swing, perfect timing return when you hit your inner stride. Get Eno now at any drug store.

Lake Forest's Farm Dwellers Gain in Number

BY JUDITH CASS.

At this time of the year when city dwellers have the urge to get out to the country for the summer at least, many who live in the suburbs yearn equally to remove farther into the country. So it is that each season increasing numbers purchase farm houses or farm acreage.

Many Lake Foresters, especially, have become farm owners. Some have purchased for year around occupancy; others have tenant farmers and visit the farms for week-ends, or vacations. On many of the places the original houses have been remodeled into more modern and expansive quarters, and in some cases the new owners actually are working their property, that is, they are planting and plowing the acres, instead of using the land merely for a more spacious place of residence.

Latest of the Lake Foresters to become farmers are Mr. and Mrs. Luther S. Hammond Jr., who are purchasing The Larches, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Brown, and situated northwest of Libertyville, near Gurnee. The Browns will spend this summer at the farm. The Hammonds and their two children, Tony and Jean, are looking forward to taking possession next season.

"Gentleman Farmers" Numerous in Area.

The Larches is within sight of the Arthur L. Farwells' Spinney Run farms, one of the largest and most imposing establishments in the vicinity. Several miles to the north, near the Millburn Hunt club's jaunty black and white stables, is the extensive place of the John F. Jelkes. The James Simpsons are year around residents near by.

The junior Albert Blake Dicks' farm, where their famous pure bred horses are raised, also is in this region. Other "gentleman farmers" in the district include the junior Thomas Dennehys, who specialize in fine turkeys; the Donald and Edward K. Welleses, who own Wellescott, and the Ogden Kettings, whose gate post bears the name Headacres.

Across the road from the Welles' and Ketting farms are the John Porters, and farther south and nearer to Libertyville are the Snelling Robinsons, whose prize chickens have won their owners many an award. The Robert Tiekens, the William Bartholomays, and Mrs. McVoy Fellows also have farms in this neighborhood. The Herbert Kennedys, who have country yearnings, have been inspecting all available places in this part of the country, but as yet have found nothing satisfactory.

The young Frederic McLaughlins are occupying the charming house in Libertyville David Adler built for his mother. The interior is done entirely in tolles. The Michael Cudahys have taken Mrs. William H. Hubbard's Lake Forest house, in which the McLaughlins were living.

Robert Cartons to Take Laurence O. Wilson Home.

When the Robert Cartons arrive in Lake Forest this week they will take over the Laurence O. Wilson home, which they have rented for a year. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their children will move at the same time into the Edwin Frost home, which they will occupy for the summer. The Wilsons haven't completed plans for the entire summer, as they may decide to introduce to society their daughter, Mary, this season instead of next. Miss Wilson attends Mills college in California.

The Cartons' home has been in England for several years. Mrs. Carton's mother, Mrs. Francis Beidler, and Francis Jr. just have returned from the south. They stopped at Hot Springs, Va., en route home.

Mrs. C. Morse Ely has leased Mrs. George Fisher's Lake Forest home for two years, but she will not become a year around Lake Forester, for she will continue to spend the winters in town. Mrs. Ely has a summer home in Charlevoix, Mich. While she is in Michigan her grandson, Jay Morse Ely Jr., and his wife and their baby will occupy the Lake Forest home.

Historic Arithmetic Book.

The arithmetic book a Vermont schoolmaster, James Ten Broeke, used 115 years ago, the text handwritten in fine engraver's script, is a new addition to the University of Chicago library. The donor was C. T. B. Goodspeed, descendant of the schoolmaster. Mr. Goodspeed also is a descendant of Thomas W. Goodspeed, the man who suggested to John D. Rockefeller that he found the University of Chicago.

One of the problems in the handwritten arithmetic book:

"If 12 lb. at Boston makes 10 at Amsterdam, 100 at Amsterdam 120 at Paris; how many lb. at Boston are equal to 80 lb. at Paris?"

On the Roster.

Federal theater, essentially a people's organization, has stars. Names on the employé list: Lila Lee, Peggy Joyce, Robert Montgomery, Charlie McCarthy. Also Woodrow Wilson.

Federal theater's Lila Lee is currently playing Ophelia in Hamlet.

Spring Styles.

Miss Catherine Mayer, looking at the sunlight drifting through the trees on Addison street going home on the bus Friday, got out her notebook. Being both feminine and a poet, Miss Mayer quickly scribbled the following cinquain:

The trees
Wear chartreuse veils
About their branches, with Hazel sunbeam wimples falling
To earth. . . .

Rural Viewpoint.

A young farm lad from western Iowa, visiting in Chicago, was taken to see the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park. As he and his host approached the building from the north, the visitor was asked what he thought of it. His eyes traveled over the museum, noting its size.

"I sure would love to have that thing full of corn," he said enthusiastically.

Games Again.

If you were curious as to why Miss Gertrude Lawrence, Sir Antony Lindsay Hogg, and several others were lighting match after match at luncheon the other day in the Pump room, it's a game. Miss Lawrence bet Sir Anthony he couldn't light every match in the pack successfully; that it couldn't be done. He won her dollar.

* *

A little game by which some Chicagoans helped pass the time during a long motor trip: Describing a mutual friend or acquaintance in five adjectives, each beginning with the same letter; the identity of the person to be guessed from the description. Thus: "Elegant, erratic, entertaining, emphatic, erudite."

Frothy Comedy Opens Summer Drama Season

"PETTICOAT FEVER."

Comedy in three acts by Mark Reed. Staged by Addison Pitt. Presented by J. Charles Gilbert in the Civic theater, Sunday evening, May 14, 1939.

THE CAST.

Bascom Dinsmore.....Guy Robertson
Kimo.....Douglas Hope
Sir James Fenton.....Donald Brian
Ethel Campion.....Esther Ralston
Clara Wilson.....Betty Hanna
Also Ellen Hogue, Dorothy Sevier, Arthur Van Slyke, Tom Post, and Boyd Crane.

BY CECIL SMITH.

A house full of pleased customers welcomed the opening of a fifteen week summer repertory season at the Civic theater last evening with applause and laughter that had the real ring of spontaneous approval. The summer's plans call for a variety of light comedies, each one presented for three weeks at a time. Since the cooling system seems to work, the Civic theater ought to become a desirable place to while away several hot evenings.

For the opening bill Guy Robertson lent his decidedly superior talents to a revival of Mark Reed's "Petticoat Fever." In the not too dim, distant past Dennis King appeared in this same comedy over on Dearborn street. Last night Mr. Robertson faced one of the most difficult tasks he has undertaken in Chicago—the risky duty of taking over a part from so firmly entrenched a favorite as Mr. King.

As matters turned out, comparisons are hardly in order at all. Mr. Robertson made completely his own the role of the woman-starved radio operator in the Arctic circle, who is hard put to it to cope with the situation when his solitude is broken not by one, but by two, women and an exceedingly extraneous man.

What Mr. Robertson may lack of Mr. King's British polish and finesse, he quite makes up for by an intoxicating gusto of his own. Where Mr. King was moonstruck and pixilated, Mr. Robertson is deliberately and convulsingly screwy. It is a capital piece of frothy comedy acting, striking just the right note of intelligent nonsensicality. The business and lines are splendidly paced and worked out with stellar ability.

Donald Brian, returning to Chicago for the first time since a revival of "The Merry Widow," has an amusing chance to show the stuff he is made of. He is cast as Sir James Fenton, a vile old boor, who appears on the scene with his lovely fiancée when their airplane is forced down in a polar snowdrift. The author intends Sir James to be a revoltingly stodgy, overbearing Britisher, and Mr. Brian goes the whole hog in fulfilling the intention.

The rest of the cast tossed off their jobs neatly and reasonably well. Esther Ralston, as Mr. Brian's fiancée, revealed considerable charm and unobtrusive competence. Betty Hanna did her best with an ungrateful character. Ellen Hogue and Dorothy Sevier, as giggling Eskimo girls, set the house a-titter with a bit of Eskimo trucking. Douglas Hope's high powered mugging as Kimo, Mr. Robertson's devoted Eskimo servant, filled the bill excellently.

This new popular priced project is fully worth the price of admission. The summer looks brighter for the prospects it holds forth.

The conference will be opened tomorrow.

Concert Shows Swedish Glee Club Mellowed

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Under Harry T. Carlson's direction the forty-five men of the Chicago Swedish Glee club offered in Orchestra hall yesterday a program which consisted almost entirely of the music of their ancestral country. Esther Nelson-Hart, soprano, appeared as guest soloist.

The glee club has mellowed considerably. Not only was the number of excessively virile songs held to a reasonable level but these songs were performed with great restraint. There were innumerable pieces which reflected the nostalgic beauty of the Swedish scene—long summer twilights and fragile northern flowers—rather than the sturdiness which the inhabitants of such a stern land have been forced to develop.

Tone quality, phrasing, and precision were up to the high Carlson standard.

Miss Hart went outside Scandinavia for most of her music. Her luminous, finely focussed voice was heard to especially good advantage in an unfamiliar song, "Amleto," by Franco Faccio.

In the Chicago Women's Club theater last night the Modern Musical guild presented a joint recital by Fritz Siegel, violinist, and Ruth Kaufman, pianist.

Because Mr. Siegal played with verve and style and authority it would not be nice to call attention to the fact that he had an off evening tonally and that the Bazzini Rondo got away over onto the bad side more than once.

Miss Kaufman's performance was marked by a great sense of aliveness. It became communicative in high degree because of her own intense absorption in the music and her eagerness to project what she found. Miss Kaufman's technique was adequate to nearly everything she essayed, only an occasional passage [in Ravel's "Jeux d'Eau," for instance] becoming a wee bit labored. Her playing might profit by a little more top, a little more roundness and richness in right hand melody playing and even passage work.

ROSSETTER COLE PREMIERE

In the first half of yesterday afternoon's Great Northern theater concert Izler Solomon and the Illinois Symphony orchestra paid tribute to the talents of two contemporary American composers. The program opened with the first performance anywhere of a revised version of Rossetter Cole's "Heroic Piece," after which followed Robert Russell Bennett's "Abraham Lincoln: A Likeness in Symphonic Form." The Dohnanyi violin concerto, played by Herman Clebanoff, rounded out the program after the intermission.

Mr. Cole's work is sober and orthodox, somewhat redundant in treatment and rather rigid in the regularity of its phrase structure.

The Bennett symphony tends to be bogged down by an elaborate program, drawing parallels between the music and such psychological generalities as Lincoln's "simplicity and sadness," his "affection and faith," etc.

Mr. Bennett's command of the modern orchestra is nothing short of phenomenal. This brilliant command of orchestral resource serves as outward clothing for a musical style that is little more than an unusually clever assimilation of a great many other composers' methods—with special emphasis on Ottorino Respighi. It seemed to me that Mr. Bennett's facility was also his downfall.

The afternoon's music characteristically was marked by glibness. Swallowing down my displeasure over so shallow and mawkish a work as the Dohnanyi concerto, I listened with extreme pleasure to Mr. Clebanoff. His mastery of his instrument is more than adequate, and he is able to attain both real eloquence and real brilliance.

Izler Solomon held the orchestra in the hollow of his hand, and scored another major success despite the music on the program.—C. S.

Special Fashion Centers Built for Career Girls

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Take off your hat to the inspired promoters who have so successfully launched career girl fashions. Clothes and accessories designed especially for career girls have been assembled in convenient places and the showings are making fashion and sales history.

These office clothes are super-smart, beautifully smooth in streamline, fresh, crisp and eye appealing. Checked cottons, thin silks and summer sheers in small patterns or flattering solid colors have modest price marks. All the telling costume accents such as blouses, belts, snappy sport jackets, exciting hats, gloves and even lapel flowers are mixed right along with the clothes.

Expert and friendly counselor service is available without any patronage strings. Colors are mixed, contrasted and high lighted with just the correct amount of dramatics to clear the most censorious office critic. And these, too, boast amazingly small price marks.

Simple one piece dresses take the prize for slender silhouettes, for short smart skirts, for neat waistlines and unusual details. In these remarkable collections you'll find all kinds of separate jackets, short coats, long coats and boleros. Many separate skirts are available.

Other exciting items are the newest play clothes, the sort of swanky loot you need for week-ends and the hours you loaf. Sharkskins, tub cotton, fish net, pique, and novelty open weaves make slacks, tennis dresses, swim suits and spectator sports outfits hard to beat anywhere. Slickers, shoes and shades for the eyes—nothing has been neglected in these havens for the fashion conscious career girl.

Hollywood, Cal., May 14.—Midnight marriage of Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck at San Diego gives M.-G.-M. the record of three matinee idols all retired by wedding bells within the last three months—Taylor, Clark Gable, and Nelson Eddy. . . . Bad blood between Sam Goldwyn and United Artists flares into the open today with his decision to change the name of United Artists' studio to "Goldwyn Studios." He owns the property, having bought Joe Schenck's half-interest some time back. Application has been filed at Sacramento. . . . In all this Dorothy Lamour-Randy Scott chatter, no one has pointed out the very important fact that Randy is not divorced, only separated. . . . Mark Lawrence will go east to wed Stella Adler, group theater star. . . . Warner's and Joel McCrea battling over the Hilton script. . . . H. M. Warner's daughter, Betty, will become Mrs. Milton Sperling next month. . . . The Bette Davis-George Brent "romance" faded out as soon as "Dark Victory" was released. . . . "Gone With the Wind" will be finished next month, and it looks like a smash hit. Biggest booster for Vivien Leigh, incidentally, is Clark Gable, who terms her one of the finest actresses he's ever worked with. Soon as the picture is finished Gable and Carole Lombard will take a six weeks' honeymoon.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker wires this answer to my Saturday comment on "Only Angels Have Wings," plot of which pivots on a bird crashing through the windshield of the plane piloted by Dick Barthelmess, breaking the neck of the co-pilot, played by Thomas Mitchell. Wires "Rick": "Natural course of slip-stream of nose of transport ships makes it almost impossible for birds to crash through plane windshields. Have been in planes when birds have hit propellers as well as nose of ships, without damage. However, birds in moving pictures take liberties with planes and co-pilots that birds of airways don't take."

Paramount will attempt to build Allan Jones into vocal stardom. . . . His radio sponsors are offering Jack Benny a new contract. He hasn't signed. . . . Doris Carson is the bee in John Frederick's bonnet. . . . Joan Crawford would like to get Charles Boyer as her leading man in a Broadway drama. What actress wouldn't? . . . Jean Sablon crooning those torch songs to Loretta Young. . . . John Steinberg quit Victor Hugo because of partner trouble. . . . Comedy hit of "Folies Bergere," unveiled on the Grauman Chinese stage, was "Pansy" Sanborn, veteran vaudeville xylophone banger, and don't be too surprised if he gets himself a movie contract. . . . The fast paced French revue, teamed with an hour of newsreels, scored solidly on the strength of specialty numbers. Dance that offended San Francisco was toned down for Holly-

Good Morning!

Gentle Aunt Milly, who long has been just part of the background in the "Judge Hardy" series, gets a break in the current episode.

She blossoms out in swanky clothes, a new permanent, the latest thing in nail polish, etc., and seriously turns her attention toward landing herself a man. . . . The agreeable gentleman for whom she first reaches hesitating tentacles is destined merely to bring home to her the truth that the grass in one's own yard is apt to be as green—or greener than—that of alien premises.

BUT—don't get the idea that the yarn's ALL about Aunt Milly. No, indeed! Her affairs are merely incidental in the plot which provides the Hardys with an opportunity to demonstrate to a waiting world what they would do with two million dollars if they had it.

The judge, you see, is led to believe that he's heir to a great Detroit estate. . . . He and the whole family, therefore, descend on Detroit, where, for a few delirious days they are buttled and maided to within an inch of their lives. . . . A snake in the grass makes a suave, scaly appearance and there's a lady snake in the offing. But the finale is as I believe you'd want it.

Lewis Stone gives his customary sterling performance as the judge. . . . Mickey Rooney—not so good. Mugs too much for the camera. . . . Other parts are pleasingly handled.

I've liked other "Hardy" stories better than "The Hardys Ride High"—but that, of course, is simply a matter of personal taste.

See you tomorrow.

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff meets Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal estate, and assists her home. He meets her brothers, Bill and Phil, and Phil's wife, Mary Lou. When they learn Jeff went to college with their cousin, Raeburn, he is invited to be their guest. An old feud against the Raleighs is being renewed under the leadership of Butler Lane, suspected of poisoning their aunt, his wife, and forging her will. Banderas, routed from Mexico, has joined Lane. Jeff offers to try to make peace with the better element and, with Jim Williams, starts for the ranch of Carl Nielsen. They are pursued and fired on by Banderas and his men, but manage to reach the Nielsen ranch. Banderas and his men appear. Jeff disarms the bandit and his men. Nielsen is shocked by the outlaws. The feud has prevented a romance between beautiful Olga Nielsen and Bill Raleigh. Next morning Nielsen leaves with Jeff for a conference with Phil Raleigh. The horse of Jack Hauck returns to the Raleigh ranch riderless.

INSTALMENT XXV.
THE FEUD MOUNTS.

Mary Lou listened sadly to Felipe's story.

Jack Hauck had been shot in the back, and again at close quarters in the head. Evidently somebody had fired from the brush, and later had made sure by stealing up and sending a bullet into the wounded victim's brain. Señor Bill Raleigh was taking the body to Hauck's home, but he wanted the señora to call up the foreman's wife and break the sad news to her before they arrived. Since the señor was returning to the scene of the tragedy in the hope of picking up some clue to the murderer, he probably would not reach the house until dinner time.

"I'll talk with Jane Hauck and then run down to see her," Mary Lou told Jeff. "They live in a village between here and Raleigh. . . . I expect Joan will want to pick up Phil since Bill isn't here. I'd better see her before she changes her dress."

While Mrs. Raleigh was away Jeff gathered mre information from the vaquero. From traces left by their mounts it was clear there had been two of the assassins and that they had come from the direction of Fidler's ranch. The tracks showed that they had headed back for the same place.

Mary Lou rejoined Jeff a few minutes later. She was pale and shaken.

"I've talked with poor Jane Hauck," she said. "It's a terrible blow to her of course. I'm going down now to be with her."

"Let me drive you down," he suggested.

"If you will, please. . . . Joan is going to fly over to get Phil." She added unhappily: "Why must such dreadful things as this take place? Jack Hauck was a good man, loyal and able. But hard, like the others."

Jeff knew she included her husband and his family in this indictment. Part of the responsibility for this lay on the policy they had pursued toward their neighbors.

He helped her into the car. There were tears in her eyes and she stumbled a little as she stepped up. After they had started he tried to comfort her.

"Phil and Nielsen are straightening out their difficulties," he said. "You know how influential Nielsen is with the better element among the landowners in his section. I think your troubles with them will vanish. Phil will meet them more than half way. He may be stiff, but he is generous and not small.

"Yes, but it's too late now. Jack Hauck is dead—and that man Sutter. The feud will go on and on."

"If so it will be because Butler Lane wants it that way," Jeff said gently. "Phil won't be to blame for that. A man has to fight when he is attacked."

"I suppose so." She looked at him bleakly. "But I'm afraid, Jeff. Something awful is going to happen. Butler Lane is a terrible man. He is like a great tame tiger cat who isn't really tame at all. He would not stick at anything if he thought he wouldn't have to pay for it."

"I daresay you're right about him. But what can he do? You are surrounded by hundreds of faithful dependents. He can't reach any of you."

"He reached Jack Hauck," she reminded him.

"Yes, but we're warned now. I'll prophesy that he'll make a gesture or two and then go back to San Antonio." He spoke much more cheerfully than he felt. "I wish you could have seen Pancho and his crew fold up when Nielsen read the riot act to them. They acted like whipped puppies."

Mary Lou did not answer. Words could not help the matter. A shadow of dread hung over her, a prescience of impending disaster.

Jeff waited outside while she went in to comfort the widow. He talked with a stableman. The hostler had no more news, except that Bill Raleigh had brought in the body, stayed a little while, and departed to take up the trail of the killers. There was very little chance of catching them, but Jeff knew that if Bill and his men ran on them in the brush summary justice would very likely be done at once. The guilty parties would not surrender, nor would they be allowed to escape.

When Mary Lou and Jeff reached the big house late in the afternoon Joan and Phil had not yet returned from the Rex R. Just before dinner time Bill arrived. His posse had followed the killers through the brush for several miles and then had lost the trail. He was convinced, however, that the men had come either from Fidler's or Rannigan's place.

"Some of the same fellows that attacked Old Jim and me might have done it," Jeff surmised. "They might have come out from Trail End to get us and have heard that Hauck was working stock near the line fence. We're not likely ever to know, but it is possible Pancho and his crowd might have come straight from killing Hauck when they ran into us."

"Could be that way," Bill agreed bitterly. "Soon as Phil gets back I mean to get busy. My idea would be to get a deputy sherif from Raleigh and raid the Fidler ranch. If we don't pick up Pancho and the rest of them there we would keep going till we do find them. Then I'd turn the screws on until some one of them squawked." He paced up and down the room, helped himself to a drink of bourbon, and went impatiently to the window to look out. "I don't see what's keeping Phil. I'll call up the Rex R."

He got McGill on the wire and wanted to know why his brother did not come. Jeff did not hear the answer, but Bill's astonished exclamation told him something was wrong.

"What! They never got here. Sure they didn't start for Raleigh or Trail End? . . . When did they leave the ranch? . . . Did the engine seem to be working all right?"

Jeff was on his feet moving toward him before he hung up. "What's wrong, Bill?" he asked.

"I don't know. They left the Rex about 3 o'clock. Just a chance hey went to Trail End for some reason or other. I'll call up and find out."

The ranch representative at Trail End said that nothing had been seen of the plane there. In answer to a second question he replied that Pancho Banderas had not been in town at any time during the last twenty-four hours unless he had come in at night and stayed under cover. Mr. Lane, however, was still at the hotel with two of the strangers from San Antonio. At least he had been until a couple of hours before. The agent, McIlheny, had seen him in the lobby.

Bill put back the receiver and stood staring in front of him looking at nothing. Unless his face belied him he was a much worried young man.

"Something wrong," he said in a low disturbed voice. "We have half an hour before it's dark. I'm going to get out the other plane and run over to the Rex. If it crashed we ought to be able to find it."

"I'll go with you," Jeff said.

"Better not. The plane is an old crock and not very safe."

"As safe for me as for you. I'll go."

Mary Lou came into the room, all the color washed out of her face.

"I listened in when you phoned, Bill," she said. "What—what do you think has happened?"

"I don't know," he told her. "We're flying over to the Rex to find out."

"Don't worry, Mrs. Raleigh," Jeff recommended gently. "It isn't likely anything serious would happen in such a short flight."

"As soon as we find out we'll phone you," Bill promised.

On the way to the field young Raleigh hazarded abruptly a guess. "Some devil may have tampered with the plane. You can't tell. One of our own men may have sold out."

"Maybe. Or there may be some simple explanation we haven't considered." Jeff needed all his optimism to bolster up his own courage.

Molasses was commercially important in colonial days. Cargoes were brought from the West Indies to be made into rum. The rum was sent over the sea in ships to be traded for slaves, part of whom were sold in the United States and others of whom were bartered for more molasses.

Of course, all the molasses didn't go into rum making. Much of it was sold for food. In the south cooks learned to make molasses pies and to bake hams in molasses. In New England baked beans, apple pies, and gingerbreads were sweetened with molasses. North and south, molasses was spread on bread, and used to sweeten coffee and tea.

Improved methods of sugar manufacture give us a different type of molasses today. Our molasses hasn't as much sugar in it as had those earlier types, and consequently is stronger in flavor. While we prefer crystalized cane sugar as a sweetener for beverages and for general cooking purposes, molasses is prized for certain uses because of its flavor and its high food value.

Sorghum, a similar product, comes from the sorghum cane instead of the sugar cane. Sorghum and molasses may be used interchangeably in recipes, although sorghum isn't as concentrated a product as molasses and contains more sugar.

A good molasses for table use is amber in color. The darker the molasses the stronger its flavor and the poorer its quality.

"New Orleans" molasses isn't of any particular kind or quality. The term is used loosely to apply to any molasses made in the state of Louisiana, even though originally it meant only open kettle molasses made in and around New Orleans.

Molasses Sour Cream Cookies.

[Four dozen medium.]
¼ cup shortening
¾ cup brown sugar
1 egg
¾ cup light molasses
¾ cup sour cream
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
⅓ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup raisins or currants

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add molasses and sour cream. Mix well. Sift flour, salt, soda, and spices several times. Use a part of this dry mixture to flour the raisins. Add remainder to first combination and stir well. Add raisins. Drop from a spoon on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

Molasses Whipped Cream.

[For desserts.]
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
3 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon salt

Mix spices and salt well with molasses, and fold into whipped cream.

The Housewife

For the housewife who likes to sew there's a grand new lap table. It's light in weight, has an adjustable leg in the center of the back edge and a little metal bar on the top for holding spools. There's also a small pin cushion attached to the board. But best of all is the inch measure which runs along the top edge.

This handy lap table is as inexpensive as it is practical. It is finished in a medium brown tone.

EDITH WEIGLE.

Serve on gingerbread, plain cake, or spice cake.

It is well to remember when baking molasses cakes, cookies, and other sweets, that the oven must be kept moderate because of the susceptibility of molasses to scorching.

Refrigerator cakes are especially suitable for spring and summer serving. They are not hard to make, in spite of their partified appearance, and some of them are quite inexpensive. For all kinds of recipes see "33 Refrigerator Cakes" by Mary Meade. The booklet is on sale for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; or will be mailed for 5 cents in stamps.

from the city to Lake Forest, where they have taken Mrs. Russell Hill's house for the summer. The William B. Cudahys will move to a house on Onwentsia road, Lake Forest, June 15. The junior Joseph T. Ryersons will move at that time to Joseph Nash's studio in the village. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Adams and their children will have the president's house on the Lake Forest college campus. The C. Daggett Harveys will occupy the Milton Morses' home from June till September.

Arts Club Sends Out Cards for Lecture by Rich.

The Arts club has cards out to an illustrated lecture in color by Daniel Catton Rich on Tuesday morning, May 23, and to the opening of two exhibitions from 4 to 6 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The exhibitions are the William Glackens Memorial exhibition and sculpture by Wilhelm Lehmbruck.

Mr. Rich, curator of fine arts at the Chicago Art institute, will speak on "Paul Gauguin and Europe." He will be heard at 11:30 o'clock.

Included with the invitations to these two events were little cards that will serve Arts club members as an introduction to the York club, 4 East 62d street, New York, for the duration of the New York World's Fair. Signed by Chauncey McCormick, secretary, the small squares announce that Arts club members will have the privileges of the York club until the fair is over.

A tea for Les Violettes, a new French organization, will be given by its founder, Mrs. James L. Rippey, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Arts club. One of the features of the meeting will be the naming of a godfather and godmother of the organization. They are to be René Weiller, French consul general, and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey. Mrs. Dewey, who has not returned from a trip abroad, will be represented by her daughter, Mrs. Edward B. Smith. Membership in Les Violettes is limited to those who have received French decorations.

R. Douglas Stuart III. Is Born in the East.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas Stuart Jr. [Barbara Edwards] on May 8 in New Haven, Conn., has been named for his father and grandfather, the senior R. Douglas Stuart of Lake Forest. The infant, the first child of the young Stuarts, is a great-grandson of Mrs. Robert Stuart and of Mrs. James G. K. McClure. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Edwards of Syracuse, N. Y., are the infant's maternal grandparents. Young Mr. Stuart is a student at the Yale law school.

Mrs. Andrew McNally is opening her home at 1041 Judson avenue, Evanston, from 10 until 5 o'clock tomorrow for a sale of goods from the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pynchon and the junior James A. Drains are going to Ann Arbor, Mich., today for the opening tonight of "No War in Troy," a play in which Edith Atwater and Philip Merivale are costarred. Mrs. Drain and Miss Atwater are Mrs. Pynchon's daughters.

The board of the North Shore Commons Associates is sponsoring a talk by Miss Jessie F. Binford tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Horton Fall III. of 1100 Crescent lane, Hubbard Woods. Miss Binford, head of the Juvenile Protective association, will discuss the St. Charles school for boys.

Radio Broadcasts in Chicago Today

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.
[Central Daylight Saving Time.]

At 5:30 p. m. Smilin' Jack, thrill packed serial adapted from the Tribune comic strip of the same name, will be aired. The show is produced by Jack Johnstone and stars Frank Readick Jr. as a daredevil aviator.

Buck Rogers, also an adventure serial produced by Johnstone, will be heard at 6 p. m. The principal rôles, Buck Rogers and Wilma Deering, are played by Carl Frank and Adele Ronson. The two programs are heard each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Name Three, the new popular question game with Bob Hawk as master of ceremonies, will be offered at 7 p. m. Ball Players' Lives is scheduled at 9 p. m.

The Pageant of Melody, conducted by Henry Weber and featuring Attilio Baggiore, tenor, and Michael Wilkomirski, violinist, will be presented from the audience studio at 9:30 p. m. Baggiore will sing "Siciliana," from Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," and, with the octet, Nevin's "The Rosary," and themes from Kalman's "Sari." Wilkomirski will play "Haranaise," by Saint-Saëns.

At 11:30 p. m. Bob Crosby's orchestra with master of ceremonies Jess Kirkpatrick will present another session of the popular musical baseball quiz, Bandstand Grandstand.

Mundelein Praises De La Salle High on 50th Anniversary

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of De La Salle High school was celebrated yesterday in Holy Name cathedral at a golden jubilee high mass with Bishop William D. O'Brien, president of the Catholic Church Extension society, presiding.

Cardinal Mundelein congratulated the school in a letter to the De La Salle brothers, who conduct the institution, and to its alumni and friends. The cardinal said the school has been a real asset to Chicago and the brothers of De La Salle have been true benefactors.

The Rev. Francis C. Young, noted priest poet, delivered the anniversary sermon. He was graduated from the school in 1910.

Glamor Boy to Be Chosen at Models' Ball Saturday

Chicago's perfect model and No. 1 glamor boy are to be chosen at the Chicago Models' ball to be held in the Hotel La Salle grand ballroom next Saturday night. The dance will be held under the auspices of the Chicago Models' union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. A musical show and fashion parade will be given.

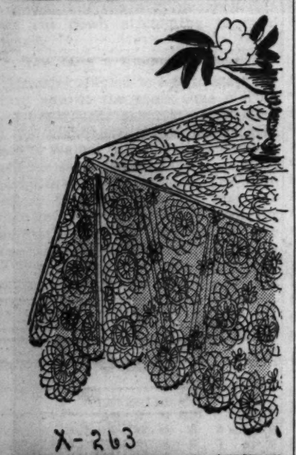
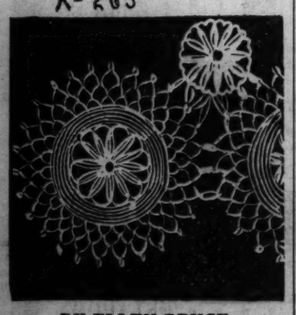
Spoke Medallion in Crochet Easy and Attractive





BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The simplest of crochet work often is that which is most effective. Medallions are a favorite form of this type of work because they may be made piece by piece and then joined to create a tablecloth of gossamer sheerness and unusual beauty. Fine No. 20 mercerized crochet cotton in ecru, cream or white is used for the medallion, and each individual piece requires no longer than twenty minutes of your leisure time.

For instructions in crocheting the spoke medallion, No. X-263, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

There is a tendency on the part of some players to sneer at part-score contracts. If these same players were to compete in tournaments they might change their opinion. Consider the case of the declarer who was playing a three spade contract in the hand shown below, taken from a recent national team-of-four match. Fulfilment of the contract would have brought his team 140 points [90 points below the line and 50 points bonus for part-score, applied in tournament or duplicate bridge]. Actually he went down one trick for a loss of 50 points. The "swing," involving a mere 190 points, materially affected the final result. This was the hand:

East, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K 10 6
♥ A J 6 4
♦ A 8 3

WEST
♠ J 7 3
♥ 9 7 5
♦ Q 7 5 4
♣ 9 4 3

EAST
♠ Q 2
♥ K Q 10 3 2
♦ K J 10
♣ A K 6

SOUTH
♠ A 9 8 5 4
♥ 8
♦ 9 6 2
♣ Q J 7 2

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	Pass	2 no trump
Pass	3 clubs	Pass	3 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's spade bid was pretty light, even under the vulnerability conditions, but not to be criticized from a strategic point of view. When North responded with two no trump South naturally was a bit nervous and attempted to get into a more playable contract by mentioning clubs. I am inclined to think that it would have been wiser for him to have passed to two no trump, rather than risk another bid that might result in a fatal final contract, but that is neither here nor there. The fact is that South was faced with the problem of bringing home nine tricks with spades as trump.

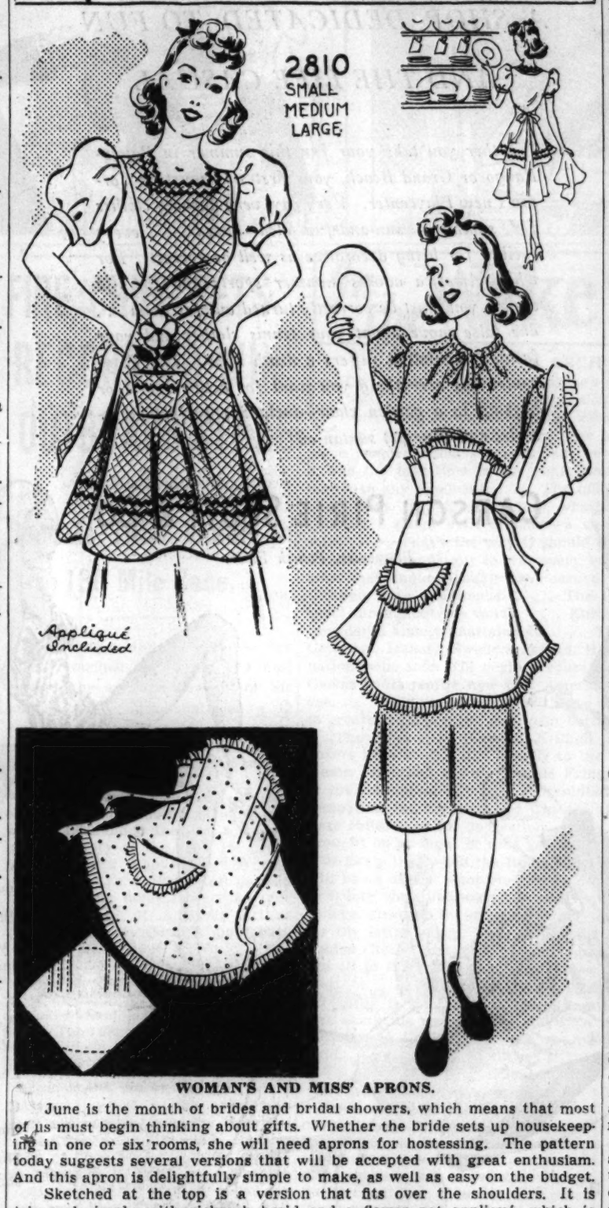
West opened the heart nine and dummy's ace won. A count of losers revealed that, unless something drastic were done, East-West would collect a minimum of two club tricks, two diamonds, and one spade. There was just one hope of salvaging a trick and, to declarer's credit, he started out in the right direction. He led a low club from dummy. East hopped up with the king and returned the heart king. Declarer ruffed and persisted with his plan to establish clubs by leading low to the ten spot. East won and now, somewhat belatedly, shifted to diamonds, leading the jack. Perhaps declarer was a bit excited at the fact that his club establishment plan had succeeded without running into a third round ruff, or perhaps he just did not stop to think. Whatever the reason, the fact was that at this point he made a fatal error and wiped out his previous good work. He accepted the diamond ace at this trick.

Note the fatal effect this had. The fourth club could not be cashed successfully and the diamond discarded from dummy until two rounds of trumps had been drawn, leaving the high trump outstanding. But when declarer went through this process, leading a low spade to the king and back to the ace, then cashed his thirteenth club and discarded a diamond from dummy, West unkindly refused to use his high trump as a ruffer. Now there still was a diamond left in dummy which had to be gotten rid of and, when declarer perforce led a diamond from his hand, West, who had been following the play like a hawk, jumped up with the diamond queen to make sure that he would hold the lead and promptly took out dummy's remaining trump with the spade jack. Now there was no place for declarer to park his remaining diamond loser and the contract was down one.

Note the great difference that would have been created had declarer refused to win the diamond ace on the first diamond lead by East. The best defense would be to continue a diamond and now the ace should win. After that the spade king should be cashed and another spade led to the ace, leaving the jack outstanding in West's hand. Then the thirteenth club would permit the discard of dummy's last diamond and declarer would be able to ruff his own third diamond, regardless of West's action.

The entire crux of play, aside from the proper establishment of the club suit before touching trumps, was the surrender of a diamond trick at the right instead of at the wrong time.

Aprons Ideal Shower Gifts



WOMAN'S AND MISS' APRONS.

June is the month of brides and bridal showers, which means that most of us must begin thinking about gifts. Whether the bride sets up housekeeping in one or six rooms, she will need aprons for hostessing. The pattern today suggests several versions that will be accepted with great enthusiasm. And this apron is delightfully simple to make, as well as easy on the budget.

Sketched at the top is a version that fits over the shoulders. It is trimmed simply with rickrack braid and a flower pot appliqué, which is included in the pattern at no extra cost. All kinds of cottons, plain or printed, will make up well.

The other version has a built-up front extending only to above the waistline. It is styled for attractiveness and is trimmed with plaiting. Crisp cotton sheers are best for this dainty model.

Style No. 2810 is designed for sizes small, medium, and large.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Smart Looking Wife Wins Her Mate's Thanks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Talking the other day with a man who has been married to the same wife for 27 years, we were surprised to hear a statement from him concerning his wife's appearance. We were surprised because he is what might have been called, in the old days, "a rough diamond," and we hadn't thought of him as being appreciative of clothes.

Usually, when men extol the helpmeet publicly, they pay tribute to her loyalty, her courage, her sticking through thick and thin. All of these virtues were implied in the gentleman's tribute, of course. But he did say:

"It's an amazing thing to me, as I look back now on days that were pretty jittery financially for me, how that girl of mine never slipped up on her appearance. During one of the bleakest sessions, when I was deep in debt, and a long session this was, that girl of mine put up even a better front to the world. You'd never have known but that her clothes were bought at the best shop, nor that she wasn't able to have her regular appointments with the hairdresser."

The man said more of "that girl" of his along the line of peronal care, and how her feat of always looking up to par was an inspiration to him in his darkest hours. But enough has been hinted here to confirm the theory that it is woman's duty, and not merely for her own sake alone, to keep up to standard. It is her job to give courage, uplift, spirit to her man, and a vital component of that power behind his throne is to be so self-coördinated as to be thoroughly fortified for the job.

And we women know that nothing helps us face the enemy, be it a financial snag, a bankruptcy, disappointment, disillusion, anything, in fact, as does the knowledge that we, at least, have not slumped in appearance. Keep to a good standard in this regard and everything is possible.

So many married women wait until their home is threatened before the truth is brought home to them that their own letdown has brought on the disaster. Then they rush to the beauty parlor begging for impossibly quick restoration of the physical charms they might have nurtured throughout the years.

Convalescent Home Board to Close Its Season Today

The board of the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children will hold its final business meeting of the season today at the South Shore Country club.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

If ever a beauty aid came along that women ought to thank Providence for it is the new, efficient trio of items created to make our finger nails shine with honest cleanliness and restored luster! It's described rightly as a nail shampoo.

The woman who uses dark polish and brings it right up to the tip of the nail can pretend that she isn't conscious of the grime that inevitably gathers beneath the nail tip. But subconsciously she's quite aware of the fact that it's there—and wishes it weren't.

The women who use light or transparent polish, or none at all, must labor hard to keep the nail tips immaculate. Grubby nails are hard on the onlooker, but ten times harder on the woman who knows she has them. Aside from the distaste for accumulated grime, the knowledge that your nails won't pass inspection always undermines your poise.

You can, of course, dig and dig under the nail tip. But it's not pleasant; neither is it conducive to a healthy nail condition. With the new preparation that cleanses the nails thoroughly and gently there's no digging to be done. The "shampoo" solution is a creamy emulsion that melts that burrowing grime, gives the nails themselves a scrubbed, well groomed look and, because of the abundance of oil it contains, softens the cuticle.

With the white cleansing liquid comes a flexible rubber applicator mounted on a slim stick. It eliminates the risk of injury to the sensitive nail tip. And in the same box comes a nail brush the like of which you never saw before. It's made of rubber, slit to fit over the hand. One side is a sponge scrubber, soft but efficient. The other side, the back of the handle, has rubber teeth with which to scrub under the nails without doing serious damage. This shampoo and rubber nail scrub make a wonderful combination. Your hands look so spic and span after the cleansing they make you wonder how you ever did without them.

Zion Revives Passion Play in New Hall

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The annual Zion Passion play was renewed for 1939 yesterday afternoon after a lapse of a year due to a fire which destroyed historic Shiloh tabernacle during the presentations in 1937. At a morning service Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the Christian Catholic church, dedicated the new $50,000 auditorium which replaces Shiloh tabernacle.

With new and enlarged stage and modern lighting effects, yesterday's drama opened a series of nine presentations on successive Sunday afternoons which will be given even higher praise by critics of religious drama than were the earlier performances. The cast of 300 actors was augmented by a choir of 200 voices and a 30 piece symphony orchestra.

While many climactic scenes in the life of Christ won emotional response from the large audience yesterday, yet the scene of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem at the beginning of Holy week was most highly appreciated for its sincerity and dramatic meaning.

Jabez Taylor, an elder of the church, prepared the text of the play, prepared the scenic effects and directed the cast. In preparation for the production Mr. Taylor visited the Holy Land to insure fidelity to the theme and for local color. All but the Roman soldiers' costumes and his own shepherd's garb which he brought back from Palestine were destroyed by the fire. For the last month many women of the church have been preparing costumes for scribes, Pharisees, members of the sanhedrin, and Jerusalem mobs.

Leroy J. Peacy again played the difficult rôle of the Christus, and James Snelling this year enacted the part of Judas Iscariot, the traitor. He succeeded Carl Lee, former Judas, who this year plays the part of Caiaphas, the high priest. Robert Ray became St. Peter in this year's production, succeeding Clarence Dulmage of the past plays, who could not continue because of changes in railroad employment.

The new Zion auditorium is of fireproof construction and designed to be the home of a permanent Passion play as well as to offer other opportunities for worship and the religious drama. It will not carry on the name of Shiloh temple made famous by the preaching of the late John Alexander Dowie, founder of the church.

The edifice, completed by Zion industries for the play in a little more than one month's time, is designed for ease of vision and quiet. The bowl floor gives a full view of the stage from every seat. The seats in the new auditorium are upholstered, assuring patrons a restful three hour period for the drama.

SOX LOSE, 9-4; PIRATES DEFEAT CUBS, 5-2

CHAPMAN LEADS INDIANS' ATTACK BEHIND FELLER

Ben Hits 2 Homers and a Triple.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Ben Chapman, one of those American league wanderers now serving in the teepee of the Cleveland Indians, finally got his bat under control yesterday and spread misery through the ranks of the White Sox. He hit a triple with two on. He blasted a homer with two mates waiting on the bases. He touched off a second homer with one on base. So Big Ben, who has been snarling at umpires because hits have been scarce, drove in seven runs to make victory easy for Bob Feller and to ruin the day for 25,000 Sox partisans. The score was 9 to 4.

Feller's only bad inning was the third, in which his mother was injured by a foul tip from Marvin Owen's bat. He was in slight difficulties at the time and, although he tried to act as if he hadn't witnessed the accident, he slumped in effectiveness. The Sox suddenly piled up three runs, half of the number the Indians already possessed. Relief pitchers began to warm up, but they weren't needed. The youngster steadied himself, closed the inning and went on to the finish with only two more hits against his day's performance. It was his sixth victory of the season.

Lee Is the Victim.

The Indians, or rather Chapman, fashioned their early and bulky lead off Thornton Lee, the lefty who trimmed them easily a few weeks back. Lee lingered for three innings, in which five runs were driven in by Chapman and a sixth was registered on a homer by Ken Keltner. Then John Whitehead took a part in the show, his yield being three runs, but a pitcher who could suppress the Indians finally was located. It was tiny Art Herring, who held them hitless in the last two innings.

The Indians didn't delay getting Lee against the ropes. Weatherly led off in the first with a single, but was forced on Hemsley's bounder to Radcliff. Trosky flied to Rosenthal, but this didn't bring Lee out of the woods. Solters bounced a single past Owen and Chapman tripled to right center, Hemsley and Solters scoring. Keltner grounded to Appling.

Bob Wabbles at Start.

The Sox first inning also started off promisingly, but didn't develop properly. Feller began his day's work with four straight wide pitches to Radcliff. Owen grounded to Shilling, who threw to Grimes in an attempt to force Radcliff but the latter beat the play. Feller then began pitching as if he didn't know there was anybody on base. Three strikes sent Walker back to the dugout. Feller personally threw out Appling and Steinbacher lofted to Solters.

The first hit for the Sox came after two were out in the second inning. It was a blooper to center off Silvestri's bat, but the next moment Ken was cut down attempting to steal second.

Lee Gets a Chance to Rest.

Hemsley singled to left to start the third and at the same time started Lee toward the peaceful atmosphere of the clubhouse. After Trosky had flied to Walker in left, Solters doubled into the same sector. One more pitch from Lee meant three runs. The bothersome Chapman slammed that one pitch into the right field pavilion for his first homer of the afternoon. Lee then threw one ball and one strike to Keltner and the next pitch was turned into a homer to left. Lee re-

FELLER'S MOTHER INJURED BY FOUL AS SON PITCHES

Mrs. William Feller, mother of Bob Feller, young pitching star of the Cleveland Indians, suffered severe facial injuries when struck by a foul tip off the bat of Marvin Owen of the White Sox during the third inning of yesterday's game in Comiskey park.

Mrs. Feller, who had come from her home in Van Meter, Ia., with her husband and daughter Marguerite, 10 years old, to see Bob pitch on Mother's day, was struck over the right eye. She was sitting in a box seat along the first base line.

Plan Examination Today.

She was given first aid at the park and then taken to Mercy hospital, where she was attended by Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, club physician for the White Sox. Dr. Kreuscher said last night that Mrs. Feller was resting comfortably, but that seven stitches had been necessary to close the wound in her forehead and her right eye was swollen shut. An X-ray examination will be made this morning.

"I was sitting with my wife and daughter, Marguerite, 10, in a box, between the Cleveland dugout and the batting screen, when the accident happened," the elder Feller explained.

Ball Shatters Glasses.

"Mrs. Feller apparently saw the ball coming and threw back her head, but the ball struck her a glancing blow in the eye. She was wearing glasses and, of course, the shattered glass cut her pretty badly."

The Fellers came here yesterday morning with several hundred other Van Meter residents for the game.

BROWNS SELL 2 HURLERS, SEND 2 OUT ON OPTION

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns continued their pitching house cleaning today by selling two outright and sending two others on option to minor leagues.

Russ Van Atta and Fred Johnson were sold to Toronto in the International league. Ed Cole was shipped to San Antonio in the Texas league and Ed Pyle to Toledo in the American association.

The transfers more than balanced yesterday's acquisition of four pitchers from Detroit.

Lazzeri Gets Another Job; He's a Giant

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Tony Lazzeri, veteran infielder given his unconditional release yesterday by the Brooklyn Dodgers, today accepted terms to play third base for the New York Giants. He has not yet signed a contract.

Lazzeri, recovering from an attack of tonsilitis, plans to see his physician either today or tomorrow and then to join the Giants in St. Louis or Chicago. The Giants left for their first western trip after today's game with the Phillies.

The Giants will be the third National league team with which Lazzeri, for twelve years second baseman of the New York Yankees, has played.

The veteran, now 34, was released by the Yanks at the end of the 1937 season and was signed as player and coach for the Chicago Cubs by P. K. Wrigley. He was released by the Cubs last winter, after having appeared in only fifty-four games, and then signed by the Dodgers as a utility player.

He had appeared in fourteen games and was hitting .263 when Brooklyn let him go.

HOLD FINALS OF GOLF SCHOOL IN MARQUETTE PARK

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Final graduating exercises of the seventh annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE will be held next Sunday afternoon on the Marquette course of the Chicago park district, Marquette road and Kedzie avenue. The choice was made after last week's first two lessons, during which more than 35,000 men, women, and children were taught the fundamentals of golf by members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association.

Plans for the graduating program will be completed today, when the Illinois P. G. A. members who comprise the school's faculty, will gather at the Medinah Country club to hold their first pro-pro event of the season. The event also will give the pros an opportunity to sharpen up for the national open qualifying round, to be held at Medinah next Monday, as well as for the western open tournament, scheduled for the big west side club in July.

Third Lesson Tomorrow.

The third lesson of the school will be given tomorrow night on the same four courses as the first two, with the fourth and last instruction of the regular course set for Thursday night. If you were unable to attend last week's opening lessons, you are still eligible to take part in this week's classes. These will be devoted to the swing and the naming of the pupils adjudged by their teachers to have made the most progress during the school.

All that is necessary for enrollment is one golf club and your presence at the park district course most convenient. If you don't own a club, borrow one. The topics of the first two lessons—the grip and the stance—will be summarized briefly in this week's two classes for the benfit of those who missed them last week.

Pick Finalists Thursday.

The courses, in addition to Marquette, are Jackson park, 63d street and Stony Island avenue; Columbus, Jackson boulevard and Central avenue, and Diversey in Lincoln park, Diversey boulevard at Lake Michigan. The classes at all four on Tuesday and Thursday nights will begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

On Thursday night the professionals will form a jury at each course and name the man, woman, boy, and girl who have been most apt during the classes, and those ranked second. These will then assemble at Marquette park next Sunday afternoon, to be judged by an all-star jury of Illinois P. G. A. members. The four winners will be awarded a golf bag and a set of clubs by THE TRIBUNE. Former winners of these sets are not eligible to compete in the finals.

FIRE CHIEF SETS RECORD TO WIN OUTBOARD STAKE

Repeats 1936 Victory in 130 Mile Race.

New York, May 14.—(AP)—A fire chief, crouched in an old red hull powered by a brand new motor his company gave him, shattered a 12 year old jinx by bouncing to an easy triumph in today's renewal of the 130 mile Albany to New York motorboat handicap.

He is Clayton W. Bishop, 38 year old Onset, Mass., outboard pilot who won in 1936 and is the first to repeat in the history of the race. He drove his Humarock Baby into the lead 10 miles below Poughkeepsie and came skipping home more than four minutes ahead of Amateur Arthur Wullschleger, a Cornell university junior of Larchmont, N. Y.

Both broke the old outboard B record, with Bishop averaging 40.681 miles an hour to the intercollegiate outboard champion's 39.904 miles per hour. The old mark was Bishop's 37.1 set when he won the classic the first time.

Old Marks Fall.

Almost perfect racing conditions made old records generally insecure. In addition to the B mark, Charles Mack of New Milford, N. J., coaxed his Rhapsody in Blue to a new class F outboard record of 47.407 miles per hour to eclipse Charles Cabot's 44.4 set in 1932. That gave him third place in the race.

Hours after Bishop roared home, Zalmon G. Simmons of Greenwich, Conn., sent his 225 cubic inch hydroplane, Baby, across the last line at the foot of New York's Dyckman street with a speed of 53.353 miles an hour, the fastest time made on the river. That surpassed a mark set in 1925 by Gar Wood.

Jerry Menchier of Jersey City, N. J., averaging 38.4 miles per hour, took class C honors. Eddie Mattis of Erie, Pa., came in tenth but won the class A blue ribbon for his mark of 27.6 miles per hour.

David Gerli of New York broke his own record in the inboard runabout class when he negotiated the distance at a speed of 47.654 to eclipse his 1937 performance.

Course Is Excellent.

Veteran racers had difficulty in recalling when the course, noted for its twists and turns and usually treacherous with floating débris and fish nets, was better for the race.

After forging into the lead Bishop never relinquished it. Just as he bounced up to the finish line, his motor faltered, but it stayed in working order long enough to place him in the money for the fifth time in six races. Last year he went unplaced.

The victory was worth $280 in cash and numerous trophies to Bishop. No serious accidents were reported.

BARNEY LOSES HIS PANTS, BUT WINS THE RACE

Fresno, Cal., May 14.—(AP)—Barney Willis, University of Southern California runner, failed to hear the gun starting the 440 relay in the west coast relays last night.

When he learned the event was under way he didn't have time to remove his sweat suit. But he took the baton anyway on the last lap and dashed away. Somehow his sweat trousers worked loose. Lower and lower they dropped.

The crowd of 11,000 laughed, then it cheered, for Willis won the race and came to a halt with the trousers draped around his ankles.

The Trojans scored 56 9/10 points to win the relays. Stanford was second with 53¼.

Army, Navy Take Stars; Japan Drops Cup Play

TOKIO, May 15 [Monday].—(AP)—The Japanese Lawn Tennis association decided today not to participate in this year's Davis cup competition because of the loss of two high ranking players to the army and navy. Jiro Yamagishi, former No. 1 star, recently passed examinations to enter the navy while Tetsuo Takamuku is in the army.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

CONGRATULATIONS to Europe's amateur boxing champions who Friday night defeated Chicago's Golden Gloves squad, 5 to 3. . . . They succeeded where seven other European teams had failed. . . . It was the first time in the eight year international rivalry that a group of glove wielders from overseas had been able to whip Chicago's best. . . . It was the first time in five years that the Golden Glove boys had lost a match to any opponent. . . . The officiating was the best the tournament has known. . . . Every victory, whether for Europe or Chicago, was clean cut. . . . Every split decision—a vote of 2 to 1—went to the European entry. . . . That's the way it should be. . . . Coach Johnny Behr and his Chicago fighters want to win every bout if they can, but they expect only what they unquestionably have earned. . . . The three decisions in favor of Chicago were unanimous. . . . The result will stimulate interest in the sport throughout the world. . . . Europe had been seeking a goal that was considered almost unattainable. . . . The thousands of young men in Italy, Germany, Ireland, Sweden, Poland, Hungary, Finland, and other European nations who soon will begin preparations for the 1940 international Golden Gloves bouts realize now that America has no monopoly on skill and courage. . . . This year's defeat will serve only to spur Chicago's representatives to greater efforts when they next battle the forces from overseas. . . .

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, whose Catholic Youth Organization boxers have contributed heavily to the strength of Chicago's Golden Gloves teams, remarked at the ringside Friday night that he had noted a decline in the stamina of Chicago's representatives. . . . "The young men who are competing for America and Chicago these days," his excellency observed, "are children of the depression. Many of them are victims of malnutrition, brought on by eight or nine years of existence on emergency rations." . . . It is likely that when the 1940 Golden Gloves tournament rolls around there will be an almost complete change of characters. . . . Young men who last February were unknown but who now are ring notables will have entered college, given up the sport or turned professional. . . . Our main concern is for the latter group. . . . While this department has no objection to any Golden Glove boy taking up professional fighting as a career if the chances are all in favor of success, it realizes that the percentages work the other way. . . . It is lamentable that professional promoters and managers are unwilling to wait until a boy is matured and experienced before starting him along the money route. . . . No lad who has had only one year of experience in Golden Gloves is equipped to make good in the professional field.

When You Were Here.

An autumn chill is in my heart tonight,
And sad thoughts swirl about like fallen leaves;
The south wind like the ghost of lost delight
Is moaning underneath my cottage eaves,
And yet the night is warm and flowers bloom,
And all the trees are wearing robes of May,
Sometimes I think the coldness and the gloom
Have crept upon me since you went away.

Springtime was in the air when you were here,
I reveled in the sunshine of your smile,
And reckoned not the season of the year
If I could linger with you for a while;
And when we said good night at each day's close
The sky was always golden and old rose.

The Wake Upon Us

Depends Friends.

Rafferty's Slough.

The happiest, gayest, carefree days
The old gang ever knew
Were the hours of merry give and take Down at Rafferty's slough.

Idling through summer afternoons
Of golden shimmering heat,
A dip in the pool in the evening's cool
At that friendly old retreat.

Fishing, whether they bit or not,
All through the lazy day—
The war in Europe and things like that
Were a million miles away.

Bonfires when autumn's chill came 'round
With a bit of tang in the air,
Sitting around in the flickering light,
What tales were unfolded there!

And on winter nights a fairyland
'Neath the full December moon,
The skaters gliding swiftly o'er
That glittering old lagoon.

Years march on, kids grow up,
But memory's ever true—
There's not one of the gang but Thinks with a pang
Of dear old Rafferty's slough.

Every town has a Rafferty's slough
[Though they call it a different name],
But the golden haze of those far-off days
In any town is the same!

TOBIN CONQUERS JINX, SCATTERS CHAMPS' 11 HITS

Lillard Fails Again to Score No. 3.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 14.—Jim Tobin, Pirate right hander, beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, in Wrigley Field last Aug. 22. From that date until the Cubs faced Tobin this afternoon, the champions had won nine straight games from Pittsburgh, some of them historic. Tobin halted the streak today when the Pirates whipped the Cubs, 5 to 2.

Gene Lillard, who has made three starts in quest of his third victory since he won his first two games in the first ten days of the season, was the losing pitcher. All of Gene's trouble came before there was a put-out in the first inning and after two were out in the third inning. Lillard shut out the Pirates in the four innings, he pitched thereafter. Kirby Higbe retired the Pirates in order in the eighth.

Hack Leads Futile Attack.

The Cubs outhit the Pirates, 11 to 8, the Chicago total including a triple by Stan Hack, one of Stan's three hits, and doubles by Hank Leiber and Dickie Bartell, but their follow through was bad. The hits were scattered through all innings except the second.

Gabby Hartnett, who led his team's attack yesterday with three hits his first three times at bat, went into reverse today. In the first inning he popped to the second baseman with one out and runners on third and first. In the third inning, with none out and Augie Galan on first as a result of one of Augie's three hits, Gabby tapped into a double play, and in the fifth, with Galan again on base, the skipper popped to the shortstop. Gabby struck out in the seventh and in the ninth with one out and Hack and Galan on base as a result of their third hits, Gabby went to the piate with the potential tying run. He ended the game by again tapping into a double play.

Pretty Good Ratio.

Another Hartnett shakeup, the eighth he has made since the Cubs left Chicago, followed today's defeat. Hartnett benched himself in his newest bit of master minding and restored Gus Mancuso as the starting catcher. The Cubs will bat in the following order tomorrow:

Herman, 2b; Hack, 3b; Gleeson, rf; Galan, lf; Leiber, cf; G. Russell, 1b; Bartell, ss; Mancuso, c, and French, p.

Inasmuch as the Cubs were only a game out of first place when they went to work today, they were especially eager to make it ten straight against the Pirates. But even with the loss today, their season's ratio with the Pirates isn't so bad. They have won four out of five from the Pittsburghers in the 1939 National league season to date.

The Killing Punch.

The Cubs had one run home and the bases full when the light went out in the first inning. Herman walked to get the game under way and went to third on Hack's single to right. The runners held their bases while Galan flied to L. Waner and Hartnett popped to Brubaker. Then Gleeson doubled off the right field screen, Herman scoring and Hack stopping at third. Leiber walked, loading the bases. G. Russell bounced to Handley. Handley's throw hit the ground a dozen feet short of first, but Suhr came up with it on a neat play, retiring the side.

The Pirates seemed on the way to a million runs at the start of their offensive. L. Waner, who made three hits yesterday for half the total off

JOHNSTOWN'S TRAINER LEAST UPSET BY RACE

Fitzsimmons Wasn't Sure Colt Could Run in Mud.

New York, May 14.—(AP)—If the experts had listened to Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who trained the colt, they wouldn't have to be eating a lot of glowing words about Johnstown today.

Because while all the raves were going 'round about Jamestown's big boy, comparing him to Man o' War and Gallant Fox and War Admiral, Fitzsimmons had been saying right along to hold off on that great stuff until his galloper had run a route in the mud.

"He's a real nice race hoss," Fitzsimmons had replied to all questions, "but I won't know if he's the greatest until he's gone in the mud or has run a mile and a half."

Racing Strip Soaked.

So Fitzsimmons was probably the least disappointed of all when Challedon, a mud running son of Challenger II., came home with victory in the rich Preakness yesterday, and Johnstown finished next to last over Pimlico's racing strip, soaked by rain for most of the day.

"It's just like I said," Fitzsimmons pointed out. "I guess he just can't run in the mud. Give us a fast track and Big John will pass them again.

That's a likely theory, too, for William Woodward's long striding bay has worlds of speed on fast footing. But yesterday's race definitly exploded the myth that had made Johnstown one of the turf's great gallopers. He's a good horse, because no selling plater can win four straight 3 year old outings, including the Kentucky Derby, by a total of twenty-five lengths. And the son of Jamestown had done just that until the mud took a hand in yesterday's stake.

Not One of Greatest.

But he is not one of the greatest, because the great ones don't ask for odds from weather or opponents, and Johnstown proved yesterday that he can't go in the heavy footing. He stopped so badly after three-quarters of a mile of that mile and three-sixteenths stake that it appeared he was going to lie down on the track.

Except for the little filly, Ciencia, the whole field swept past him on the final turn, with Challedon, a Maryland bred, poking himself out in front as they headed into the stretch and staying there to the wire, finishing a length and a half in front of Johnstown's entry mate, Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Gilded Knight, in the good time of 1:59 4-5.

From here on the 3 year old championship outlook is a puzzle. A week ago, after Johnstown's Derby victory, it was regarded as a cut and dried affair. But after yesterday, when Challedon, Gilded Knight, Volitant, and Impound all scooted past him as 30,000 customers gasped in amazement, no one knows what to expect.

FOO SCORES 113 POINTS TO WIN DINGHY TITLE

Foo, sailed by Douglas Palm and with Mrs. Fran Byrne, the owner, as crew, scored 113 points to win the Jackson Park yacht club frostbite dinghy spring championship yesterday. The final five races of the fifteen race series were sailed in Jackson Park harbor.

Foo scored three victories and two seconds in the finals. Debutramp, owned and sailed by Fran Byrne, with Sandy Smith as crew, was runner up in the series with 105 points. William Billheimer and Mrs. Billheimer finished third.

Joe Haller, with Mrs. Harry Nye Jr. as crew, won two of the five races sailed in Belmont harbor by the Chicago Yacht club's frostbite dinghy fleet. Tom McClure, Lockwood M. Pirie, and David Chapman won the other events.

Jack Holbrook won two of the Columbia Yacht club's dinghy races in Grant park harbor, sailing Jerry Masek's boat, Boots. Willis Ware and Tom Connery were the other winners.

MOTHER WINS, DAUGHTER IS 3D IN PISTOL EVENT

A special women's event yesterday featured the finals in the pistol shoot at the Chicago Revolver club, Irving Park and Wolf roads, under the sponsorship of the American Police Revolver league.

First prize went to Mrs. Virginia McQuinn of Thornton, Ill., who scored 191. Drawing a perfect score for her first ten shots, Mrs. McQuinn had 91 on her second ten. Second place went to Mrs. Christ Boylboll, wife of a United States custom officer of Port Huron, Mich., who scored 189. Mrs. McQuinn's daughter, Betty, 19 years old, was third.

The championship police revolver team of Detroit, Mich., took 90 per cent of the honors in the tournament. Nearly 500 policemen from the central states competed.

The Sparta A. B. A. soccer team regained the Peel cup with a 4 to 3 triumph over the Manhattan Brewers in Sparta stadium yesterday. The opener of the two game series ended in a 1 to 1 tie, leaving Sparta the winner on the total goal basis, 5 to 4.

The Brewers took a 2 to 0 lead in the first ten minutes on goals by Lillie and Gonsalves, but fell back into a tie a short time later as MacDermott converted a free kick against Al Garci and Wolf headed into the net on a cross by Fraser.

The Brewers went back into the lead near the close of the first period as Lillie beat Silovsky, but were unable to put down the Sparta's closing period drive in which MacDermott scored his second goal to tie up the contest and Munro dropped in a high shot for the winning goal with five minutes left to play. St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—[Special.]—The German-American All-Stars of Chicago were beaten, 3 to 0, today by an All-Star team recruited from the St. Louis Municipal Soccer league. St. Louis led, 1 to 0, at the half.

TWO LANE CREWS BEAT WALLER IN PREP REGATTA

Two Lane Tech high school crews defeated Waller's lights yesterday in the second prep regatta sponsored by the Lincoln Park Boat club and the first crew from Amundsen beat Lake View.

The junior crew from Lane covered the one mile lagoon course in 7 minutes and 26 and one-fifth seconds to beat Waller by one length. The senior crew led Waller by a length in 6:11. The Amundsen first crew defeated Lake View in 7:15, winning by six lengths, when the bow oarlock on the Lake View shell broke midway in the race.

Policeman Lou Gordon of the Bears Gets a Son

Mrs. Myrtle Gordon, wife of Policeman Lou Gordon of the Hudson avenue station, received an ideal Mother's day present yesterday—a son—born to her at the Columbus hospital. The Gordons live at 1235 Chase avenue. Policeman Gordon, a former University of Illinois star, was prominent in professional football as a member of the Chicago Cardinals, Bears, Green Bay Packers, and Brooklyn Dodgers before joining the police force a few months ago.

Reiss Bids for 2d in Row Over Globe Tonight

Al Reiss, Detroit light heavyweight boxer, will seek his second consecutive victory over Al Globe in a ten round bout tonight in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. Meyer Alper's undefeated record is threatened by Nick Castiglione, Italo-American Youth organization junior welterweight, in an eight round semifinal. Preliminary pairings:

Al Tibbets vs. Lou Vare [4], 157.
Walter Balasa vs. Bill Parson [4], 135.
Ralph Guajardo vs. Louis De Pirro [4], 148.

Lee Wyckoff, Kansas City, Mo., heavyweight wrestler, will meet Ruffy Silverstein in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, this evening. In the secondary feature Frankie Talaber will clash with Chin Lee. Supporting matches will bring together Pete Schu and Frank Brown, George Mansor and Paul [Frenchy] Amnotte, and Gorilla Poggi and Joe Dorsetti. . . . An amateur boxing show in Coulon's gymnasium, 1154 East 63d street, also is on tonight's program. . . . Victor Ferracane, heavyweight protégé of Tony Musto, and Tony Kimball will be rivals in an amateur headliner tomorrow in Kid Howard's loop gymnasium. . . .

Fans will watch with interest Altus Allen's professional debut in a four round event against John Brown, south side light heavyweight, in White City Thursday. While Allen, who is 19 years old, competed as a heavyweight in his last two bouts—whipping Nemesio Lazzari of Italy in his international Golden Gloves fight and Enzo Avondoglio of New York in his intercity match—he will encounter Brown at the 175 pound limit. Allen will appear under the joint direction of Sol Butler, Dr. William Allen [no relation], and Jerry Lavan. Butler is the former all-around athlete at Dubuque university.

Babe Argovan has been named to face Tony Zale, Gary middleweight, in a supplementary encounter to the ten round bout between Davey Day and Pedro Montañez in Madison Square Garden May 23. . . . Movies of the three round exhibition between Johnny Coulon and Battling Nelson, held in the Coulon gymnasium on the south side last April 24, will be shown at the Illinois boxing commission this afternoon.

Northern Fish Should Be Easy After Tarpon

BY BOB BECKER.

If a lake trout or muskie fisherman wants to tune his muscles and wrists for a season of wrestling with the big ones in the north country we can recommend the following course of callisthenics, guaranteed to give a thorough workout:

Take light water tackle, a small surf casting reel with a brake on it, a 15 thread line, a medium weight rod, and then hook and play a 97 pound tarpon! On our final all night fishing expedition in Boca Grande pass on the west coast of Florida recently we followed this prescription and played a stubborn 97 pound tarpon more than an hour before he gave up.

Suspects Watch Stopped.

The guide said the total elapsed time on this fish was one hour and fifteen minutes, but judging from the laborious drag on our hands and arms during the final twenty minutes we had the feeling that the guide's watch stopped running for a while.

We started on this fish shortly before dawn. When the 97 pounder attached himself to our light tackle we were about to call it a night after having been on the water for nearly eight hours. By the time we had the 97 pounder whipped it was daylight and a light rain was falling. It was 6:30 a. m. before our fish was weighed in at the Useppa dock.

A few hours before this long distance fighter came our way we had hooked and landed a 79½ pounder with an outfit composed of 200 yards of 18 thread line, a 40 reel, and a tubular steel rod with a nine ounce tip. This outfit is slightly lighter than the ones many tarpon fishermen use, for the preference seems to be for 12 ounce tip rods.

17½ Pounds Makes Difference.

With our tackle combination it was no trouble at all to whip a 79½ pounder in fifteen minutes. The brake on a 4/0 reel may be set quite tight and you need not touch the line at all during the time you are fighting the fish.

But battling the 97 pounder with a small reel that wouldn't take 200 yards of 15 thread line, we had the brake set so lightly that it was necessary to thumb the reel at times in order to exert more pressure against the fish. After one hour of pumping and reeling in, jockeying the tarpon into keeping away from the propeller and from under the boat, trying to judge just how much pressure you could exert against the fish, one feels that he's had a thorough workout and tuneup for any northern fishing season.

British Polo Team Defeats Yankees, 11-7

Westbury, N. Y., May 14.—[Special.]—The weather and the British team had on off day for polo this afternoon as the invaders worked out on Bostwick field, riding for the first time with what is their likely starting lineup for the International cup matches against the United States next month.

They defeated a 24 goal American team, 11 to 7, but the play throughout was unimpressive. The field was slow and the ball bounded a good deal, with the result that hitting on both sides suffered. When the British hitting turned to misses, the finely welded team play suffered.

Skene Well Covered.

Aidan Roark, playing for the first time on Long Island, joined his teammates at No. 2. Bob Skene stayed at No. 1, Gerald Balding at No. 3, and Eric Tyrrell-Martin at back. Balding played the most consistent polo. He was impressive with his free hits and moved nicely from attack to defense.

Tyrrell-Martin played better during the first half, but left openings twice toward the end when he tried to meet oncoming balls.

Up forward, Skene found himself pretty well covered by Rathborne, who turned in a good game at back for the Bostwick side. Roark, accustoming himself to ponies, had bursts of speed and hard hitting, but the team did not go too well at any time.

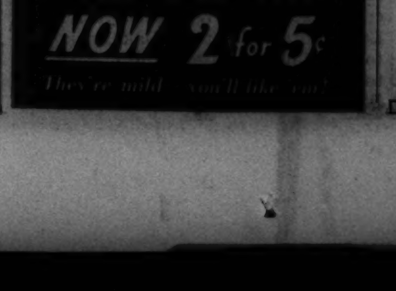
Continue This Week.

In front of Rathborne were Seymour Knox at No. 1, and Pete and Dunbar Bostwick and now and again they took control of the game and went out well to the attack. From the British standpoint, the work of the ponies was the most encouraging.

The trial matches continue through the week, with the Americans playing on Tuesday at Phipps field in Old Westbury and the British on Wednesday at Piping Rock in Locust Valley. For Tuesday's game, Stewart Iglehart, last of the 10 goal players to reach action, rides at back behind Mike Phipps, Ceci' Smith, and Tommy Hitchcock.

Jugo-Slavia Takes Lead Over Hungary Cup Team

BUDAPEST, May 14.—(AP)—Despite the performance of Josef Asboth, 18 year old Hungarian playing his first year as a member of the Davis cup team, Jugo-Slavia took a 2 to 1 lead over Hungary today in their second round European zone match. Asboth upset Jugo-Slavia's veteran internationalist, Franjo Puncec, 7-5, 4-6, 7-5, 4-6, 11-9. Puncec then paired with Demeter Mitic to win the doubles match from Asboth and Emile Gabory, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5. Mitic beat Gabory in singles yesterday.



SPENCER COALS WIN TWO GAMES FROM ST. LOUIS

Mills Beat Detroit Stars, 8-6 and 14-9.

The Spencer Coals defeated the St. Louis Giants twice and the Mills won a double-header from the Detroit Stars yesterday. The Coals won the opener, 11 to 0, and the second, 12 to 2. The Mills' scores were 8 to 6 and 14 to 9.

Bill [Lefty] Stevens held the Giants to three hits in the opener. Bill Grandbois, Coals first baseman, led the attack with three hits. Tony Sims allowed the Giants five hits in the second game for his second victory of the season. Scores:

SWEDISH TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS AMERICANS, 5-3

STOCKHOLM, May 14.—(AP)—Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany today helped a Swedish tennis team gain a 5 to 3 victory over a touring American team in a series of exhibition matches.

Von Cramm defeated Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, 3-6, 10-8, 6-0, in singles, and then paired with Karle Schroeder of Sweden to turn back McNeill and Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., 6-2, 6-3. Owen Anderson of Los Angeles defeated Morgan Hultman, 6-8, 6-2, 6-0, but Anderson and Bill Robertson, another Californian, lost to Schroeder and Nils Rohlsson, 6-2, 6-3.

HAWKS, RANGERS EXPECT TO MAKE DEAL THIS WEEK

President William Tobin of the Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey league said last night he expected to complete a player trade with the New York Rangers some time this week.

"Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, will come to Chicago either Tuesday or Wednesday," Tobin said, "to discuss details of the deal. We should come to some agreement at that time."

Tobin did not reveal the names of players involved. The Hawks, who won the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world title a year ago, finished in the league cellar this season.

[ADVERTISMENT]

FOR THE 1 MAN IN 7 WHO SHAVES EVERY DAY

A SPECIAL SHAVE CREAM

IT'S NOT A SOAP
NEEDS NO SHAVING BRUSH
Not Greasy ... Leaves Skin Soft

Daily shaving leaves many men's faces raw and sensitive. Yet, because of his business and social status, one out of every 7 men is required to shave every day.

To meet this condition, Williams has now developed a special cream for daily shavers. It's called Glider. With no soap base, it's a complete departure from ordinary shave creams. After washing face thoroughly with soap and warm water to remove razor-dulling grit, spread on Glider quickly and easily with your fingers. No brush. No lather. Not sticky or greasy.

A superabundance of moisture is contained in this rich, smooth cream. It softens each whisker right down to the skin, yet forms a protective layer over your face to keep blade from scraping. Swiftly and gently your razor glides over your skin without tearing or irritating. Like a cold cream, Glider helps smooth and soften your skin and prevent chapping and roughness. Glider is the result of nearly 100 years' experience in making fine shaving preparations.

Everett B. Hurlburt
PRESIDENT

P. S.—Try Glider at our expense: Send your name and address on a penny post card, for a generous FREE tube of Glider "No-Brush" Cream. The J. B. Williams Co., Dept. CT-36, Glastonbury, Conn.

BEES SCORE IN NINTH; DEFEAT DODGERS, 1 TO 0

Fette Yields Only 4 Hits for Fifth Victory.

Boston, Mass., May 14.—(AP)—Lou Fette, the Boston Bees' 32 year old right hander, became the first pitcher in the National league to attain his fifth victory when he shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1 to 0, today to give the Bees a sweep of the three game series.

Fette's four hit victory wasn't achieved until the last of the ninth, however, when Debs Garms, the first batter up, tripled. Manager Leo Durocher then ordered both Buddy Hassett and Al Simmons passed, but Eddie Miller, the next batter up, came through with the single to center field that won the game. Score:

GIANTS WIN IN 10TH, 2-1.

New York, May 14.—(AP)—A pinch home run by Ken O'Dea in the tenth inning today gave the New York Giants a 2 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in Carl Hubbell's first starting appearance of the year.

The southpaw star, who underwent an arm operation during the winter and since had worked only two innings in relief, permitted the Phils eleven hits, but tightened in the pinches with such effect that twelve of the visitors were left stranded. He struck out five and issued two bases on balls. Score:

TIGERS TAKE TWO.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—Rudy York hit a home run with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 7 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Browns in the second game of today's double-header. The Tigers also took the opener, 14 to 4. A crowd of 15,328 saw the games, the largest to see a Browns contest since 1927. Scores:

1940 K. of C. Tournament Is Awarded to Buffalo

The Knights of Columbus Bowling association awarded Buffalo, N. Y., the 1940 bowling tournament yesterday at a meeting of the association's board of directors. Charles W. Mayer of Toledo, O., was elected president of the association. Phil Ksycki of Peoria, Ill., and Wilfred G. Albert of Detroit were reëlected treasurer and secretary, respectively, for three year terms.

French Closes Pirate Series for Cubs Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 14.—Larry French will pitch for the Cubs in the series final here tomorrow. Rip Sewell will oppose him.

Steve Mesner and Walter Kirby Higbe, Cub rookies, were in the latter's room last night, the radio on, and the boys laughing and joking noisily. The phone rang: "This is the manager speaking. I hate to call you boys, but the guest in the next room to yours is gravely ill. Will you please be as quiet as possible?" The radio was snapped off, the laughing and joking ceased. The boys tiptoed about the room for a half hour, then the phone rang once more. "This is the manager again. You can turn on your radio now, that guest just died." The lads now are gunning for the journalistic wag who hoaxed 'em.

The weather man, who said it would rain here today, certainly was in error. The sun came out early and stayed out all day. It remained chilly, however.

Pat Malone, former Cub pitching ace, later with the Yankees, came over to the game from Altoona today. Pat says the saloon he is running in his native city is very elegant and refined.

Pirates Defeat Cub Jinx and Lillard, 5 to 2

Bill Lee, opened with a single to left and stopped at third on Brother Paul's double to right. Rizzo also stepped up the caliber with a triple to center, scoring the Waners. Vaughan walked, after which Rizzo scored on Suhr's sacrifice fly to Galan. Brubaker forced Vaughan and Handley popped to Herman.

The next scoring inning, the Pirates' third, started quite harmlessly. Rizzo and Vaughan fouled out. Suhr singled to right and scored on Brubaker's double off the left field scoreboard. Brubaker scored from second on a wild pitch, then Handley walked and stole second. Gleeson made a nice running catch of Berres' drive to right center.

Nip Pirate Rally.

In the fourth the Pirates again stirred up a ruckus after two were out, but this time they were halted with the bases full. With Tobin and L. Waner out of the way, P. Waner singled and stopped at third on Rizzo's double. Vaughan was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Then Suhr flied to Lieber.

The Cubs made their second run in the seventh. With one out, Hack tripled to right center and scored on Galan's sacrifice fly to P. Waner. Hartnett fanned.

Chicago Teachers' Nine Plays Lake Forest Today

Chicago Teachers' college baseball team will be seeking to avenge an 8 to 6 defeat at the hands of Lake Forest college's nine in addition to stretching its winning streak to three straight when the two teams meet in Lake Forest this afternoon. Tomorrow the Teachers will travel to Rock Island to play Augustana.

Three Indian Homers Crush White Sox, 9-4

Rensa batted for Lee to open the third and singled through second. Radcliff walked and Owen struck out. Walker loaded the bases by dumping a rainbow single in right. Feller wabbled long enough to walk Appling, forcing Rensa across the plate. Steinbacher punched a single through short, driving home Radcliff and Walker. The rally made no further progress. Rosenthal struck out and Appling endeavored to steal third while Feller was holding the ball. A throw to Keltner nailed him.

Down with Chapman!

Whitehead yielded only one single in the fourth, but in the next inning had Chapman to contend with and the results weren't so good. Trosky opened the inning with a single to right and Solters followed with a fly to Rosenthal. Chapman again proved he likes that first pitch. He knocked it out of the park, but to show he's a versatile fellow he aimed this one to left instead of to right, where his previous homer and triple had traveled.

The Sox fixed up a scoring opportunity in the fifth, but were subdued quickly. Owen walked, Walker fanned for the second time, and Appling beat out a single to short. Steinbacher fouled to Keltner and when one of Feller's high pitches popped out of Hemsley's glove, Owen considered it an invitation to take third. Hemsley leaped on the loose ball, pegged it to Keltner, and the inning closed.

Two Doubles, One Run.

The Indians' ninth run went across in the seventh after two were out on two baggers to left by Keltner and Shilling.

The Sox really had Feller by the throat in the eighth, but he got away on an assessment of only one run. Walker doubled against the left field wall and the bases were filled on passes to Appling and Steinbacher. Rosenthal hit a fly on which Walker scored, but there was no help from either Bejma or Silvestri.

Sox Get Day Off to Travel; Battle Boston Tomorrow

The White Sox have nothing to do today except look out at the world from Pullman car windows. They will reach Boston this evening and tomorrow will go back to work in the opener of a three game series with the Red Sox. Johnny Rigney probably will start the first game.

Among the Iowa folks who came to town for Feller day was Max Conrad, the mayor of Burlington. They mayor strolled out to the plate before the game, doffed his skimmer, and made a speech, meanwhile handing a portable radio to Feller.

The benching of Mike Kreevich yesterday was the second time this season Manager Dykes altered his outfield. Previously he had substituted Larry Rosenthal for Hank Steinbacher, who wasn't hitting. Kreevich's bat has been feeble since the season started, but Dykes figured the slump would wear off. It didn't, but after a short rest Mike will be in center field.

Umpire Red Ormsby's decision which ruled Owen out at third when he tried to advance on a wide pitch Hemsley momentarily lost in the fifth inning didn't suit the fans. Some of them dispensed with the well known raspberry and one tossed a beer can. It was empty.

Joe Kuhel appeared as a pinch hitter for Herring in the ninth inning. It was his first bit of action since he injured his right knee sliding into third base May 6.

Insurance Leaders Meet in Softball Tonight

Fireman's Fund will play Equitable Life tonight in Grant park in the Insurance Softball league. They are undefeated and tied for first place in Division No. 3. Other games are:

London & Lancashire vs. Great American and American Automobile vs. W. A. Alexander & Co.

Wildcats' Rise Marks Week of Big 10 Play

Purdue, breaking even in a two game series, lost undisputed possession of first place last week for the first time since the Western conference baseball race began.

Their split series with Ohio State enabled idle Iowa to tie the Boilermakers for the top, each now having five victories in seven games. Only a half game separates them from Michigan, Northwestern, and Indiana—other first division teams.

Ohio State Gets Even.

Sharing the spotlight with Purdue's fall was Northwestern's double victory over Illinois. The Wildcats, who lost their first three conference games, defeated the Illini, 8 to 3, Friday and then followed with a 9 to 2 decision behind Bill Syring's three hit pitching Saturday. These triumphs gave them five in a row and moved the Wildcats into a fourth place tie with Indiana.

Purdue disposed of Ohio State, 9 to 3, Friday, but Saturday the Buckeyes retaliated, 6 to 5, Paul Washburn's ninth inning single sending Tony Jesko home with the deciding run.

Indiana defeated Michigan Friday, 9 to 5, but Jack Barry's seven hit pitching Saturday gave the Wolverines an 11 to 1 victory and returned them to third place.

Big Week Ahead.

In the other two game series Minnesota and Chicago split, Chicago winning the first encounter, 11 to 3, and the Gophers the second, 11 to 4. This left Minnesota in sixth place with four victories in eight games and Chicago tied with Ohio State for ninth place with two triumphs and six defeats.

Wisconsin, like Iowa, played no conference games last week.

Eleven league games are scheduled this week. The first five teams are so crowded that all of them have a chance to climb into the lead by Saturday night. The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Purdue	5	2	.714
Iowa	5	2	.714
Illinois	3	5	.375
Indiana	5	3	.625
Northwestern	5	3	.625
Minnesota	4	4	.500
Illinois	3	5	.375
Wisconsin	2	4	.333
Chicago	2	6	.250
Ohio State	2	6	.250

This week's schedule:

TUESDAY—Northwestern at Chicago.
THURSDAY—Minnesota at Michigan.
FRIDAY—Minnesota at Michigan, Northwestern at Iowa, Chicago at Wisconsin, Purdue at Illinois, Ohio State at Indiana.
SATURDAY—Northwestern at Iowa, Chicago at Wisconsin, Purdue at Illinois, Ohio State at Indiana.

Golf Courses in Three Parks Will Be Opened Today

Three of the Chicago park district's five golf courses will open this morning. These are the eighteen hole course in Jackson park, the nine hole course in Columbus park, and the nine hole course in Marquette park.

Because of the installation of the new water system to feed sprinklers, office buildings, and the drinking fountains from Foster to Ohio street, the Lincoln park courses at Waveland and Diversey will not be open until later in the summer.

The driving ranges at Jackson, Columbus, Marquette, and Diversey have been operating for the past fortnight.

NEWSOM HAPPY OVER TRADE; HE JOINS NEW CLUB

It's Sixth Team for Big Right Hander.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—Clowning Buck Newsom was as happy today as a kid with a fresh haircut. He's been traded again—this time the key figure in the biggest wholesale shift in years.

Newsom is a hard worker, but is always selling himself to another team. Detroit is the sixth major league team to own him, and the Browns had him twice.

The big right-hander and three other St. Louis Browns—Outfielder Beau Bell, Infielder Ralph [Red] Kress, and Pitcher Jim Walkup—were traded to the Tigers last night for four right handed pitchers, an outfielder, and an infielder.

No Money Included.

The Browns got Pitchers Vernon Kennedy, George Gill, Bob Harris, and Roxie Lawson, with Outfielder Chet Laabs and Infielder Mark Christman. No money was involved.

All the players changed uniforms for today's double-header at Sportsman's park.

Brown executives made no bones about the trades, explaining the action as a drastic effort to strengthen the pitching staff. And strictly from the standpoint of the pitchers' record last year the Browns would seem to have got the better of the deal. The four hurlers obtained had a combined mark of 45 victories and 39 defeats against 21 triumphs and 26 losses for the two given up.

Pitching Is Poor.

With the exception of the fine work of Newsom and Jack Kramer, the Browns' pitching has been poor. The club was in fifth place before today's games despite the fact it led the league in team batting with a mark of .307. Five regulars are batting .307 or better.

"I hate to give up a twenty game winner like Newsom," said Manager Fred Haney, "but all in all it looks like a great deal to me."

Newsom, 31, handsome, and one of the daffiest players in baseball history—his pet rabbits have nibbled up rugs in some of the best hotels—won 20 and lost 16 for the Browns last season.

The Browns were paying him about $15,000, nearly twice the salary of the next highest man.

This afternoon when Buck strode into the Tiger dressing room Big Hank Greenberg was one of the first to greet him. They recalled some of Buck's screwiest diamond stunts, especially the time Buck purposely pitched three wide balls to Hank, then stopped the game and yelled, "Now, I'm gonna strike you out!" and did.

CITY TEACHERS TO TALK PENSION CHANGES TODAY

Split on Amendments Now Before Legislature.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Four thousand Chicago school teachers will meet today in the Auditorium theater to discuss proposed amendments to the present teachers' pension statute. Opinion among them is said to be divided. The change is one of many matters due for action in the state legislature this week.

Under the amendments the city tax on real estate for pensions would be increased from eight-tenths of a mill to 1.6 mills per dollar of assessed valuation, adding about $1,600,000 yearly in taxes. The amounts of individual pensions would not be changed, but the pension fund would be made secure, said Mr. Ida Nicely Lillis, president of the board of trustees of the teachers' pension and retirement fund.

Inheritance Clause Considered.

Another proposed change would provide that when a pensioner dies, his estate may inherit four-fifths of the pensioner's contributions to the fund, less the amount he has already drawn.

The state senate revenue committee is considering the amendments. Last week the committee was warned by Douglas Sutherland, executive secretary of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency, not to increase tax burdens.

Sutherland took a strong stand on this point after the senate passed a bill to provide for a $52,000,000 pegged tax levy for the Chicago board of education in 1940 and thereafter. This measure, containing a $7,000,000 increase over the current levy, is expected to find opposition in the house this week.

Relief Department Bill Up.

Action will be taken by the senate on the proposed new state department to administer all state aid to the needy, including relief, old age assistance, and pensions for the blind, dependent mothers, and children. Last week advancement of the bills was held up to permit amendments that would preserve the status of the Cook county bureau of public welfare in the changed setup.

Tomorrow night the senate committee on roads and highways is expected to recommend favorably the $100,000,000 highway program for Chicago and a $40,000,000 roads program for downstate.

FRANK MOULAN, LONG ON STAGE, IS DEAD AT 63

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Frank Moulan, 63 years old, whose characterizations in Gilbert and Sullivan operettas delighted audiences for forty years, died yesterday. His best known rôle was Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner in "The Mikado."

Frank Moulan.

Moulan first appeared on the New York stage in 1897 as a member of the Castle Square Opera company of Boston, playing Don Quixote in "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief," and five years later scored one of his earliest big successes at the Studebaker theater, Chicago, in "The Sultan of Sulu."

YOUTH AND GIRL SHOT TO DEATH BY MAN IN AUTO

Waterloo, Ia., May 14.—(AP)—Miss Hattie Grosse and Willard Wetzler, each 20 years old, of Waterloo, were shot to death near here tonight by the driver of a car that forced their automobile into a ditch. They were driving with Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell. Mitchell said a man in a coupé fired and Wetzler slumped dead, shot through the heart. Miss Grosse leaped from the car and ran. The gunman followed, shot her through the heart, and fled. Sherif William J. Curran formed a posse to search for a former suitor of Miss Grosse.

2 YOUNG INDIANA COUPLES IN AUTO KILLED BY TRAIN

Monon, Ind., May 14.—(AP)—Two young women and two young men were killed near here early today when their automobile was struck by a Monon train. The accident occurred where the railroad intersects with state road 43. The dead were Mrs. Sarah Hensler, 20 years old, and Mrs. W. D. Blake, 22, both of Remington, Ind., and Hubert Hendershot and Eugene Kercher, both 21 years old. They had been attending a birthday party at the Blake home and had gone for a ride.

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH IS READY FOR BUSINESS IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

The board of health yesterday completed moving from its old rooms in the city hall. Beginning today all business will be transacted in the new quarters, which occupy five of the six floors in the remodeled old Criminal Courts building at 54 West Hubbard street.

All but outer walls and structural floors were torn out in the remodeling, a WPA project which required three years. The cost was $485,250, of which the city paid $137,750.

Research laboratories occupy the sixth floor. On the fourth are a library, stock room, assembly hall, and an addressograph department. The executive offices are on the third floor; on the second are rooms devoted to dairy products, with space for filing and mailing. Child welfare, dental, and medical clinics are on the first floor. The city civil service commission occupies the fifth floor.

HUNT FOR BODIES OF 8 FIRE VICTIMS WILL START TODAY

Search for the bodies of eight victims of the grain elevator fire Thursday at 102d street and the Calumet river will start today in the debris of one of the five elevators destroyed.

A ninth victim, David Marvin, died in the South Chicago hospital Friday. Six firemen and one employé, who were among twenty-three injured in the fire, still were in hospitals yesterday.

The fire department continued pouring water on the smoldering ruins during the day. More than a score of police were on duty to safeguard holiday throngs that visited the scene. The elevators were operated by Rosenbaum Brothers and the Norris Grain company.

STRUCK BY STRAY BULLET.

Dionosio Sopomojos, 258 West 25th street, was taken to the County hospital yesterday after he was struck by a stray bullet in the 2230 block of Wentworth avenue.

SPRING BEAUTY AT BROOKFIELD THRILLS 40,000

Zoo Babies Play Before Backdrop of Blooms.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

The zoo babies, most of them shy ingénues, officially opened their spring season at Brookfield zoo yesterday and played to a gratifying full house.

More than 40,000 spectators, coaxed outside by perfect weather, thronged hatless and coatless through the Chicago Zoological park. Children tumbled on the grassy parkways. Families sat at picnic lunches under the trees. It was the largest crowd this year.

Not only were the zoo's children on proud display for Mother's day, but 75,000 plants, small trees, and flowering shrubs also put on a matchless floral show.

A Backdrop of Green.

Pale drifts of pink, purple, white, and the tenderest blue were the blossoms of Japanese flowering cherries, lilacs, flowering crabs, and hawthorns. The rich new greens of 2,500 elms, maples, and oaks, fused with the sturdy green of evergreens, were their backdrops. Shell pink waxen Viburnum shielded temporarily the burgeoning honeysuckle and mock orange.

In the bear grotto two fuzzy cubs spent the afternoon posing for pictures and annoying their mother. Her sole worry, it seemed, was that they wouldn't stand still and eat their dandelion greens.

Tsk, Tsk; Just Piggish!

In a house not far away Adolph was acting like a pig. He rooted in his boiled potatoes, stared at visitors, and rushed madly against his pen. This was natural, Robert Bean, assistant director, said, because Adolph's mother and father are Babirusa, wild swine.

Mei-Mei, baby giant panda, a sensation since it was discovered that Su-Lin, her "sister" who died a year ago, was a boy, turned her back on the audience and chewed a twig.

Many fawns skipped around their grottos. One little bush buck fawn is only a year younger than its father. Its mother, Inez, is 6 years old. Zoo directors consider this an ideal May-December mating.

There are no young giraffes, but the grownups have a working agreement with the gorillas. They take over the show each day about 2 o'clock, when it's time for the gorilla babies' naps. While Sultan and his sisters spend their naptime beating themselves on the chests and shadow boxing, the giraffes are accepting their peanuts and popcorn.

Musician Facing Deafness Plunges Knife Into Heart

Clarence Jacobs, forced by approaching deafness to quit his work as a music teacher, saw only failure in the years to come. And so Jacobs, who was 42 years old, killed himself by plunging a surgical knife into his heart yesterday in the Mapletier sanitarium at 3932 Lake Park avenue. He entered the sanitarium from his home at 959 East 62d street two weeks ago, according to his wife, Elizabeth, who had remained at the sanitarium with him.

BROKE, HE KILLS HIMSELF.

Earl Younger penned this note yesterday: "I am broke and alone." Then he ended his life with motor fumes in a garage at the rear of 5848 Leonard avenue, where he has been living with relatives. Younger was 36 years old.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Addie Keith Roberts.

Mrs. Addie Keith Roberts, 75 years old, a pioneer north shore resident, died of pneumonia in a Kenosha, Wis., hospital yesterday. Mrs. Roberts was for many years a resident of Wilmette where her husband, Charles N. Roberts, a veteran land surveyor, was village engineer. He died in 1932. Surviving are two sons, Keith and John, and a daughter, Mrs. Edwin C. Austin, with whom she lived at 3 Briar lane, Glencoe. A sister, Mrs. Lyman Drake, and a brother, Clifton Keith, both of Wilmette, also survive. Services will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in the First Congregational church, Wilmette, with burial following in Memorial Park cemetery.

Frederick L. Fake.

Funeral services for former Judge Frederick L. Fake, who died Saturday night in his summer home at Long Beach, Ind., will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Oak Woods cemetery. He was 70 years old. Judge Fake had a long law and judicial career in Chicago. He was an assistant state's attorney from 1896 to 1906 when he was elected to the Municipal court bench. He resigned in 1914. He was eminent as a trial lawyer. Judge Fake was a former president of the Calumet Country club, and the Chicago District Golf association. His widow, three daughters, and a son survive. He was a Mason.

Al F. Hoch.

Funeral services for Al F. Hoch, 60 years old, a retired newspaper publisher, were held yesterday in Woodstock, where he died Friday after a long illness. For many years he was associated with the Milwaukee Sentinel and later published a newspaper at Random Lake, Wis. In 1908 he went to Woodstock as publisher of the Woodstock American and manager of the American Printing company. He retired in 1932. His widow and two daughters survive.

Mrs. Betty Collard.

Mrs. Betty Collard, 53 years old, wife of Harry L. Collard, assistant secretary of Hibbard Spencer Bartlett & Co., died yesterday in the Elmhurst hospital after an illness of several months. Her home was at 562 Hill avenue, Glen Ellyn. Surviving are her husband and a daughter, Jean. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 493 Main street, Glen Ellyn. Burial will be private.

Charles Francis de Ganahl.

New York, May 14.—(AP)—After a life that embraced newspaper reporting, exploring, sugar planting, ship and airplane building, and gold mine and oil promotion, Charles Francis de Ganahl died last night at Memorial hospital. He was 69 years old. His operations extended over North and South America and Africa. His home was in suburban White Plains, N. Y. He leaves his widow and three sons.

Francis A. Hickey.

Francis A. Hickey, former alderman of Park Ridge, died there yesterday at his home, 535 Cedar street. He was 58 years old. Surviving are his wife Hattie and a son and daughter, Francis and Virginia Lee. Services will be at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow from the home to St. Paul of the Cross church.

SUMMER SCHOOL REGISTRATIONS TO OPEN JUNE 26

Registration for public summer schools will be held June 26, three days after the close of the current term, William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said yesterday. Thirteen elementary schools and eleven high schools will be operated during the summer.

The high schools are Amundsen, Austin, Crane, Englewood, Hirsch, Lane, Lindblom, Morgan Park, Schurz, Senn, and Tilden. The elementary schools are Armstrong, Arnold, Burke, Douglas, Kozminski, Lawson, Libby, McPherson, Nobel, Sheridan, Sumner, Van Vlissingen, and Von Humboldt.

Summer school work is designed for pupils who desire to make faster progress and for those who have been retarded by sickness or failure, Johnson said.

PRIZES OFFERED BY NYA FOR JOB CREATION IDEAS

A job creation contest, in which young men under 25 years old will offer original ideas on ways of making money, was announced yesterday by William J. Campbell, state director of the National Youth administration. Campbell is also United States district attorney in Chicago. Campbell said that more than 300 prizes donated by merchants will be awarded in the state-wide competition. The prizes range from university scholarships and permanent jobs in industry to a round trip airplane ride to the New York World's Fair.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

REVOLT FORCES ROOSEVELT TO ACT ON TAXES

He Moves to Heal Democratic Rift.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 14.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt returned tonight from a week-end yachting cruise to face the most serious revolt in his party since that which overwhelmed his undertaking to pack the Supreme court.

This latest Democratic schism has developed over the question of repealing or materially modifying the soak the rich taxes that Mr. Roosevelt has saddled upon business enterprise at various times in the last six years.

To such burdensome taxes are widely attributed the diminished profits of private enterprise, the flight of capital into nonproductive tax exempt securities and the continuation of the depression, with 11 million men out of work after six years of the New Deal.

After seeming to encourage Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Secretary of Commerce Hopkins in their moves to bring about removal of the tax deterrents of business revival, the President began to obstruct any tax revision at this session. Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], the administration leader in the senate, proposed a mere continuation of the taxes expiring this year. This would have been followed by study during a congressional recess of plans for a general tax revision.

Compromise Move Forced.

That move touched off the Democratic revolt. The conservative Democrats in both houses made it known that they would fight for immediate tax revision designed to revive business. Joined with the Republicans, they could have produced a majority in congress to override the President's resistance to any alteration of the tax structure he has erected for punitive and social purposes.

The President sensed the defeat in store for him and decided it would be the better part of valor to sue for terms. He therefore has called a conference of Democratic leaders for tomorrow afternoon.

Attending will be Secretary Morgenthau, Undersecretary of the Treasury John W. Hanes, author of a thoroughgoing tax revision program in the interest of business revival; Representative Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the house committee on ways and means, and Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee.

Four-Part Program Ready.

Discussion in this conference will revolve around a proposed compromise between the President and the conservative Democrats. It embodies these provisions:

1. Repeal of the existing remnant of the undistributed profits tax, substitution of a flat 18 per cent corporation tax for the present taxes of 16½ to 19 per cent on corporations earning more than $25,000 a year, and continuation of the present 12½ to 16 per cent tax on corporations earning less than $25,000.

2. Repeal of the provision limiting deductible losses of corporations to $2,000 a year to permit losses to be accounted for under capital gains and losses provisions.

3. Revision of the capital stock and excess profits levies to permit corporations to make declarations on the value of their stock each year instead of every three years.

4. A change to permit corporations to carry over their losses for three years for tax purposes instead of for only one year.

Roosevelt Demands Revenue.

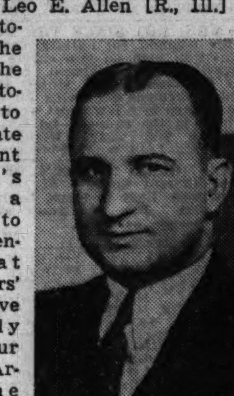
The conservatives will seek to obtain Mr. Roosevelt's consent to a reduction of higher bracket surtaxes as a business incentive. They haven't much hope, however, of success in this move.

The President insists that compensating tax revenue shall be provided for reduction of existing taxes. The conservatives contend that reduction of onerous taxes would spur business activity and thus increase tax revenue without imposition of other taxes.

Navy Beef Quiz Asked; Blame New Deal for High Home Price

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 14.—Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.] announced today that he will ask the house tomorrow to investigate President Roosevelt's award of a contract to the Argentine Meat Producers' Coöperative to supply twenty-four tons of Argentine canned corned beef to the navy.



Representative Leo E. Allen.

The President has said the Argentine beef is "infinitely superior" to American canned corned beef.

Allen cited a provision of the pending navy appropriation bill providing no funds shall be expended for food not grown or produced in the United States or its possessions.

Would Require Study.

Allen proposed that a committee determine whether the President's award of the contract for Argentine beef is in contravention of the "buy American" act of 1933.

"I thought Mr. Roosevelt had gone the limit when he made it a crime to have gold in one's possession, but now he has gone further by making the statement that Argentine beef is superior to American beef," said Allen.

"Evidently Mr. Roosevelt, having failed to solve the agricultural problems of the United States, is now turning his talents to the solution of the agricultural problems of the world. The President stated that the enlisted men of the navy are entitled to food of the best quality.

"Are we to take this to mean that the enlisted men of the navy are entitled to something that the rest of us aren't, or are we to infer that we should all desert the American farmer and help Mr. Roosevelt support Argentina? The President should be reminded that being a good neighbor, like charity, should begin at home.

"Many of us believe that American beef has no superior. For that reason I am offering a resolution on Monday next providing for a committee of five to investigate and determine whether or not Argentine beef is better than American beef. Pending said investigation I am requesting the suspension of the purchase of Argentine beef."

Dirksen Blames U. S. Policies.

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] described the President's action as "amazing" in view of the administration's efforts to raise domestic prices and wages.

Dirksen said the President had decided to buy Argentine beef partly because it cost less than the American product, after "a prolonged and sustained effort" to raise the price of farm commodities.

The Illinoisian said the AAA marketing agreements, the NRA, the wage-hour and Wagner labor acts, relief purchases, and dollar devaluation had been employed to raise price and wage levels.

"Manifestly these wage levels are reflected in the cost of processing beef in the United States as compared with the Argentine," he said.

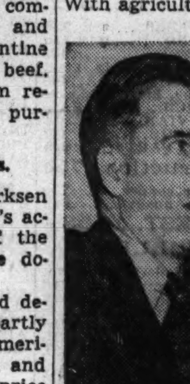
Offer Preferred Shares of Tilo Roofing Company

Offering of 60,000 shares of $1.40 convertible preferred stock of the Tilo Roofing Co., Inc., is being made today at $25.50 a share by Distributors Group, Inc. The prospectus also covers 41,000 shares of outstanding common stock.

U. S. TO LAUNCH NEW CROP PRICE PEGGING SEASON

750 Millions Unpaid on Old Loans.

Washington, D. C., May 14.—(AP)—With agricultural prices at the lowest level since the middle of 1934, the administration is preparing to embark upon another season of price pegging of major crops as a supplement to a $760,000,000 subsidy program.



Secretary Wallace must decide today on referendum.

It will employ commodity loan provisions of the farm act to bolster prices of such crops as wheat, cotton, and corn, lending money to farmers to induce them to hold a part of their crops off the market. The season's first loan program—on wheat—probably will be announced this week. One for cotton has been promised.

Crops Stored as Collateral.

The new loan programs will come at a time when the government has more than $750,000,000 outstanding on loans made in past seasons.

Stored as collateral for these obligations are 11,400,000 bales of cotton, about 85,000,000 bushels of wheat, and 225,000,000 bushels of corn.

Last year's loan programs tended to peg domestic prices of wheat at about 60 cents a bushel, cotton at about 8.3 cents a pound, and corn at about 45 cents a bushel.

The loan programs have been criticized because of their tendency to put American products at a price disadvantage in foreign markets and cause accumulation of large stocks in warehouses and elevators as collateral.

Pay Wheat Export Bounty.

Exports of American cotton this season have been 42 per cent less than a year ago and only about 50 per cent of the average for the ten year period ending with the 1936 season. In order to sell wheat abroad the government found it necessary to pay exporters a bounty averaging about 25 cents a bushel. It now proposes to do the same thing for cotton and possibly lard and pork products.

Officials have not indicated what the loan rate on wheat will be. Last year it averaged about 59 cents a bushel.

Secretary Wallace must announce tomorrow whether this year's prospective wheat supplies are sufficiently large to require a referendum on marketing quotas. Under quotas, growers would be limited as to sales. Excess marketings would be penalized by a 15 cents a bushel tax.

Distribution Expenses Top Output Costs

New York, May 14.—(AP)—About 59 cents of the consumer's dollar in the United States goes for services involved in distribution and only 41 cents for the services of production, a report published today by Twentieth Century Fund, research organization founded by the late Edward A. Filene of Boston, showed.

The finding means that it costs more to distribute goods to customers than it costs to produce the goods.

In 1870, among all gainfully employed workers, approximately 75 per cent were employed in agriculture, manufacturing, and other production activities, while 25 per cent were in distribution and service, the report said.

Ratio Equally Divided.

By 1930, this ratio had changed so that the groups were evenly divided.

During the same period, the total volume of goods produced and consumed in the United States increased more than nine times while the population increased three times. Since 1870 the number of persons engaged in the production industries has less than trebled while those engaged in distribution have increased nearly nine times.

Report Makes Comparisons.

It appears, the report said, that thus "there has been more than a three-fold increase in the output of goods per worker while the amount of goods distributed per worker in the distribution industries has increased only slightly."

The present factual report does not draw any conclusion as to whether this fundamental change in the nation's economical structure is good or bad. This will be done in a future research report to be called "Does distribution cost too much?"

STANDARD AUTO POLICY TERMS ARE LIBERALIZED

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters yesterday announced a revision of the national standard policy provisions for automobile liability insurance, providing wider protection at no additional cost.

The revisions affect both the capital stock companies belonging to the bureau and to the mutual company members of the American Mutual Alliance. The changes may be put into effect any time after May 15, but must be enforced prior to Nov. 1.

The policy has been broadened to cover an insured automobile while it is "within the United States, Canada, or Newfoundland, or while on a vessel between ports within said territory." Previously the car was covered only while it was in continental United States [Alaska excepted], Canada, or on a "coastwise" vessel. The other changes give trailer coverage, and broaden the definition of the term "commercial" vehicle.

Chile Expected to Take Over Oil Business Soon

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 14.—(AP)—Finance Minister Roberto Washoltz is expected to give to President Pedro Aguirre Cerda tomorrow plans for the government to take over the nation's petroleum importing, gasoline, and oil sales business. A law of 1931 provides for such action with indemnity for private owners.

QUARTER PROFIT OF COLUMBIAN CARBON HIGHER

The Columbian Carbon company and its subsidiaries yesterday reported for the quarter ended March 31 a net profit of $829,878. This is equivalent to $1.54 a share on the common stock and compares with $707,155, or $1.32 a share, in the first quarter of 1938.

Current assets on March 31 amounted to $6,728,792, including $3,347,536 in cash and marketable securities at cost. Current liabilities were $895,850. On the same date last year current assets were $6,136,955, including cash and marketable securities of $2,792,510, and current liabilities were $1,136,466. Inventories amounted to $1,693,741, against $1,879,500.

CARNEGIE REAFFIRMS PRICES, BUT REVISES BASIS ON AUTO STEEL

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation yesterday reaffirmed for the third quarter of 1939 its present prices of steel, but made a revision in the basis on which certain types of bars and sheets will be sold. The items affected are used chiefly by the automobile industry.

Quantity deductions will be discontinued immediately on hot rolled carbon steel bars, hot rolled alloy steel bars, hot rolled strip, hot rolled sheets and cold rolled sheets, and prices will be lowered to compensate for the removal of the quantity deductions, officials said. The base price on the sheets and strip steel will be reduced $3 a ton and on the bars $2 a ton.

The extent of the quantity deductions hitherto granted has not been known, but it was indicated that the revised prices would not constitute an actual reduction after allowance for the removal of the quantity rates.

For the industry generally it is known that many small buyers have been granted "quantity" prices in recent months as competition among steel makers increased. Last week there were reports of "unofficial" price cuts on automobile steel.

Water Carrier Proves Itself Money Maker

Washington, D. C., May 14.—[Special.]—A federal corporation that has supported itself and weathered all the depression years without the loss of a penny will make its report to congress in the next ten days.

It is the Inland Waterways corporation, which for twelve years has paid its own way out of its own profits, has turned back into the treasury millions appropriated for it by congress, and which in 1938 made a net profit of more than $1,000,000.

The corporation, organized in 1920, had an annual average deficit of more than $1,000,000 during its first four years.

Once a "Derelict."

Its report will disclose that the "derelict" of 1924 is now a transportation system with more than 600,000 tons of towboats and barges navigating the Mississippi from New Orleans to Minneapolis, with feeder lines from St. Louis to Kansas City and Chicago, and from New Orleans to Birmingham.

This system handled nearly 3,000,000 tons of freight in 1938, acquired new equipment costing $3,000,000 out of its own profits and was still $1,005,000 to the good on Dec. 31, 1938. In bank and in government bonds it had $3,875,554.79 on May 11, 1939.

Prior to 1924 the system was operated under the old wartime railroad administration and was a "white elephant," costing millions annually to maintain. Then it was transferred to the war department and Maj. Gen. Thomas Q. Ashburn was made its head.

Part of Fund Canceled.

Congress fixed the capital stock of the corporation at $15,000,000, of which the corporation received $12,000,000 from 1925 to 1930. The unused $3,000,000, at Gen. Ashburn's suggestion, was canceled by congress.

The net worth of the system on June 1, 1924, was $10,021,005, as compared with $25,007,107 fixed by the ICC on Dec. 31, 1938.

The last appropriation for the corporation, voted by congress in 1927, was $10,000,000. Of this $7,000,000 was used and the rest was turned back to the treasury.

EDISON PUSHES PLANT PROJECT AT SOUTH PEKIN

The Commonwealth Edison company yesterday announced it will proceed at once to construct a fourth generating unit of 105,000 kilowatts capacity at its Powerton station in South Pekin, Ill.

James Simpson, chairman of the board of the Edison company, said the project is scheduled for completion next year.

Simpson said a new 220,000 volt transmission line will also be constructed, connecting the Powerton station with the company's Crawford station in Chicago, a distance of 147 miles.

The projects are part of the previously announced construction program involving the expenditure of approximately $75,000,000 in the next three years.

Inland Daily Press Group Opens Session Tomorrow

Publishers' problems will be discussed tomorrow and Wednesday at the spring meeting of the Inland Daily Press association in the Hotel Sherman.

Investors' Guide

Monday, May 15, 1939.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LISTED AND UNLISTED.

Investors' Guide: I'm not very well versed in matters concerning stock exchanges and have often wondered why some securities are listed and others are not. Do companies have to pay for listing? Is a stock or bond a better investment because it is bought and sold on an exchange? Do the exchanges require statements from companies whose securities are listed?—N. H. L.

Answer: Many large corporations with big families of stockholders have their stock listed on an exchange for several reasons. Among the advantages to the company and the stockholders are:

1. The market price is more likely to approximate the real worth of a listed stock because the price is determined by supply and demand concentrated at a single point.

2. Listed stocks are usually more acceptable as collateral for loans by banks or brokers.

3. Listing increases interest in a stock because quotations are published daily. This means greater salability for a security. It also advertises the company.

4. Stockholders may use quoted prices of securities for figuring inheritance and gift taxes. These prices are accepted by government officials.

Exchanges usually charge a fee for the listing privilege. They operate under rigid rules of trading and require all companies with listed stocks or bonds to file detailed financial reports at regular intervals. Some unlisted trading is done on exchanges, but the bulk of this type of trading is in the "over the counter" market—that is, sales are made directly at brokerage houses.

Unlisted stocks have not met the requirements that an exchange demands of a listed issue. Either the company issuing the security has not applied for listing or has failed to qualify under the exchange's rules.

Listing in itself has no bearing on the investment value of a security although it may enhance its marketability. There are exceptions to this, however. Some listed securities are inactive and some unlisted issues are heavily traded. At the same time certain listed securities are of low investment quality while others are highest grade. This is true also of unlisted securities.

In buying stock it is well to judge it strictly on its own merits after investigating all available information.

WEEK'S GRAIN PRICES

The range of prices last week on the Chicago Board of Trade, with comparisons, was as follows:

COTTON MARKET FEELS EFFECT OF LOAN TINKERING

Supplies Tied Up as Mills Run Low.

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—The acute shortage of desirable grades of United States cotton in commercial channels was reflected in the cotton markets last week. Sharply higher prices were paid for spot cotton and nearby future deliveries on the New York Cotton exchange. The May delivery made a net advance of 0.37 cent a pound and the July delivery was up 0.15 cent.

The shortage of cotton in private hands is traced to the fact that most of the supply is in government loan stock. It is being felt in increasing measure as the season approaches its close. New crop cotton will not become available in volume until around the middle of August, and the small private stocks are proving insufficient to meet trade needs until that time. Some American mills are reported to be importing Brazilian cotton.

Price Structure Upset.

Domestic and foreign consumption of the United States staple is being reduced as a result of the maladjustment of prices growing out of the inadequacy of supplies of good grades of cotton.

As had been foreseen, prices of cotton and nearby future deliveries have been forced up to a level at which growers who have cotton in the loan stock can realize a small profit by taking their 1938 cotton out of that stock and selling it. It is understood that many growers are holding for a profit of $2 a bale, but some are beginning to release small amounts of cotton in the eastern part of the belt.

However, in the western part of the belt, where the greater part of the loan cotton is stored, prevailing prices are still below levels at which growers would be induced to repossess and sell their loan holdings, because of higher transportation costs to mills and ports.

Shortage in England.

The shortage of United States cotton in foreign channels, as well as domestic, was brought strikingly to the attention of the trade last week by an appeal from the Manchester [England] Cotton Spinners federation for the release of loan cotton by the United States government to relieve a shortage in England.

English mills are consuming cotton at a relatively high rate, but they have been forced to curtail their consumption of United States cotton and to expand their consumption of foreign growths because of the impossibility of obtaining all of the United States cotton that they need at competitive price levels.

Domestic mill activity recently has shown a downward trend and exports have continued extremely small.

Fight Sleeping Sickness

May 14, 1939.

THIRTY-ONE horses and mules at the Du Page county farm were vaccinated yesterday to protect them against sleeping sickness [encephalomyelitis]; a disease that killed more than 1,500 animals in Illinois last year and affected nearly 5,000 others. Losses were heavier in some adjoining states.

Chick embryo vaccine was used. It is said to be much more effective than the vaccine made from growing the virus on the tissue of a horse's brain. Ten cubic centimeters of the vaccine were injected into each animal. This dosage will be repeated in seven or ten days. The dose for a colt under four weeks old is five cubic centimeters.

All the horses and mules at the farm except two colts, born this spring, were vaccinated last summer. None contracted the disease. Dr. Harry Caldwell, the farm's veterinarian, says that horses vaccinated eight months ago have not taken the disease after injections of the living virus which causes it. He says these tests indicate that immunity may last indefinitly.

It's a Summer Peril.

The disease causes trouble only during the summer months. It is believed to be transmitted from affected animals to well ones through the bites of mosquitoes and flies. Until more is learned about the length of time immunity lasts, horses at the farm likely will be vaccinated each spring as a precaution against infection. A few mosquitoes already have appeared.

Dr. Caldwell says he never has known of a horse taking the disease after it had been given the second injection of chick embryo vaccine. He has known of a few cases of infection between the first and second doses of the vaccine. He has seen no cases of the disease this spring.

Investigators report that the vaccine can be used effectively and safely on horses of all ages. The full dosage now is given to colts more than 4 weeks old. Mares nursing colts or mares in foal can be vaccinated with no ill effects. It apparently is safe to ride or work horses in the field immediately after they are vaccinated.

Screens Put on Barns.

As an extra precaution, the horses at the farm will be protected as much as possible against biting insects during the summer. Last summer screens were put over the windows and doors of the barn where the riding horses were kept.

Spray materials were applied to the animal's bodies several times daily to protect them against mosquitoes and biting flies. A mixture that has proved effective in keeping insects away from horses and mules running on pasture consists of cold pressed fish oil, 100 parts; oil of tar from pine, trees, 50 parts, and crude carbolic acid, 1 part.

The mixture is applied with a paint brush by brushing with the hair, not against. It cannot be used on animals that are being worked, because it will irritate the skin under harness and collar. Applications made once a week are considered sufficient for horses and mules on pasture unless mosquitoes and flies are numerous.

BETHLEHEM STEEL CORPORATION

Notice to its Security Holders

Bethlehem Steel Corporation has issued its Annual Report to its Stockholders for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1938, in which is included the Earning Statement of the Corporation and its subsidiary companies for that year. Copies of such Report have been mailed to the stockholders of the Corporation and copies thereof will be mailed to the other security holders of the Corporation and other interested parties upon request addressed to it at 25 Broadway, New York City.

E. G. GRACE, President.

Dated, May 13, 1939.

First Mortgage Bondholders Committee

Forty Wall Street Corporation

First Mortgage Fee and Leasehold 6% Sinking Fund Bonds, Series of 1958

The Plan of Reorganization recently sent to bondholders was prepared by the Board of Directors which, the Plan discloses, is composed largely of persons associated with the Starrett Corporation, owner of all second mortgage bonds, certain unsecured debt, all Preferred Stock and a majority (approximately 70%) of the Common Stock.

This situation indicates the advisability of prompt organization by First Mortgage Bondholders so that they may have independent representation.

At the request of holders of a substantial amount of First Mortgage Bonds, the undersigned Committee has been formed for the protection of the rights of bondholders. The Committee believes that the Plan does not give adequate recognition to the senior position of the First Mortgage Bonds. The Committee will make a study of the situation with the view to recommending appropriate modifications of the Plan or taking such other action as may be determined to be in the interest of bondholders.

Unless holders of one-third of the bonds file dissents in the contemplated reorganization proceedings, the Plan may become effective. Inaction thus amounts to affirmative support of the Plan.

Bondholders are requested to communicate with the Secretary of the Committee, giving their names, addresses and amount of holdings and to authorize the Committee to represent their bonds. No personal obligation for costs, fees and expenses of the Committee is involved by so doing. Bondholders are also advised not to sign any authorization or assent with respect to the Plan of the Board of Directors and to revoke any authorization or assent heretofore given. A form for proxy authorization, revocable at any time, and a form for revocation of assent or authorization heretofore given can be obtained from the Secretary of the Committee.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION.
COLORADO CENTRAL POWER COMPANY.
First Mortgage Five and One-Half Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series A, dated December 1, 1926, due December 1, 1946.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture of Mortgage, dated December 1, 1926, between Colorado Central Power Company and Guaranty Trust Company of New York and Charles H. Platner, Trustees the undersigned has elected to redeem and pay on June 1, 1939, all of its outstanding First Mortgage Five and One-Half Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series A, dated December 1, 1926, due December 1, 1946, at 105% of the principal amount thereof, together with accrued interest thereon to June 1, 1939, and that on said date there shall become and be due and payable upon each such bond to be redeemed at the office or agency of the undersigned in the Borough of Manhattan, the City of New York, hereinafter referred to, the principal thereof, together with accrued interest to such date, with a premium of five per cent [5%] on such principal. From and after June 1, 1939, interest on said bonds will cease to accrue, and the coupons maturing after such date will be null and void.

Said bonds are required to be presented on or after June 1, 1939, for redemption and payment at the offices of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, 140 Broadway, New York City, with all coupons maturing after June 1, 1939. The coupon maturing on June 1, 1939, should be detached and presented for payment in the usual manner.

In case bonds registered as to principal are presented and payment to any one other than the registered holder is desired, the bonds must be accompanied by proper instruments of assignment.
